BUSINESS PROSPERITY.

No Reason for Industrial Pessimism.

Prosperity is a happy state, depends upon good credit, steady employment of wage earners, general confidence in the future.

Of late there seems to have been unnecessary amount of business depression, due mostly to the fairness of one class toward another and to a little dishonesty or overbuying scattered through all the people, but not in a majority of any class.

In a country of our enormous natural wealth, we should have little worry about. The United States, its insular possessions and Alaska are nearly as large as Europe. Our coasts are indented with excellent harbors and intersected by internal waterways we have, by far, the finest and cheapest cost railroad transportation in the whole world, making production cheap and easy. We have tremendous water power and every variety of climate and soil. Magnificent forests cover a great area of our territory. Our land is liberally supplied with almost every variety of mineral wealth, and with our vast agricultural wealth we lead the world in a score of many things.

When corporations are restrained of their ills aired by publicity, and honest business men begin to feel a return of confidence, and when political "mountebanks," who have never made a success of their own affairs, quit playing politics for all parts of humanity, and when we have full publicity in politics and in government; when business managers and employees trust each other fairly, the causes for any future depression will disappear and real prosperity will return and stay with us.

Compliments the American Judges.

Miss Christabel Pankhurst,

Who, having visited one of the courts in New York, says the judges here are more lenient than they are in England. She says England is no more severe on men guilty of offenses against the state in times of war than on women suffragists during times of peace.

Suffragette.

CRITICISES THE ENGLISH FOR PENAL SEVERITIES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 19.—Miss Christabel Pankhurst likes American courts much better than English ones, though she has no intention of spending any great amount of time enjoying their hospitality on this visit. She visited the Jefferson Market Police Court today in company with Miss Carol Beckwith. Judge Barlow was busy with automobile cases, so Miss Pankhurst was denied the pleasure of seeing how America handles obstreperous women.

"I am greatly impressed with the leniency that your courts show the prisoners," she said after the visit.

"In England we keep the prisoners in the dock. Here you allow them to talk to the judge themselves. That must be a great advantage for them.

"In England they are much more severe with the militant suffragists than with any other class of prisoners. Even the sentences they give in these war times are not so severe as the sentences of the suffragists.

"For example, in war times it is against the law to keep carrier pigeons. This is to guard against their use by spies. So it is a very serious offense. The other day, however, a man who was found with carrier pigeons was given six months, which is just the sentence they gave the suffragists for smashing one window."

Miss Pankhurst plans to make a visit to the night court some time after her meeting at Carnegie Hall on Saturday afternoon.

HEAD OF GREEK CHURCH BANISHED FROM TURKEY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM (via London) Oct. 19.—According to a telegram received here from Berlin, the Turkish government has requested the oecumenical patriarch, the head of the Greek orthodox church, to leave Constantinople.

The Greek orthodox church is the dominant form of Christianity throughout the Russian empire, in the kingdom of Greece, in European Turkey, among both Slavs and Greeks, in parts of Austria and of Hungary, and in Roumania, Bulgaria, Servia and Montenegro. The highest officers of the church are the four patriarchs of Constantinople, Alexandria, Antioch and Jerusalem, but the head of these rulers is the patriarch of Constantinople, Germanos, known also as the Oecumenical patriarch. He is the most exalted ecclesiastic of the eastern churches and his influence reaches far outside of the land of the patriarchate.

REPORT DEFEAT OF AUSTRIAN FLEET

LONDON, Oct. 19.—An attempt of the Austrian fleet to break through the line of French warships blockading the harbor of Cattaro, Dalmatia, Sunday, was defeated, according to a dispatch from Cettinje, Montenegro. The Austrians, it is said, were driven back into the harbor.

Berlin Statement Declares that the People of Dunkirk and Boulogne are in Flight—Fighting on a Large Scale Continues in the Galicia Region — Japanese Cruiser and an Austrian Submarine Destroyed—British Battleship Damaged.

LONDON, Oct. 20, 2:46 a.m.—The allies have recaptured Ostend, according to the Morning Post correspondent in the north of France, who says he was given this information on excellent authority.

LONDON, Oct. 19, 9:50 p.m.—German forces have reached the neighborhood of Dunkirk, according to a Berlin official dispatch to the Marconi Wireless Company. Heavy fighting is taking place at Dixmude and Roulers. The inhabitants of Dunkirk and Boulogne are in flight.

PARIS, Oct. 19, 11:03 p.m.—In Belgium attacks by the Germans between Nieuwport and Dixmude have been repulsed by the Belgian army, effectually aided by the British fleet. The official communication issued by the War Office tonight says:

"Between Arras and Roye slight progress has been made at several points. Our troops have reached as far as the wire networks of the defense.

"In the neighborhood of St. Mihiel we have gained some ground on the right bank of the Meuse.

"No news of importance has been received regarding the remainder of the front."

BERLIN, Oct. 19, via London, 5:45 p.m.—German army headquarters have given out an official announcement under today's date as follows:

"The attacks of the enemy to the west and northwest of Lille have been repulsed by our troops with the infliction of severe losses.

"In the eastern arena of the war the situation remains unchanged."

PETROGRAD, Oct. 19.—The Russian General Staff today made this announcement:

"We gained partial successes on October 18 in very fierce fighting in the region of Warsaw and south of Przemysl."

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The crisis in the German attempt to seize the French channel ports, scarcely twenty miles from the coast of England, came today with the French official announcement that both the heavy guns that destroyed the Antwerp forts and the British fleet had taken part in a battle, the front of which extended from Nieuwport to Vladslo.

Heavy fighting near Dunkirk is announced in statements from both Paris and Berlin. The German War Office claims that the Kaiser's troops have reached the neighborhood of that port and that the inhabitants are fleeing from both Dunkirk and Boulogne.

The Paris statement declares that the Belgian army has repulsed the Germans near Nieuwport, which is half way between Ostend and Dunkirk. It is also stated that the British fleet participated in the battle, the heavy

BATTLE NOW RAGING IN POLAND MAY BE TURNING POINT OF WAR.

BY AN ASSOCIATE EDITOR OF "THE ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL."

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 19.—The dearth of news from London and Paris during the last week is now explained by the advance of the Germans to St. Omer, only twenty miles from Calais. Having succeeded in averting the disaster that threatened their forces in the north, the British now allow the news to be given out.

In the effort to reach out to give support to the Belgian army at Ostend, the allies overextended their left flank. The German air service disclosed this move to Gen. Von Boehm, who seized the opportunity to launch an attack from Lille that broke through the allies' line. By a rapid advance in force, these columns made a dash for Calais in an effort to seize this important port and cut off the British and Belgian troops to the north.

This rapid drive of the Germans to the rear of Dunkirk was a serious test for the half-trained troops that Great Britain has had to send to this district. There was great danger of some slip that would result in a disastrous defeat and the capture of the British and Belgian armies along the North Sea coast. By holding firm along the lines at St. Omer, while the Belgians on the Yser and the French at Arras kept back the German reinforcements, the invaders' raid was stopped just as was the army of Gen. Von Kluck in its advance to Nogent on the Seine. The check at the front left no choice but a rapid retreat to save the raiding force from being overwhelmed.

In the French Lorraine the army of Nancy is pushing forward in its efforts to clear the Woevre region of the Bavarian army, which is now holding the district between Metz and the Meuse River. The advance of the French to drive the Germans back from the line of the Meuse forts is very probably an effort to forestall the arrival of the heavy German siege guns.

It is evidently incumbent upon the French and British to make every effort during the next three weeks to keep the Germans busy in the west. The German plan of operations plainly included a period during which they are to hold their western lines with the minimum force possible, while they concentrate all available force against the Russians.

It seems likely that they would select this time for this maneuver. If they wait much longer, the rigorous Russian winter will handicap active operations in the eastern field. Both in the advance on Paris and in the dash for Dunkirk, the Germans seem to have underestimated the strength of the opposition that the allies could offer. It remains to be seen whether they have miscalculated the capacity of the Russian nation to conduct war on the grand scale of the present operations.

The great battle in Poland is still apparently in its preliminary stages. Neither side has concentrated its full force on the battlefield and consequently the present successes or reverses along the line have only a secondary influence on the outcome.

The German forces are advancing from all directions and straining every effort to deliver a telling blow. Germany is counting on these forces to keep the Russians busy in the north while her troops make their big effort in the south.

Russia at the same time is rushing troops from all directions to this scene of decisive fighting and she has more men to call on than has Germany. She has the advantage of six railroad lines in the rear of her armies, while it is doubtful if the Germans have any. The fighting now going on may very well prove the turning point of the war.

Smoking Ruins.

ANTWERP A GHOST OF A CITY: STREETS EMPTY, PEOPLE FLEEING

ANTWERP (via London,) Oct. 19, 10:30 p.m.—Antwerp is a dead city. The populace has fled and the streets are deserted. Smoking ruins still mark the havoc wrought by the German shell fire. The thoroughfares are piled with wreckage, millions of dollars' worth of merchandise having been ruined in the wholesale district alone.

The invading host, however, has passed on. Only bluejackets and marine infantrymen from the German stations at Kiel, Cuxhaven and Wilhelmshafen now guard the city.

Detachments of sailors among them recruited from the German merchant marine were armed only with cutlasses and revolvers. They lay several weeks behind the army, taking no part in the fighting, and evidently are destined for sea duty after the capture of a port.

The German staff officers assured the correspondent that the German commander, Gen. Von Beseler, had found easy victory in his campaign where hard fighting was expected and desperate resistance where little trouble had been anticipated. The officers said Antwerp had fallen eight days earlier than expected, the Belgians evidently being disheartened by their nine weeks' of defeat and also because of the easy manner in which the fortified positions behind the River Nethe were carried October 6 and 7.

As the correspondent drove through miles of the streets of Antwerp the city seemed to have suffered less from the bombardment than had been believed. Indications of damage wrought by the German shells were observed in all quarters of the city, but the destruction usually was confined to individual houses at widely scattered points, the great mass of intervening buildings being untouched.

At the German headquarters it was said this fact was due to the definite plan of the Germans to convince Antwerp with a minimum of damage that the city was at the mercy of their guns and that further resistance was useless. The heavy twelve and sixteen-inch guns, it was stated, were not used against the city proper, but shells from the smaller mortars were dropped throughout the place, a few in each section until every quarter had been systematically visited.

How accurately the public buildings were avoided seemed to have been proved by a shell hole in the pavement at the side entrance to the City Hall and in the destruction of a house across the street from that building. The Church of Our Lady,

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

With news that the fighting between the Germans and the allies grows fiercer as the Germans approach Dunkirk, scarcely twenty miles from British soil, comes information also that Europe is running out of men. Marriage is being made simpler. Women are being urged to wed recruits before they start to the front. Officials are telling them it may be their last chance. Berlin reports that the inhabitants are fleeing from Dunkirk and Boulogne. Paris maintains the Belgians have repulsed the Germans at Nieuwport. Fighting on a large scale continues between the Russians and the German allies. The report that Ostend has been retaken from the Germans is unofficial.

A Hundred Thousand Women and Children will Starve to Death Before Christmas Unless the People of the United States Bestir Themselves — And Then There is Belgium and Other States in Need.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 19—"More than 100,000 men, women and children of Albania will die of starvation before Christmas unless succored by the United States," declared Rev. W. W. Howard of New York, a missionary, before the weekly meeting of Baptist missionaries here today. "The plight of the Albanians is due to the devastation of the Greek and Servian armies, which, he said, destroyed 3000 villages and killed 200,000 men, women and children. Shiploads of provisions should be sent in haste to prevent famine, the speaker urged.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Five thousand dollars were cabled today by the American Red Cross to Canton, China, to aid flood and famine sufferers. Three thousand dollars were sent to Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople for relief of survivors of the earthquake in Keenia province.

More than 2000 American surgeons and nurses have applied to the Red Cross for European service. The number is more than the society, with its present resources, can accept.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Chicago Belgians took the initiative today in starting to raise a relief fund of $1,000,000 for destitute fellow countrymen in the theater of war, or who have fled to England and Holland. It is expected to raise half the sum in this city. It is said that the destitute number three million persons.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The naval collier Jason was designated by Secretary Daniels of the Navy today as the official "Christmas ship" to carry gifts from the United States to the war orphans, widows and destitute of Europe. The Jason will sail from the Brooklyn Navy Yard November 10 and probably will carry in addition large quantities of stores and coal for the armored cruisers North Carolina and Tennessee now cruising in Mediterranean waters.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The German government has consented to the admission of food supplies for destitute Belgians. The British Ambassador here and American Ambassador Page in London have been notified by the State Department.

The State Department had been urging this action by the German government for nearly a week and had addressed two separate inquiries on the subject to the Foreign Office through Ambassador Gerard at Berlin. It is known that the German military officials in Brussels, fully aware from personal observation of the necessities of the local population, were quite willing to have food supplies brought in from abroad. The question presented—that of bringing in supplies from a belligerent country (the Relief Committee had accumulated them in London) is believed to have been without any precedent and it is thought here that the German Foreign Office officials felt it incumbent on them to consider the application very carefully because of the possible far-reaching effect of an affirmative decision.

As understood at the State Department the American Relief Committee, of which Brand Whitlock, American Minister to Belgium, is the head, has gathered up about 1500 tons of food supplies in London ready for shipment to Belgium. By the arrangement effected with the German Foreign Office these supplies may enter Belgium provided they are consigned to Minister Whitlock. The British government was insistent on this point, desiring to make certain that the supplies would not be used by the German army. It is not known what arrangements Mr. Whitlock has made for the disposition of the food, but it is taken for granted he already has created a local committee to deal with that problem.

During the day President Wilson received a personal cabiegram from Mr. Whitlock stating that the condition of the civil population of Belgium was miserable; that within two weeks they would face starvation. He again appealed to the American government to aid. The cabiegram was dated Brussels, last Friday.

TO SEND FOODSTUFFS FROM LONDON TO BELGIUM.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Baron Lambert, representing the Belgian government, and Hugh S. Gibson of Los Angeles, Cal., secretary of the American legation at Brussels, arrived in London from the Belgian capital and today conferred with Ambassador Page and the Belgian Minister here concerning the movement to send food from London to Brussels.

The shortage of food in Brussels is serious. The supply of flour has become exhausted and there is great need that it be replenished immediately. Extensive plans are under way for wholesale shipments of food.

The German government has disclaimed responsibility for the food shortage in Brussels. It is said here to show no disposition to furnish food to the Belgian capital, but to be willing that provisions should go forward by way of Holland and Antwerp.

Miller Shaler, the American, who started the movement for the relief of the food shortage in Brussels, was present at today's conference.

Much food already is on the London docks ready for shipment to Belgium when the international tangle concerning its movement is straightened out. Germany apparently is willing to guarantee the delivery of this food in Brussels.

Takachiho.

JAP CRUISER IS SUNK BY A GERMAN MINE.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

TOKIO, Oct. 19.—It is officially announced that the Japanese cruiser Takachiho was sunk by a mine in Kiao-Chow Bay on the night of October 17. One officer and nine members of the crew are known to have been saved.

The Japanese cruiser Takachiho was built in 1885 and refitted in 1900. She was a vessel of 3700 tons and 300 feet long and had forty-six feet beam. Her main battery consisted of eight six-inch guns and her speed was about eighteen knots. The cruiser carried a crew of 357 men, only ten of whom, according to the report, are known to have been saved.

SINK AUSTRIAN SUBMARINE.

CETTINJE (Montenegro) Oct. 19.—An Austrian submarine was sunk in the Adriatic today by a French cruiser.

Two submarine vessels went out from the Bay of Cattaro to attack a French fleet, which was making its way along the Dalmatian coast. They were quickly sighted, however, by the French lookouts and a well-directed shot sent one of them, the leader, to the bottom. The other submarine escaped. The French fleet subsequently recommenced the bombardment of the forts of Cattaro.

An Austrian aeroplane dropped several bombs in the neighborhood of the fleet, but no damage was done.

Members of the American Red Cross are said to have arrived in Budapest yesterday.

The stream of humanity.

Dispatches last night agree that while the number of persons fleeing from Belgium is increasing the refugees are a bit less turbulent than they were at earlier stages of the invasion by the Germans. Some of the Belgians also are returning. This is notably the case in Antwerp, where the Germans have invited them to come back and resume business. A half-million Belgians are reported to have fled into Holland, where there is hardly room enough as it is for the people of Holland.

"Valley of Roses."

STREAM OF BELGIAN REFUGEES LIKE A MEDIAEVAL MIGRATION.

ROOSENDAAL (Holland via London) Oct. 19, 10 p.m.—The stream of Belgian refugees, an almost endless procession of panic-stricken people, which has been passing without restraint the little red, white and blue post marking the border of the peaceful kingdom of The Netherlands, at last is growing less turbulent. Probably 400,000 have came rushing into Holland since Antwerp fell.

The little town of Esschen, where the dazed Belgians took a tearful farewell of their own country, quadrupled in population in a week. The four bakeshops were besieged by the starving fugitives. The dilapidated border station, where thousands slept, was in the hands of German sailors, who were selling tickets for trains drawn by Belgian locomotives, manned by engineers of the German navy and by sailors, big fellows from the harbors of Hamburg and Bremen. The Germans have been endeavoring to induce the refugees to return to their homes and resume their vocations.

Esschen was the center of the panic which followed Antwerp's fall. A great majority of the residents of Antwerp had been told repeatedly that their city was the strongest fortress in Europe. They remained peaceably in their homes and lustily cheered the British naval brigades who arrived with motor trucks and machine guns, believing that their numbers were ten times what they were.

Personal inconvenience, such as the absence of water for ten days, the city in darkness after 6 o'clock, and the refusal of permission to Belgians outside the city to enter, did not lessen the cheerful optimism of the people. Then the governor of Antwerp signed a proclamation which fell like a bombshell: "History teaches us how sometimes fortified cities have been subjected to bombardment. Therefore, everybody is warned to leave the city, if possible, before 2 o'clock in the afternoon."

The ceaseless flight toward Esschen began immediately. Frenzied thousands rushed homeward, packed their valuables in sheets, towels and bedspreads, strapped children on their backs or placed them in wheelbarrows, and hastened to the nearest station. There was no necessity for tickets; the trains gathered in people like cattle.

Freight cars, cattle cars, milk vans, beer vans, cold storage cars—anything and everything on wheels—started northward. This lasted five days. Passengers were on the roofs, on the steps of locomotives, and any foothold they could find.

Usually the distance between Antwerp and Esschen is covered in twenty minutes. The refugee trains took six hours. Then followed another slow ride to Roosendaal, where, by a common impulse, the residents carried everything eatable towards the stations. The Dutch soldiers lined up in solid rows, pushed the baskets of food in the windows, and coaxed the babies, the children and women to eat and drink; and they escorted the frightened thousands to schools, theaters, barracks and barns, where shelter awaited them.

The welcome was rather elementary, but it was warm-hearted. The Dutch supplied the refugees with the best they had, although sometimes it was only brown bread and cold water, for those who had lived luxuriously in their Belgian homes. For the sick and lame there were woolen blankets, into which they bundled.

Roosendaal had too few ambulances to accommodate the hundreds of insane and those suffering from incurable diseases who had been released pellmell from Antwerp institutions and crowded into these trains. One train of eighty cattle cars contained only former inmates of asylums for the insane. They were treated as far as possible in the neighboring Dutch institutions. At Nispen, where a barbed wire fence marks the frontier, the peasant population came afoot like a mediaeval tribe migrating, with cows, pigs, mattresses and whatever else they deemed most precious, the old people and children not knowing where they were going, seeking only to escape the terrible bombardment which had been ringing in their ears for days.

The Dutch soldiers half coaxing, half driving this frightened horde, turned the green uniforms into a welcome insignia for the terrified refugees, who asked: "Are you Uhlans?" Yet not for several days could the frightened peasants believe that the green uniforms belonged, not to the Uhlans, but to Dutch soldiers.

Holland just now is wondering, like England, how she is to provide permanently for this terrified multitude.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 19.—Attempts by the Russian Reactionary party to create discord within the empire and awaken anti-English sentiment resulted in a statement today by Sazonoff, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, in which he defined his country's attitude toward the allies and her stand against Germany.

Recent avowals by this element as reflected in a few reactionary journals, M. Sazonoff declared, went so far as to compliment Emperor William and laud the Hohenzollern family. They alluded exultingly, he said, to the fall of Antwerp as the approaching end of the war, adversely criticised England by stating that she was getting other countries to fight her battles and also plainly forecast an Anglo-Russian rupture.

LONDON, Oct. 20, 2:15 a.m.—J. Cornell Tarier, second secretary of the American embassy in Constantinople, and Capt. Williams of the United States army, have returned to Constantinople from Smyrna, according to dispatches from the Turkish capital.

STATE IN NEED OF CHILDREN: EUROPE SIMPLIFYING MARRIAGE.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Aroused by the positive steps taken by Germany and Austria to protect themselves against a falling birth rate and the telling death rate incidental to the war, England is now encouraging the marriage of recruits soon to go on foreign service.

At the suggestion of the Archbishop of Canterbury the diocesan bishops of the Church of England have made marked decreases in the fees charged soldiers for marriage licenses and clergymen throughout the island are waiving their personal fees.

In Germany and Austria fees for marriages were waived entirely where soldiers and sailors were unable to pay and in many cities clergymen married the warriors and their sweethearts in large companies, where the hasty departure of troops made it impossible for separate ceremonies to be held.

Gold wedding rings were done away with and iron rings substituted for the ceremony. Then the married women who already had gold wedding rings offered them as contributions to the war fund and replaced them with rings similar to those worn by the war brides.

German officials frankly discussed the necessity for the marriage of soldiers and urged immediate ceremonies upon young women as a patriotic duty. The war brides were cheered with much enthusiasm and the churches were crowded when the large wedding parties spoke the ceremony in concert.

Although the number of women in England far exceeds that of men, the volunteer army is comparatively small here and most of the recruits are not trained soldiers immediately available for foreign service. Consequently there is not the pressing demand for immediate marriages here that existed on the continent. Still the government realizes the terrible drain the war will make on the virile manhood of Great Britain and is quietly encouraging recruits to marry.

The Archbishop of Canterbury is endeavoring to have the government waive the stamp fee of $2.50 which it imposes on each marriage certificate and diocesan bishops have reduced the marriage license fee to $2.50 in the case of soldiers and sailors of limited means. Formerly it cost $10 to procure a marriage license properly stamped by the government. The cost is now $5 and the Archbishop of Canterbury hopes to have it lowered to $2.50 through the withdrawal of the stamp tax of the government. Clergymen now waive their personal fee in the case of soldiers.

German officials presented to the young women of the empire the slight chance they would have for matrimony after the departure of their soldier sweethearts and called attention to the pension paid to war widows for the support of themselves and their children.

Nearly half a million recruits are quartered in camps scattered throughout England. This new army of Kitchener's probably will not be sent to the continent for at least six months unless some unexpected calamity arises. All the men in the army who have not had previous military experience are less than 35 and a majority of them are unmarried.

Many weddings are occurring daily at the various camps and new recruits and their sweethearts are often much distressed to find that under the English law one of the parties to a marriage must have resided in the parish in which they are married for at least fifteen days. The Archbishop of Canterbury has suggested that this obstacle be removed by statute.

SON OF A SULTAN HEAD OF THE ARMY.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—To combat the influence of Germany and the dictatorship of Enver Pasha, Minister of War, the Sultan of Turkey has proclaimed Yussof Ibbedin heir presumptive to the Turkish throne and generalissimo of the army and navy, according to telegrams from Petrograd.

Prince Yussof Izzedin is the eldest son of the late Sultan Abdul Aziz. The announcement of his appointment is declared to have been made unexpectedly at a family council.

ROUMANIA SEIZES GERMAN SUPPLIES.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The correspondent of the Central News at Rome says that a telegram has been received from Bucharest, Roumania, which declares that a German train composed of 150 trucks laden with munitions and other war material for Turkey, has been stopped by the Roumanian authorities between Bucharest and Giurgevo, on the Danube.

The German government protested, but the train was not allowed to proceed.

SWIMMING COLLARS FOR SEA FIGHTERS.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—To save the crews of warships struck by mines or torpedoed by submarines, since other warships have been prohibited from going to their assistance, the Admiralty will supply swimming collars to the officers and men of the fleets. The men are instructed that the collar shall be carried on their person when they are awake and kept inflated near each individual when he is asleep.

HAYNES MOTOR CARS

LIGHT SIX

$1600

Some people buy an automobile "because it's something one should have." But once the first thrill of ownership passes, they naturally pass into the stage of experience.

It is then the automobile ceases to be something to look at and talked about. It becomes the servant of the owner and his family.

Therefore, when buying an automobile you should chose it as you would employ any person who is expected to render to you service of the highest degree of efficiency, who is to respond at any time to your need and who is to do all this in a sensible and full-valued manner. The HAYNES embodies all these requisites.

FRENCH RESERVISTS CALLED TO COLORS

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Six hundred French reservists had sailed from United States ports up to last Saturday, to join the allies' armies in Europe, it was stated at the French Consulate here tonight.

Henry Geiran, French Consul and Paul Pierre Moraschini, attache of the Consulate, also have been summoned to the colors, it was said. Geiran is a son of Gen. Francois Geiran, former Minister of War in France, and holds a lieutenancy in the French reserves.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Need for locating and charting reefs and shoals off the Pacific Coast was explained to President Wilson today by the Congressional delegations from California, Oregon and Washington, who asked him to recommend an appropriation to Congress. Mr. Wilson probably will do so.

The President was told that $7,000,000 worth of property had been lost in the last ten years because of dangerous uncharted obstructions to shipping.

WATTERSON IN WASHINGTON.

Has Conference at the White House and is Luncheon Guest of Former President Taft.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—A luncheon given in his honor today by former President Taft was the final incident in the visit to Washington of Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Mr. Watterson who, following his call on President Wilson, had planned to leave for New York last night, decided to remain over when he received Mr. Taft's invitation.

Col. Watterson's presence at the White House brought to an end the differences existing between President Wilson and George Harvey, former editor of Harper's Weekly, and Mr. Watterson. His visit, like that of Mr. Harvey's recently, was on the invitation of President Wilson.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Who must pay for $36,113.70 worth of American flour which disappeared when the Japanese besieged Port Arthur during the Russo-Japanese War, will be determined by the Supreme Court. The Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco held the Russo-China Bank at Petrograd, collecting agent on the draft accompanying the flour at Port Arthur, was responsible to the National Bank of Commerce of Seattle, Wash., which had discounted the draft. The Petrograd bank asked the Supreme Court to review this decision and today the request was granted.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Observations of naval warfare of the European conflict will form the basis of some of the recommendations Secretary Daniels will make to Congress in his next annual report in December. The Secretary said today for that reason he would withhold his report until the last moment.

Mr. Daniels indicated he was much annoyed at a recent published article which gave as the opinion of an anonymous naval expert that the United States Navy as a collective whole, as a great war instrument, does not exist. The Secretary said the navy was in first-class condition.

The American-Designed Hat

Recent developments have forced us all into a closer consideration of American-designed hats.

These are found to be just as beautiful as the creations of the Parisian—and more suited to the American woman, who has a style all her own.

Today, there is a tendency on the part of women of individuality to prefer American hats to Parisian.

We have both—and others.

Hats designed by the best-known American modistes, hats from the most famous Paris houses, hats from London, and hats designed by ourselves.

Less expensive hats, Seven Fifty to Fifteen Dollars. More expensive hats, Fifteen Dollars up.

War Revenue Bill is Sent Back to Committee.

Leaders Still Hopeful for Adjournment this Week.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Obstructive tactics in the House delayed progress today on the war revenue bill. Instead of referring the bill to conference, as administration leaders had expected, it was sent back to the Ways and Means Committee for consideration of the ninety-eight Senate amendments, on demand of Representative Henry of Texas, who is insistent that there should be some cotton relief legislation before Congress adjourns.

That action put members eager to get home in a belligerent mood, and Representative Bathrick of Ohio made a point of no quorum and forced the House to adjourn until tomorrow.

Chairman Underwood said the committee would report the bill tomorrow with the recommendation that the House disagree to all the Senate amendments.

"What the House will do, I don't know," said he, "but I believe the general temper of the members is to send the bill to conference and get away as soon as possible. Despite this delay we can still adjourn this week if members of the House will be good. If they insist on discussing amendments and sticking to all the rules, we cannot possibly get through for another week."

Representative Henry, after adjournment today, declared he would insist on a quorum before final disposition of the revenue bill and that he would make another effort to get up his bill for the issuance of $350,000,000 of government bonds for relief of the cotton States.

Secretary McAdoo was asked today to appear before the House Rules Committee tomorrow to present his views regarding relief for the cotton situation. The Democratic members of the committee conferred again regarding the Henry bill, but reached no conclusion pending Secretary McAdoo's hearing.

Chairman Henry announced later that he believed the matter would be presented to the House tomorrow or Wednesday in such shape that some action would be possible. The Henry plan is to have the committee report out an omnibus rule for bringing up the Lever cotton warehouse licensing bill, which has passed the Senate; Federal reserve law amendments, already passed by the Senate, and the Henry bill.

FOLK SAYS STATES ARE WEAK.

Unable to Enforce White Slave Laws He Says They Rush to Government for Aid.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The weakness of the States in enforcing laws and turning to the Federal government for relief, as shown in the white slave and in the pure food acts were emphasized by Joseph W. Falk, solicitor of the Interstate Commerce Commission in addressing the Association of Attorneys-General here today.

The meeting preceded the opening of the annual session of the American Bar Association tomorrow. Other subsidiary organizations, which met today, were the section on legal education and the association on maritime and on military laws. The commissioners on uniform State laws concluded their conference of several days.

The programme of the association on military law was cut short by the decision of several army officers not to read papers, in view of President Wilson's recent orders against officers commenting on the European war.

Former President Taft will preside tomorrow at the American Bar Association session and deliver the opening address.

Naval Authorities Planning to Send Naval Militia to the San Francisco Exposition Next Year.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The plan to send the naval militia of the country through the Panama Canal to San Francisco with the international fleet next February will occupy much of the time of the new naval militia general board, which began its first meeting here today.

Secretary Daniels told the board he would be glad to receive any recommendations it might have to make to increase the efficiency of the naval militia, and asked that particular attention be given to the proposed trip through the canal.

Capt. E. A. Evers, commanding the naval militia of Chicago, is president of the board, and other members here to attend the sessions are Capt. C. D. Bradham, North Carolina; Commander R. R. Forshew, New York, and Lieut. J. T. McMillan, California.

The fire attorney's office is investigating and it is possible that the inquiry into the fire in St. Jarlath's Church will be reopened.

In connection with these fires it is worthy of note that very recently mysterious fires have been started in apartment-houses at night when the occupants were asleep. In all cases the janitors were non-union and told of threats to force them into the union.

SALVATIONIST INCORPORATE.

File Papers to Comply with the Los Angeles Ordinances Regulating Collection of Money for Charity.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 19.—To meet the provisions of the Los Angeles city ordinance, which prevents any institution or foreign corporation from collecting money for charity, when any of that money is sent from this to another State or country, the Salvation Army today filed its articles of incorporation with Secretary of State Jordan. The incorporators and directors are Thomas Estill and Fletcher Agnew, both of Chicago; M. Louisa Gorgeshall of Los Angeles, William J. Dart of South Pasadena, and George Wood of San Francisco. The purpose of the corporation, according to its papers, is to further the purposes of the Salvation Army, and to promote charitable, missionary, educational and philanthropic work.

It is stated the workings of the Los Angeles ordinance have practically prevented the Los Angeles division of the army from collecting funds.

VOGEL IS DEAD.

New York Banker Connected with Siegel Failure is Reported Victim of Heart Trouble.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Frank E. Vogel, who was vice-president of the Fourteenth street store of which Henry Siegel was president, and of the defunct bank of Henry Siegel & Co., and who, with Siegel was awaiting trial on the charge of grand larceny following the finding of fourteen indictments against both for alleged mismanagement of the affairs of the store and bank, died suddenly tonight in his apartments in a hotel here.

The Vogel family physician said death was due to heart failure. Mr. Vogel having suffered with an affection of the heart for fifteen years. The Coroner said that in view of the indictments against Mr. Vogel he was ordering an autopsy to ward off any suspicion that Vogel's death was anything but natural and laid stress on the fact that the family acquiesced.

Had Tuberculosis of Glands--Now Well

Glandular Tuberculosis has yielded to Eckman's Alterative when other remedies failed. Read what it did in this case:

257 Laurien St., Philadelphia, Pa.,

"Gentlemen: In March, 1909, my doctor pronounced by case Tuberculosis in the Glands, and a number of operations in a hospital failed to benefit me. In the meantime a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alterative. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. On November 11, 1910, I started to work, and since that time have not lost one day's work through sickness. I highly recommend Eckman's Alterative to any one who is suffering from Tuberculosis." (Abbreviated.)

(Affidavit) Joseph B. WHITE.

Eckman's Alterative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and upbuilding the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Small size $1, regular size $2. Sold by The Owl Drug Co. and leading druggists. Write Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet of recoveries.

Five Freshmen Held Responsible for Death of Comrade at Annapolis.

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) Oct. 19.—Branding the death of Cadet William R. Bowlus of Middletown, Md., from a hazing escapade at St. John's College here on May 26 as murder, Judge Brashears urged today the grand jury to investigate the tragedy. The five freshmen who are held responsible for the death of Bowlus are George H. Weaver of New York, Henry L. Valdez of Havana, Cuba; Fendall Marbury of Baltimore, R. A. Jones of Cambridge, Md., and John M. Noble of Preston, Md.

Antwerp Streets Empty.

the pride of Antwerp, has a hole eight or ten feet in diameter in one transept window and in an adjoining wall thirty feet above the floor. Otherwise this edifice was not damaged.

The artillery park of the Germans before Antwerp was stronger than was generally known. In addition to their widely heralded sixteen-inch mortars and a large number of twelve-inch siege guns they had two Austrian automobile batteries of twelve-inch guns.

The effect of the big guns on Antwerp's outer fortifications was more striking than at Liege. Two armored turrets at Fort de Wavre-St. Catherine were put out of action with a single shot, their steel beds being broken in two and the heavy masses of metal hurled five or six yards away. In another fort the concrete embankment was pierced like an eggshell and the steel turret uprooted. Still another turret was completely upended and lies with its base pointing skyward and its guns buried beneath.

Behind Ft. Waelhem, where a twelve-inch shell penetrated the magazine, a heavy steam engine, which furnished power for the light plant, was blown twenty yards from its base. The entire top of the fort here was torn off and sixty men of the garrison are said to have been buried beneath the debris.

German staff officers say that when the River Nethe was crossed the Belgian defense virtually collapsed. The Belgians abandoned their heavy artillery and machine guns, while the Germans intrenched themselves, expecting a counter-attack.

The officers declare that after eighty German shells had been dropped in various quarters of the city of Antwerp the white flag appeared on forts six and seven of the inner girdle of fortifications. The Burgomaster of the city then came out and offered to surrender Antwerp, but was told that the terms of capitulation could be arranged only with the Belgian military authorities. The Burgomaster's plea that these officers could not be found led to an order for a suspension of the attack.

The German troops then pushed in through the girdle of inner forts and past the undefended city wall, finding that the retiring garrison had blown up the bridge across the river Scheldt and also had interposed a belt of flame against the invaders by firing the oil tanks and covering the surface of the river with burning oil.

TAFT OPPOSES LOOSE DIVORCES.

HE ALSO IS AGAINST ANY KIND OF TINKERING WITH THE CONSTITUTION.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Reform in marriage and divorce laws through uniform State legislation was urged today by President Taft in a brief address before the Commission on Uniform State Laws. The former President condemned the looseness with which the marriage tie is looked on in many States.

Mr. Taft placed himself on record as flatly opposed to "tinkering" with the Federal legislation under present conditions.

"I am not in favor of any amendments to the Constitution," he said, emphatically. "I am not in favor of tinkering with that governmental instrument at a time when there are so many cranks and so many movements looking toward its total abolition."

Human System Injured By One Cup of Coffee

Its Constant Use Tends to Increase Fatigue Products Says Kansas City Physician.

The constant use of coffee and tea tends to increase fatigue products in the human system, says Dr. G. Wilse Robinson, of the University Medical College, Kansas City, Mo.

"Caffeine is used in coffee and tea as a beverage for its stimulating effects. Even in small doses, one cup of coffee or tea per day, the general results of the action of caffeine upon the nervous system are to increase the irritability of the brain.

"In order to respond to the stimulation of regular doses of caffeine, nerve and muscle tissue must draw upon their reserve energy, and they must do their work in the presence of excessive quantity of toxic fatigue products, and both of these conditions tend to exhaustion and perversion of function.

"Caffeine is not a food to nerve or muscle tissue. It does not increase the elimination of fatigue products, but does increase their production."

NOTE.—Too much cannot be said in favor of the value of an invigorating morning drink, especially during colder weather—but the drink must not be harmful. The food-drink, INSTANT POSTUM, while resembling the better grades of Java in flavor and appearance, is pure, wholesome and wholly free from the coffee drugs "caffeine" and "tanin" and is rapidly taking the place of coffee as a table beverage for reasons of health.

PAY HOMAGE TO FREDERICKS.

Crowds Assemble and Cheer Republican Candidate.

Three Northern Counties are Visited During Day.

Demonstrations Insure Victory at Elections.

MONTEREY, Oct. 19.—Santa Clara, San Benito and Monterey counties today paid homage to Capt. John D. Fredericks and Congressman Joseph R. Knowland. Attentive audiences, large in proportion to the populations of the places where they spoke, greeted the Republican standard bearer at Morgan Hill and Gilroy in Santa Clara, Hollister in San Benito and Monterey and Pacific Grove in Monterey county.

When Capt. Fredericks arrived at Morgan Hill this morning he found a big majority of the 500 registered voters waiting for him. Everywhere today he addressed enthusiastic crowds and won votes.

Gov. Johnson had counted most of the places visited by Fredericks as his own particular strongholds, but the trend of public favor has been veering to the Republican candidate, and Hiram is perturbed. Not content with ordering out on the stump those to whom he has given office, he now has summoned to his aid candidates who seek Progressive support.

HOW THE WIND BLOWS.

The Fredericks party was surprised today to find Robert H. Carey, candidate for the Assembly in the Thirty-second District, in San Francisco, preceding it and endeavoring to stir up Johnson sentiment. At Morgan Hill, Carey was on hand when Fredericks arrived. As a crowd assembled to hear the captain, Carey shouted, "Three cheers for Johnson." Not a single man or woman present responded. Carey shrunk away and devoted his time to condemning Fredericks. He went on to Gilroy to spread Johnsonism. If he makes a truthful report to the Governor, it's certain Johnson will consider that Carey's mission wasn't worth the cost of the gasoline his automobile consumed.

"California," Fredericks told his audiences today, "must choose between the personal ambition of one man and the prosperity of their State. It is my belief they will choose wisely and that the Republican party will be returned to power on November 3."

Capt. Fredericks, in discussing the claims of Johnson to the good laws on the statute books and his laudation of himself, told a story that caught the fancy of his audiences. He said that he has an aged negro in his employ in Los Angeles and that one day the old fellow came to him and asked if he might go to hear Hiram Johnson speak. The captain gave his permission. The next morning he saw his servant and called him from his chores.

"Joe," the captain asked, "tell me what Gov. Johnson said last night."

The old darky scratched his woolly head. "Boss," he finally replied, "ah kaint do it. Ah've been to many a prayer meeting and ah've heard a lot of exhorting but this man Johnsing he beats all ah've ever heard. He sure is some talker."

"But tell me," Fredericks insisted, "what did he say?"

"Well, ah don't know presactly what he said," Joe answered, "but he suttinly done commend hisself most highly."

CROWDS EVERYWHERE.

Fredericks was welcomed by a reception committee and band headed by Capt. Boyce, candidate for the Assembly, outside of Monterey, and escorted to Pacific Grove, where a large crowd heard him speak from an automobile. The Republican candidate addressed a meeting in the Monterey Theater at 5 o'clock and tonight was a guest of the Spanish-American War veterans of Monterey.

Congressman Knowland joined Capt. and Mrs. Fredericks at San Jose this morning. In this part of the State they say that Knowland doesn't have to campaign; that his Progressive and Democratic opponents haven't a look-in, and if the receptions given the Republican candidate for United States Senator count for anything, the situation amounts to just that and Knowland will carry Santa Clara, San Benito and Monterey by large majorities.

TURKEY REFUSES "FIRE" GERMANS.

CONSTANTINOPLE (via London) Oct. 19.—The porte has declined to discharge the German crews of the cruisers Goeben and Breslau, which have been in Turkish waters since early in the hostilities, and which are said to have been sold by Germany to the Turkish government. This reply was given in answer to the British representations regarding the continued presence of Germans on board these two vessels.

The government has now shelved the matter, declaring it to be a domestic question, although it had previously given repeated assurances that these Germans would be repatriated.

In Battle for Channel Port

guns of the battleships helping to force the Germans back.

In regard to the remainder of the immense battle front, the Berlin report is silent, while Paris claims progress has been made between Arras and Roye and near St. Mihiel, on the right bank of the Meuse.

The allies have made progress eastward from a point south of Armentieres toward Lille on a line running roughly to Arras. The report tells of house-to-house fighting in which the allies are advancing. The battle has raged around Arras without respite for ten days and on the part of the allied troops "with a perseverance and a spirit which never for a moment has been relaxed."

The German official report covers these operations more tersely. It says that the attacks to the west and northwest of Lille have been repulsed with heavy losses to the allies.

The situation is still so much in the dark that it is impossible to judge of the exact trend of events. The English and French papers naturally gather encouragement from the reports published from their side. From the German point of view it is possible the Germans have improved their position and with the forces which besieged Antwerp and reinforcements from Germany are attempting along the coast another sweeping movement like that which carried them so far into France.

In this field of action it appears inevitable that there must soon be some decisive result. The flatness of the country seems to have made it impossible for the two armies to entrench and face each other without important change in position for weeks, as they have done across Northern France.

The announcement that the Germans have taken siege guns to the neighborhood of Belfort may mean that they plan to attempt an advance on both ends of what during the past month has become virtually a long fortified line.

Great battles continue in the eastern theater between the Russian and Austro-German forces. Reports from both sides are brief and contradictory. Petrograd claims the Russians have won partial success in very severe fighting before Warsaw and Przemysl. Vienna declares that the Austro-German armies have made advances in both regions and that the Russian casualties at Przemysl number 40,000.

Homeless.

"A NATION IN EXILE."

THIS IS THE DEFINITION OF BELGIUM TODAY.

More Than a Million Refugees Have Fled into Holland, England and France from the Blackened Ruins Left in the Wake of the German Armies.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Belgium today is a nation in exile. From the blackened ruins left in the wake of the German armies between 300,000 and 400,000 persons have fled into Holland. Equal numbers have flocked southward into France, while more than 100,000 have arrived on English shores and thousands more are pouring across the channel daily. Thus the burden of the tragedy is falling upon Holland, England and France.

Eight hundred Belgians slept on the floors of public buildings in London last night. Many of them were people accustomed to the luxuries of life.

The hospitality of the people of Folkestone and Dover is being taxed to the limit, while the seacoast town of Deal is swamped under the wave of refugees who are coming in on schooners, trawlers and sailing vessels, half-starved, and with their nerves wrecked from terror and the privations they have undergone. An English merchant piloted a sloop across the Strait of Dover from Ostend with forty persons on board. They spent two days and nights on the craft without food and in a heavy sea.

London's streets and parks are full of Belgian officers and soldiers, some of whom have been wounded. Others among them became separated from their commands and joined the exodus of refugees. The Belgian legation has issued instructions to all the able-bodied men to rejoin the army.

The principal Brussels newspaper, the Independence Belge, begins publication in London Wednesday. Its editor says that the Belgians fleeing from their country will never return if it remains under German rule.

A large proportion of the exiles are looking forward to making their homes in the United States when they can obtain funds to go there.

STATE TREASURER RESIGNS DURING INVESTIGATION.

BOISE (Idaho) Oct. 19.—O. V. Allen, State Treasurer, resigned voluntarily today, and Gov. John M. Haines telegraphed all banks in the State not to honor State treasury checks until further order.

Mr. Allen's resignation has not been acted upon.

Bonding companies are at work on Allen's books.

In a statement tonight Gov. Haines said:

"For some time the Treasurer has been the target of political attacks bearing on matters separate and apart from his office.

"This, as seems apparent, caused the surety bonding companies to send experts here to audit the Treasurer's books. In view of the whole situation, Mr. Allen handed me his resignation in order that the inquiry might proceed with a free hand.

"I have not accepted the resignation and will not do so until the audit is completed. If anything wrong develops I shall act vigorously. Nothing can be known, however, until the work on the books is completed. I have notified all banks in the State not to honor State treasury checks until further orders. This is a precautionary measure, and it will also aid the investigation to keep the business of the office in suspension for a short time. I have placed Alexander Ramstedt, an expert accountant and a member of the Public Utilities and Tax commissions, in charge of the office."

Mr. Allen will have served two terms as State Treasurer if he remains in office until January 1 next. He was renominated at the recent primaries.

Test of Strength.

BATTLESHIPS STILL SUPREME

Secretary Daniels Says They are Paramount on Sea.

Present Submarines Effective as Vessels of Defence.

Our Progress in Construction Equal to Any Power.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Battleships still hold their place as the paramount factor in warfare on the sea, in the opinion of controlling American naval authorities, despite the remarkable effectiveness of submarines demonstrated since the European war began.

The general board of the navy is so much interested in the reports that are now going on abroad, however, that it will withhold its recommendations as to the naval needs of the United States during the coming year as long as possible, and Secretary Daniels will not prepare his report to Congress until late next month.

In an official statement issued last night, Mr. Daniels said:

"While the submarine is a most effective defensive weapon and has great possibilities of marked development in the future as an offensive weapon, it is not believed that the submarines in their present state of development will decide any naval war, but that the paramount need of the present-day navy is for battleships by which the ultimate test of strength will be decided."

The statement followed the publication of an article by an anonymous naval expert who criticised the American navy as woefully unprepared for war. The Secretary defended the examination of the navy, and in particular the general board, which he said "constitutes in effect a general staff."

"The permanent details of our ablest naval officer, Admiral Dewey, as president," Mr. Daniels added, "insures a continuing policy in its recommendations."

Discussing the strength of the American navy in submarines the Secretary said:

"When the relative sizes of the fleets of the great nations are considered, it will be seen that the United States possesses a submarine force relatively and actually very powerful. England's fleet is more than twice as great as that of this country, yet she has but little more than half as many more submarines. France has a considerably larger submarine force than ours, with a smaller navy, but she has in the past taken the lead in submarine building and this lead England has overcome and we are on the road; Germany, with a more powerful fleet than ours, has many less submarines; and Japan, with a fleet approaching ours in strength, has but half as many submarines.

"It is true that the number of submarines we have is not all equal and requisite to our submarine strength cannot be measured entirely on fleet strength, but our coasts to be defended must be considered, and the United States, with long coast lines and many harbors, may need rather more than a proportionate number of submarines.

"As far as the submarines are concerned, it is believed that ours are on a par with any in the world. The development of our types has been logical and in each new type the criticisms and comments of the officers and men who operate the submarines in service have been considered. In the report made by the last General Board two types of for the first time were recommended: One of high surface speed to accompany the fleet, and one for coast and harbor defense. In the latter building of two such distinct types we are in accord with what foreign countries are doing, and submarine fleets in the future will be probably composed of vessels of these two types.

"In general, then, it may be said that our submarines themselves are the equal of any; and in point of numbers we compare most favorably with foreign navies. However, the importance of submarines is undoubtedly being shown at the present time and rapidly as the submarine has come to the fore in the present war, as the types of some countries, notably Russia, have been built, this pace will probably be increased. For many reasons we should undoubtedly keep on building and increase our submarine strength to defend our long coasts, but to accompany the fleet. Congress in appropriating for twelve in the last three years is following out this idea, with the Navy Department and Congress both working toward an adequate submarine fleet. It is believed that our concurrent progress with foreign countries is fairly accurate."

SHORTAGE OF MEN FOR STEEL WORKS

LONDON, Oct. 19, 2 p.m.—Men are recruiting is being dropped in some of the Scottish iron and steel works with the sanction of the government. The reason is that these iron and steel works are running night and day on government orders, and cannot be held unwise to deplete the working forces.

Augmenting the locomotive engineers already sent to the front, 1000 railroad track workers are being sent from England to repair certain railroads in the western area of the war.

LA BELIEVES PEACE IS NEAR.

Aguascallentes Conference and Gets Ovation.

Vote to Support President Backed by Delegates.

Details for Evacuation Being Arranged.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—General advices received the United States indicate that unless something unforeseen happens, hostilities in Mexico will cease and that he will support the provisional government set up by the convention at Aguascalientes.

Carranza has said he would not accept Carranza as provisional President, but that he would not be chosen. There is a good understanding on all sides that Carranza himself does not desire to be provisional President, but wishes to be free to enter the Presidential race as the succeeding election.

Unofficial reports to the government describe in detail the meeting Saturday of Gen. Villa and the delegates at Aguascalientes. The commander of the division of the north arrived, suspicions were aroused as to his purpose, but when he addressed the convention all doubt vanished. Gen. Villa said he came to lend support to the acts of the convention and to take the oath, and that he was ready to go on record so that there could never say that he was not loyal.

The meeting with storms of applause, after he embraced Gen. Carranza, whom Villa's break had occurred recently.

Many generals greeted each other. The convention went wild with enthusiasm, chairman of the convention made a speech, saying the convention was a debt of gratitude to Villa for the military achievements, but that there was nothing compared to the constitutional principles to be maintained. Then Gen. Villa, standing on the Mexican flag with the other delegates, and the convention, pledging again, with tremendous applause, to abide by the decisions of the convention. Villa will start for Guadalupe, but does not desire his presence there to be misinterpreted.

Special Agent Carothers accompanied him, Gen. Obregon emphatically, that he was the choice of the convention, Carranza, and that he would bring peace in Mexico within a few days.

The country is awaiting the arrival here from Gen. Zapata, and it is believed here that the southern leader may attend the assemblage.

TO APPLY FOR CONCESSIONS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Details of the plan of the Carranza government to lease all of the mining concessions and titles issued by the government of Mexico have been received by the State Department through the American Minister in charge of affairs in Mexico.

The plan repeals the declaration of 1884 and fixes the period of concessions at 50 years from all of the Huerta concessions as from February 15, 1914.

The plan executed by the chief executive of the Mexican republic, a matter of equality all interests are granted sixty days from July 1, to apply for new concessions, of which the land will be granted to appropriate, and to every interested person. In all cases the interested person is required to deposit $5 to cover the cost for the new title.

MORE MEXICAN WOUNDED BROUGHT ACROSS BORDER.

NOGALES (Ariz.) Oct. 19.—Forty-seven wounded Mexicans from Nacozari (Sonora) siege were brought here tonight. This makes a total of eighty-four patients in the Mexican hospital maintained by the Mexican government here under a guard from the War Department. Considering the reception of the wounded. Only those seriously wounded, others being treated.

Because of medical facilities in the town and the danger of exposure of the wounded by the Yaqui Indians on the town falls, are the reasons for the action.

Arrangements were made today by the Red Cross of Agua Prieta, Sonora, just across the line, that skirmishing between Mexicans and have attracted the attention of customs, coming from the direction of Douglas, circled the town in a cavalry patrol and returning to Agua Prieta before morning. Villa, the Villa commander, is said to be making a systematic siege of the town.

Action to the revocation of Carranza wounded into this country.

"Without Further Investigation."

ARRESTED AS SPIES, EXECUTED FORTHWITH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Oct. 19.—Executions without further investigation on the charge of espionage, according to information received here today from Chihuahua City. A telegraphic announcement from Gen. Francisco J. Villa, the provisional governor, to Rafael E. Tepeta, the United States consul at El Paso, Tex., declared that Americans had been visiting the battle front for the purpose of obtaining information for "the United States consul at El Paso, it was announced officially today. Rafael E. Musquiz, who has been acting as Consul here, has been appointed Consul-General to the United States in the dual capacity of inspector of consulates. He will establish his headquarters here and not in New York, where the head of the consular service previously has been located. The Carranza faction also has begun organization of a bureau of information, to be placed in charge of an American newspaper man. This bureau also will be located here.

NACO ARMISTICE OF NO VALUE.

BOTH SIDES CONTINUE TO FIRE WHILE MAYTORENA MOUNTS A NEW FIELD GUN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NACO (Ariz.) Oct. 19.—The theoretical armistice between the Carranza garrison in Naco, Son., across the border from here, and the besieging Villa force under Gov. Maytorena, has so far had little value.

Skirmish fire continues. The Maytorena troops have mounted another field piece to the south of the town, where, if ineffective against the Mexican garrison, it will throw its shells into this American town.

Maytorena is reported to have recognized the jurisdiction of the Aguascalientes commission, now on its way here to settle the internecine strife. It is said he will suspend hostilities during the settlement. Unofficially, however, it was understood that there should be an immediate cessation to warfare. To this Gen. Hill, the garrison commander, agreed. He determined, nevertheless, to be prepared for attacks, and said his only fire would be in defense of the town.

The specific object of the new artillery piece is said to be the destruction of the Southern Pacific water tank, which is now in direct line with this town.

UP-TO-DATE GUNS FOR THE MEXICANS

EL PASO (Tex.) Oct. 19.—Four cannon of modern type passed through here today on the way to Naco, Ariz., where they will be crossed to Gen. Hill, who for nearly three weeks has been defending the Mexican town of Naco against the attack of Gov. Maytorena's Indian troops. Hill has been defending the town without artillery, allowing the Indians to creep close to his intrenchments, while Maytorena has been bombarding with two pieces.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Charles J. O'Connor of San Francisco, director of the Pacific division of the Red Cross, was directed today to purchase $1000 corn and beans for the relief of needy Mexicans in the vicinity of Acapulco. It was announced that Secretary Daniels had arranged to send the food supplies to Acapulco by the naval collier Nero.

NOW ARRANGING FOR EVACUATION.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—President Wilson announced today that administrative questions incident to the evacuation of Vera Cruz by the American forces had been referred by Gen. Carranza to the national convention at Aguascalientes. Consul Silliman, who conferred with Gen. Aguilar at Vera Cruz, reports that the latter has given assurances that all the points will be satisfactorily adjusted.

Such an arrangement is satisfactory to administration officials here as they believe the action of the convention will be binding on any future government in Mexico.

PROTECT AMERICANS ORDER TO RALEIGH.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 19.—With orders to protect the eight Americans supposed to be on board the Mexican steamer Mazatlan, the U.S.S. Raleigh left here this evening for Ensenada, Mex. The Mazatlan was commandeered yesterday by the Mexican military authorities to transport artillery from Ensenada to Guaymas. Two of the Americans supposed to be on board the Mexican steamer are passengers, the remaining six being members of the crew. The authorities have no information as to whether or not these Americans need aid, but it was decided to send the Raleigh to investigate.

RENEW THE PLEA TO RAISE RATES.

Railway Men Appear Before the Commerce Board.

Five Per Cent. Increase on the Freight Tariffs Asked.

And this Gives Mr. Brandeis a Chance to Spout.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Urging that the business depression and the war in Europe had caused a shrinkage of $76,000,000 in their annual net revenues, representatives of thirty-eight eastern railroads operating over 59,000 miles of transportation lines, appeared today before the Interstate Commerce Commission, asking that they be granted at least a 5 per cent. increase in freight rates.

Daniel E. Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and also head of the conference of presidents of the lines involved, was the principal witness. He was supported by a mass of statistics presented by Vice-President Shiver of the same line, acting for all the roads. Further evidence will be submitted tomorrow.

In opposition to the plea of the carriers, Clifford Thorne appeared for the public service corporations of several Middle Western and Inter-mountain States and also for shippers' organizations in the region affected. Mr. Thorne declared his purpose and the desire of the shippers was that the public's side of the question should be fully brought out. He did not expect to call many witnesses.

Louis Brandeis, counsel for the commission, assailed Mr. Willard's position in cross-examination.

The affairs of this system were the only ones given detailed attention today, as officers of the other lines were not present. Mr. Brandeis implied in his questions, however, that a similar policy had been followed by all the lines.

Mr. Willard said the dividend had been maintained at 6 per cent. this year at his recommendation. He declared he believed it had been justified by the fact that the road had $32,000,000 in surplus.

"I am not prepared to say, however," the witness added, "what I may recommend in future in view of present conditions."

He had recommended the continuance of the 6 per cent. dividend, he said, because it was necessary to maintain the control of the line. A recent note issue of $35,000,000 by the Baltimore and Ohio was marketed at par, bearing 4½ per cent. interest and a commission of one-half of 1 per cent. was paid, making the total cost to the company 5 per cent. This issue must be met in June next year, Mr. Willard said, and the present outlook was that money could not be obtained then at less than 7 or 8 per cent. Already, he said, other concerns had been forced to pay other rates than 5 per cent.

Mr. Brandeis took exception to the statement of the Baltimore and Ohio surplus. He insisted that $22,000,000 of the $32,000,000 was represented in the line's investment in securities of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad now in the hands of a receiver.

Mr. Willard admitted this, but declared the purchase of that road was not at issue in the present hearing.

"Whatever our necessities," he said, "they are not due to the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton.

"Yet you have $35,000,000 in notes to pay next year," said Mr. Brandeis, "and you have advanced $22,000,000 to the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton."

Reverting to the possibility that interest rates would be greatly advanced when these notes fell due, Mr. Brandeis asked:

"If it is true that you may have to pay 7 or 8 per cent. isn't that a risk that should be taken by the stockholders through a reduction of dividends rather than be met by an advance in rates? You defend here today a reduction of practically every railroad expense except dividends."

"Nothing we do in the way of decreasing expenses of maintenance and equipment is permitted to encroach on safety of operation," Mr. Willard replied.

Mr. Brandeis declared the statement of the railroads had disclosed so far nothing originating since the commission's recent ruling, rejecting the eastern lines' previous plea for a 5 per cent. advance in rates. In re-opening the case, the commission specifically limited it to matters arising since that time. Mr. Brandeis said that decision had forecast a falling off in revenue of $75,000,000 for the period embraced, and the companies' statement of $76,000,000 shrinkage only served to confirm that estimate.

The commission also forecast improvement in business conditions, said Mr. Willard, "whereas there actually has been retrogression."

The expenditures on maintenance of way and equipment, Mr. Willard said, had been greatly reduced because of the financial outlook. He added that thousands of cars in bad order were being held by his line without repairs because they could not now afford it, although the demand for the cars had decreased.

"The general manager has received instructions not to expend more than 1 per cent. of the gross earnings for maintenance," he added.

In response to further questions by Mr. Brandeis, Mr. Willard said the railroads had followed the suggestions of the commission in making some increases in passenger rates, both on mileage books and straight fares. To the Baltimore and Ohio he thought it likely the increase would aggregate in time $130,000 annually on the mileage books, but it was impossible to say how much might be realized from advances on other fares.

The roads had also followed the suggestion of the commission as to the elimination of certain free services, but it probably would take many months fairly to work them out.

"Do you know of any companies—railroads or other corporations—that have been able to market the securities at any rate higher than the Baltimore and Ohio?" inquired Mr. Thorne.

"Personally, I do not," replied Mr. Willard. "We sold our securities at a fairly reasonable rate."

"Can you mention any increase in labor cost since 1912?" pursued Mr. Thorne.

"Yes," said Mr. Willard. "We have advanced our laborers engaged on maintenance work in the aggregate between $500,000 and $700,000 a year."

In response to questions, Mr. Willard said he did not share the commission's view that coal rates ought not to be reduced.

"We need additional revenue," he said, "and the best and fairest way would be to advance all rates, including those on coal."

He added that he knew of nothing specific that had arisen since the conclusion of the previous advance rate case that would increase the cost of transporting coal that did not apply to the transportation of all freight.

"Are these increases asked for to establish credit or to obtain money to meet obligations?" asked Commissioner Clements.

"Both in a measure," said Mr. Willard. "The Baltimore and Ohio is well worth its outstanding obligations and much more, but our returns have been small. We have put $80,000,000 into the property in the last two or three years, $35,000,000 in short-term notes. Conservatively, it will require $15,000,000 a year for many years."

Questioning Mr. Shriver, Mr. Brandeis drew out a statement that the ratio of operating expenses per mile decreased in 1914 from the 1913 figure. In the same connection Mr. Thorne began a cross-examination tending to show that the cost of railway supplies, with the exception of coal, was lower this year than in preceding years.

Counsel for the commission questioned Mr. Shriver from a chart showing the gross revenues for operation of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The difference between 1914 and 1913 shown was approximately $200,000 in a total of $8,000,000. Mr. Shriver accepted the figures as accurate but insisted they did not properly represent the situation.

MEXICAN WOUNDED SENT TO HOSPITAL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Of 125 Mexican wounded brought to the American side at Naco, Ariz., yesterday, after the fighting between Mexican forces, forty-six have been allowed to remain. The slightly wounded have been returned to Mexico. The forty-six will be sent to the hospital at Douglas, where their expenses will be paid by the Carranza leaders.

WOUNDED SOLDIER ARRIVES.

Cambridge (Mass.) Man Who Served in the French Army Says the Germans Almost Reached Paris.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—The first wounded soldier from European battlefields to arrive in the United States was among the 192 cabin and 232 steerage passengers on the American liner Havenford from Liverpool that docked today.

The wounded soldier is Guy de Bouthillier. He is 25 years old and served two years in the French army before coming to this country a few years ago. When the war broke out he hurried back to France and re-enlisted.

He served under Gen. Mendes and was wounded on the field at Vitry-le-Francois. When he began service, De Bouthillier said, the Germans were within twenty-five miles of Paris, but when he was wounded the allies had driven them back about seventy-five miles. He was permitted to go to his home in Cambridge, Mass., until he recovers.

FOR SALE—

WELL, JOHN WENT TO GARDEN ACRES YESterday. You know he said he was going. Well, John had a fine auto ride, a good lunch, and a splendid time; in fact, he was so well pleased with what he saw that he purchased an acre of ground, and is planning to move upon it. Why, he says that, at $10 per month, he can make a comfortable home for his family. Yes, John is a booster for GARDEN ACRES, and hundreds of booster for boosters. Last Sunday we broke all previous records in the number of sales made.

REMEMBER, this property is but seven miles from Broadway, within four blocks of a yellow car line, and adjoins the city limits of Los Angeles. Our prices and terms are better than anywhere. Our prices are the lowest for land of this quality, where gardening and chicken raising can be carried on to a profit. Now, why don't you follow the example of John and investigate this proposition? For full particulars call and see or phone GARDEN ACRES, SHOULTS & MYERS, Managers GARDEN ACRES.

AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Minnesota Halloween Party.

The Minnesota State Society will hold a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. D. B. Jackson, No. 2640 Dalton avenue, Friday evening. All former Minnesotans are cordially invited.

Nazarene "Dry" Rally.

J. Ellsworth Coombs, the farmer-orator of Lordsburg, will be the principal speaker at a "dry" rally to be held this evening in the First Church of the Nazarene. The Nazarene military band and the University quartette will furnish the music.

Strengthening Boy Scouts.

H. D. Cross of the Y.M.C.A. has called a special meeting of Boy Scout masters and officials for Thursday evening, to consider plans for a permanent Boy Scout organization. A number of the patrols will participate in the Tropico municipal celebration of October 31.

Old Folks to Frolic.

A picnic expressly for Southern Californians more than 70 years old will be held Saturday at Sycamore Grove. Free coffee, tea and cero, sugar and milk will be provided for all, but the participants will furnish their own basket lunches and take along cups and spoons. It is expected 1000 will attend.

To Discuss Amendments.

Judge Craig, S. L. Ambrose, John J. Nieto, John L. Fleming and Walter W. Middleton will address the Boyle Heights Civic League this evening, in the Breed-street school building. The public is invited to attend and hear a discussion of the proposed amendments to be voted on at the coming election.

To Instruct in East.

Dr. A. E. Wilson, president of the Manual Arts High School of this city, yesterday accepted an invitation to give two courses in the 1915 summer school of the Teachers' College of Columbia University, New York. He will instruct in social problems in secondary schools, and administrative problems in secondary schools.

Temperance Play at Ebell.

A temperance play will be given at the Ebell Clubhouse on Saturday evening, by the young people of the First Congregational Church, for the benefit of the Church Work Society. The title of the play is, "Found—a Young Nobleman," written by Mrs. Dwight Satterlee. Mrs. Ross T. Hickcox will be stage director, and the cast will be assisted by musical specialists.

For Forest Fire Facts.

J. Diehl Schoeller, Assistant State Forester, with headquarters in Sacramento, is in the city on a tour of inspection of the California counties south of Amador and east of San Joaquin. He is collecting data on the workings of the forest service laws in this State. He will spend several days with Supervisor Charlton of the Angeles Forest, securing the history and extent of the forest fires in the local big woods, how they are handled, etc.

Examine Would-be Rangers.

Twenty-one applicants for the position of assistant forest ranger took the civil service examination in the Federal building yesterday, the class being conducted by Frank Haney, chief clerk in the office of Supervisor Charlton. Six hours were allowed for the preparation of the papers. Today Mr. Charlton will take the aspirants for the honors of the big woods to Sierra Madre, where the field test will be carried on. This includes the art of "cinching," packing a burro, riding, the practical management of fires, etc. Last year a class of more than thirty took the examination and but three finally qualified.

Double Tragedy.

GIVES LIFE IN VAIN FOR SON.

FATHER SEES WIFE AND CHILD KILLED BY CAR.

Mother Rushes to Snatch Baby from Path of Death, Falls and Both are Ground Under Wheels. Parent and Motorman Both Prostrated by Horror of Sight.

Before the eyes of her husband, Mrs. Maude Garner, 27 years old, and their 4-year-old son, Clyde, Jr., were ground to death under an Edendale car at Branden and Allessandro streets yesterday afternoon. In an effort to save the life of her boy, the mother lost her's.

Mrs. Garner and the child had been downtown on a shopping trip and had alighted at Branden street to go to their home at No. 2231 Branden street. On the curbing stood Mr. Garner, an employee of the Selig Polyscope Company. He was waiting for the homecoming of the two. The child gleefully ran toward him. The mother, hearing the warning bell of an inward-bound car on the other track, ran to scoop her child out of harm's way. She grasped him but lost her balance and fell, still holding the child. In a moment the two were under the wheels of the car, No. 166. It was proceeding slowly and was soon brought to a stop.

Both Mr. Garner and Motorman Farnell were prostrated by the horror of the tragedy. The bodies were removed to the Pierce parlors. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

NEW TRADE LANE REALITY TODAY.

PASSENGER STEAMER TO COME TO THIS PORT DIRECT FROM HONOLULU.

With fifty-one passengers and 60,000 cases of pineapples for this city, the steamer Manoa of the Matson Navigation Company will "make" this port today and start what is expected to be weekly service between Honolulu and our harbor on a triangular routing which will include San Francisco.

A special Pacific Electric car will leave here at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon for the harbor, carrying a welcoming party of members of the entertainment, excursion, and foreign trade committees of the Chamber of Commerce. The Manoa, according to a wireless received yesterday, will dock at Municipal Pier A about 4 o'clock.

The Manoa is 446 feet long, fifty-four-foot beam, and has a displacement of 13,000 tons.

Fruit Distributor Returns from Long Tour.

Staple-producing States in Buying Mood.

Cotton Belt Shaky, but War will be Benefit.

Returning yesterday from an 8000-mile tour of the concern's eastern and Canadian agencies, General Manager Powell of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange threw a flood of light on buying conditions, especially in their relation to the citrus industry.

"Wherever a community or State produces staple articles," he said, "you will find a high buying level. I except the South, which is now an exception to all rules. As for the cities and manufacturing centers, they are buying cautiously, due to the restriction which the European war has placed on the market for fabricated articles."

As an aside, Mr. Powell asserted his belief that the present bad conditions in the South are really the harbingers of future prosperity, as the cotton States will be forced to take up diversified agriculture.

"They will begin to raise alfalfa and cattle and to enter more largely into manufacturing," he said. "I believe this war is the best thing that has happened to the South since our Civil War."

Turning to the subject of marketing lemons and oranges, Mr. Powell stated that an aggressive selling and marketing campaign was mapped out for the exchange on his eastern trip and that he anticipates commensurate results.

CROP PROSPECTS.

Regarding the coming crop, Mr. Powell said that preliminary reports from the growers indicate a large increase in the lemon production, but a smaller crop of navels.

"In many sections," he said, "the navels have set lighter than last year, but there is the possibility that the increased yield to be expected from young groves and the probable larger size of fruit set in old groves will bring the crop to normal."

Offsetting the possible shortage of navels is the Valencia crop, which for the present season ran to 12,000 cars, a 60 per cent. increase over the best previous year. The performance, so far as carload yield goes, will probably be duplicated this year.

"Few recognize it," said Mr. Powell, "but the increased Valencia yield for the present season has made the orange crop of this State an all-year-round affair."

The Valencias this year began moving about May 1 and have continued to date, with the promise that the last car will not leave the State until December 1, two weeks after the new crop of navels should commence moving, according to Mr. Powell.

"The Valencia has established itself as a summer fruit," said Mr. Powell. "I expect much from it."

A detailed estimate of this year's lemon and orange crops will be issued by Mr. Powell about November 1.

Regarding the selling campaign for the coming season, Mr. Powell stated that the Sunkissed brand will be nationalized through large use of newspaper and magazine advertising space, and that the exchange's selling force will proceed on the assumption that the California orange is not a luxury, but a necessity.

MOSTLY A SCARE.

"I am convinced that there is a large market for our oranges and lemons," Mr. Powell said. "It is our work to find it and make the most of the opportunities which it presents.

"There is a good deal of curtailment talk heard," he continued, "but the exchange will be aggressive. It is the time to be active when others are inactive. Anyway, I am firmly convinced that nine-tenths of this bad business talk is plain scare, nothing more."

Regarding the exchange's plans, Mr. Powell stated that the selling system will be broadened so as to find new consumers—will break new ground, as it were.

Mr. Powell had this idea before he left here six weeks ago, but, as he stated yesterday, his talks with the exchange's seventy general agents have convinced him that there is a buyer for every last ounce of the fruit produced in the citrus belt of California.

"The citrus growers had a taste of frost and came out stronger," he said. "This proved more than anything else that in organization there is strength, that the co-operative marketing of fruit products is the logical one. In this connection I need only to point out that at the present time every fruit industry not organized is flat on its back."

Regarding the Florida citrus crop, Mr. Powell stated that it is now moving and that it is as large or larger than last year.

TO BUILD THREE DEPOTS.

Improvements will Follow Increase of Traffic on New Line to San Bernardino.

Three sightly and substantial passenger depots are to be started at once by the Pacific Electric Railway at points on its new San Bernardino line. The stations are to be erected at Etiwanda, Alta Loma and Rialto, at each of which places the growth of traffic is declared to have been steady since the completion of the new citrus belt route.

Plans for the depots have been completed by Architect Thornton Fitzhugh of this city and the contract for their construction has been awarded to the Kling Company, a local contracting firm. The three stations will cost in the aggregate about $20,000. Each will be 30x120 feet in ground dimensions and a single story high. The structures will be built of reinforced concrete and hollow tile and will follow pleasing designs.

FASHION NOTES.

Not that we're knocking either wet folks or dry folks—but war-time is no time to upset a whole State. Let be!

Fortunately, the war affects us and our clients very little.

Because we bought a $100,000.00 stock of woolens before hostilities began. So, instead of raising prices like many tailors—we're in a position to raise even the usual quality of Brauer-mades.

And that's some raise.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Oct. 19.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.90; at 5 p.m., 29.84. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 54 deg. and 64 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 94 per cent.; 5 p.m., 75 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 1 mile; 5 p.m., south, velocity 9 miles. Highest temperature, 69 deg.; lowest, 54 deg. Rainfall for season, .20 of an inch. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—The decrease in pressure during the past twenty-four hours has been general throughout the United States. Light rain fell in New York, Pennsylvania and in the New England States, and scattered showers in Texas. The temperatures, except in Wyoming, are normal or above normal. The southerly extension of a deep depression, now central in British Columbia, so far resulted in heavy rain in Southern Oregon (1.06 inches at Roseburg), with a whole southwesterly gale in progress at the mouth of the Columbia River. Fresh southwesterly winds are blowing along the Southern California coast, and rain is falling as far south as Fresno. The barometer is relatively high along the Southern California coast, and it is expected that this will probably block the southerly drift of the Canadian area of low pressure. The weather in Los Angeles and vicinity will be fair Tuesday.

LOCAL FORECAST.

For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Tuesday; winds mostly westerly.

For California south of the Tehachapi: Fair Tuesday.

STATE FORECAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Forecast:

San Francisco and vicinity: Unsettled weather, probably showers, Tuesday; light southwest wind.

Sacramento Valley: Unsettled weather, probably showers, Tuesday; light south wind.

San Joaquin Valley: Unsettled weather Tuesday; probably showers; light west wind.

San Joaquin Valley: Generally cloudy Tuesday; probably showers in the north portion; light west wind.

California south of the Tehachapi: Fair Tuesday; light west wind.

ARIZONA FORECAST.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Forecast for Arizona: Fair Tuesday and Wednesday.

He was hard up, but he should not have taken it. I think it was part of a conspiracy to put the whole blame upon him. I was told also that one woman who was given diamonds had sent large amounts of money to my wife, now living in Omaha, with which to purchase fineries. If that is true, then it is but another part of the plot to fasten this awful stain upon our family. I am telling these facts that our name may be cleared and the guilty persons punished."

Young Tugwell was arrested at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Chapman, at No. 3 St. Joseph avenue, San Francisco, on Saturday. He was to have been married on the day the body of Mrs. Kennedy was found. He went to the Kennedy residence on that day with the intention of borrowing $5 from Mrs. Kennedy. He was unable to secure a license because his bride-to-be was under age, but two days later, with a letter of permission from the girl's parents, the two were married and went to the Bay City. His exact location is not known to the local police. Two police officers took him from the San Francisco jail Sunday, and their movements since have been kept secret, even from Chief Sebastian.

KENNEDYS ARRESTED.

The Kennedys were arrested late last night at No. 2919 Partridge avenue, Edendale. They flatly denied the story of Tugwell. Mrs. Kennedy was ill and instead of being taken to the City Jail, was given a bed at the Receiving Hospital.

De Normandy was taken from his work in Hollywood Thursday and incarcerated secretly at the University Police Station. Friday he was removed to the City Jail, being lodged there under the name of Abbot. He is held as a witness.

RED CROSS BENEFIT FOCUS OF SOCIAL ENDEAVOR.

Every Member of the Smart Set, Without Any Exception Whatever, to Take Part in the Presentation of "Patience" for the Red Cross at Mason Thursday and Friday.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Socially speaking, the most important thing that has happened for a long time will take place at the Mason Operahouse on Thursday and Friday evening next, when society's creme de la creme will disport in and around comic opera for the benefit of the American Red Cross.

A brilliant social event it is, wherein the elect have risen radiantly and inclusively to the occasion, for positively everyone is helping in one way or another. Those that are not actually taking part in the opera will act as ushers, programme sellers, general utility and on the numerous committees. No position has been considered too menial, but that some fair society dame, some gallant society chevalier, has been found ready to fill it with enthusiasm.

Mrs. Hancock Banning is working overtime as the good fairy of the venture. Everyone goes to her about

There have been few affairs in the social history of the city which have called out so complete a representation of the elite.

Angry Clients.

SAY SHEPARD'S SMUGGLER, TOO.

Nominee for State Assembly Placed Under Arrest.

Lawyer is Charged with Double-crossing.

He Calls it Frame-up; Denies Getting the Opium.

Frederic M. Shepard, nominee for the State Assembly from the Seventy-first (harbor and Catalina) District, and a member of the legal firm of Shepard & Aim, with offices in the Washington building, was arrested by Treasury Agent Johnson yesterday on a charge of conspiring to smuggle opium. He was arraigned before United States Commissioner Williams, securing a leave of absence from one of his own Superior Court cases for the purpose, and released on $3500 bonds, his hearing being set for the 27th inst. The case involves 174 five-tael cans of opium, worth about $13,000.

Shepard, who has been expecting arrest for some days, and who secured an attorney last Saturday, declares that he is entirely innocent of the charge, and is being made the victim of a frame-up on the part of former clients and present enemies whom he defended on smuggling charges.

These clients were Henry W. Fowser, Helen Fowser, his wife; Anton Volk, alias Henry Held, alias Theodore Kaiser, alias Harry Fowser, alias Bay; Paul Grim, alias Anton Haase; Oscar Miles, Leroy Hughes, Tom and Henry Lee, all arrested on the charge of smuggling opium across the Mexican line.

BIG OPIUM DEAL.

Some of the party were picked up at San Diego, and several were found at the home of the Fowsers, No. 3565 Sabina street, this city. But no opium was found in their possession. It came out on the investigation that there were at least three caches of the stuff, hidden away, and that the original purchase at Ensenada consisted of 174 five-tael cans altogether. They are out on bonds of $3500 each, with the exception of Leroy Hughes, who was released on his own recognizance. At the hearing they were defended by E. E. Kirk of San Diego, who afterward retired from the case, and by Attorney Shepard.

It also transpired in the investigation then held that the opium was paid for in counterfeit cashier's checks of the Citizens' National and the Commercial Trust and Savings Banks of this city, taken without question by the Chinese merchants in Ensenada.

Ten days ago A. C. Brown, an Imperial Valley farmer, was arrested at the Arcade Station en route to San Francisco. He was put in the County Jail on the same charge. With him were C. E. Cole and Henry Lee, the young Chinese boy who had been released after the arrest as a decoy. Cole was picked up in San Francisco as he stepped from the Owl, on the morning of October 10, and in his possession were seventy-four cans of opium. Now certain members of the Fowser party allege that they have been "double-crossed" by Shepard. Lee, Brown and Cole. They were especially bitter against Shepard, who they claim took advantage of information he secured from them in a professional way to locate the rest of the opium and profit by the knowledge.

One of his accusers is Volk, another is Mrs. Helen Fowser, and a third is Judge Barth, a member of the New Mexico Legislature, who lives in Albuquerque, and for years has been the attorney of Mrs. Fowser's mother in that city. He will be a witness for the government.

THEIR CHARGES.

It is charged that Shepard took advantage of his position as attorney for the Fowser aggregation to ascer-

HUSH! HIST! A GAS PIPE!

Great Treasure Hunt Unearths One of First Ever Laid in Los Angeles.

It is night at North Broadway and Buena Vista street. Lanterns are sentried about a deep pit. At the edge sits Senora Isabel Mora, directing the hunt for the hidden Indian treasure, buried half a century ago.

The laborers work eagerly. They are perhaps to share in the treasure as their reward. No one speaks but with hushed voice. The snap of the pick and the scrape of the shovel are the only sounds.

Suddenly the pick strikes a hard object. All drop their tools and center around the spot. Again it is struck. It sounds hard and metallic, like a treasure chest of iron. The senora bends forward. Quick strokes, a "heave-ho" as all hands give aid, and the prize rolls forth. It is a piece of gas pipe, one of the first ever laid in Los Angeles. This, with three huge boulders, represent the booty so far gained in the famous treasure hunt just beyond the Broadway tunnel.

MOVIES USED TO AID FREDERICKS.

Films to Show His Ideas of Prison Reform.

Gov. Spry Urges Support of Republicans.

Physicians Rise in Protest of Eight-hour Law.

A motion-picture story depicting present penal conditions and the ideas and ideals of Capt. Fredericks in prison reform will be shown in every important city in California before election. The film, some of the scenes of which are laid in Folsom and San Quentin penitentiaries, is on its way to Los Angeles.

The theme of the picture is to show an important phase of humanitarian work in which Capt. Fredericks, as a prosecutor of criminals, would cause to be carried out. His scheme moves toward reformation rather than toward punishment of criminals, and he has pledged himself, when elected Governor, to carry out his ideas.

Generally, the picturization of prison life shows incidents in the routine of convicts, their environment and the punishment and restraint they are subjected to. Capt. Fredericks has outlined during the campaign a plan for the reformation of criminals. His plan is based upon study and experience with criminals, from the standpoint of a friendly prosecutor.

SUGGESTS FOUR GRADES.

The film story tells of four grades of convicted criminals that Capt. Fredericks would establish. The first grade, he suggests, would be the conduct in ordinary prison life. When his demeanor is such that he can be trusted, he is promoted to another grade, where he learns a trade that will fit him for work when he returns to the outside world; the third grade is a camp where convicts are placed on their honor, and the fourth grade is a sort of parole work where they are permitted to work on highways or farms without being under surveillance.

It is the District Attorney's intention to turn the earnings of the higher grade convicts to their families or to their own credit for use when they are paroled or freed. The general aim is to give the convict a chance to show his worth, to improve his condition and to be prepared to enter a trade when he is a free man.

The film that will be exhibited in Los Angeles shortly will also be shown in other cities of Southern California that the people may have a chance of seeing a vivid description of the prison reform idea of Capt. Fredericks.

HYSTERIA PASSES.
G.O.P. NEARS TRIUMPH.

Gov. William Spry of Utah, one of the two States in the Union carried by Taft in 1912, came to Los Angeles yesterday with the traveling passenger agents. He was re-elected Governor in 1912 by a big majority, and is one of the big Republicans of the intermountain country.

"This hysteria which helped to bring about the overthrow of the Republican party is dissipating into a misty, musty past," said Gov. Spry. "The people are returning to political sanity, having had enough of the intemperate, so-called reform.

"In the coming election the Republican party will come back into its own, I am sure. I have heard good reports of the rehabilitation of the party in California, and I hope that the Republican ticket is elected here. It is essential that Republicans be sent to Congress. I don't think the people of California need be told the necessity for electing men who will give protection to California products and industries. Other States have learned their lesson, also, and I believe that the Democratic majority in Congress will be wiped out, as it should be.

"The third party movement, so alluring to many only two years ago, is far down in the discard, where it belongs. Every Republican should participate in the burial. In Utah the Republican ticket will win, as it won in 1912."

DOCTORS PROTEST.
OPPOSE EIGHT-HOUR LAW.

Declaring that it would place an intolerable financial burden upon the sick and ailing, physicians and surgeons all over the State are strong in their opposition to the Socialists' "universal eight-hour law," known as "Proposition No. 2."

According to the medicos, nursing in a hospital today costs the patient $33 weekly, of which $25 is the nurse's compensation and $7 the charge for her board. Under the proposed law, they assert, this charge would be increased to $126 weekly for patients attended by trained nurses, and $52 a week, even, for a "charity" patient, attended by student nurses. It is easy to foresee, they point out, how few would be the number of "charity" cases under such conditions.

The existing eight-hour law for women exempts trained nurses from its provisions, such exemption having been found necessary. Framers of the measure now before the voters, however, made no such exemption, including nurses together with all other wage earners, within its provisions.

JUDGE SHAW HERE.
CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION.

Many friends here are greeting Hon. Lucien Shaw, Justice of the Supreme Court, who is a candidate for re-election. He came to Los Angeles yesterday.

Fredericks Precinct Tea.

Women voters in precincts 406 to 496, inclusive, briefly described as that territory between Pico and Washington streets, Figueroa and Hoover streets, have been invited to a precinct tea in the interests of Capt. Fredericks, Republican candidate for Governor, at the home of Mrs. W. A. Hartwell, No. 825 West Seventeenth street, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Hartwell will be assisted by Mrs. Jefferson D. Gibbs, president of the Southern California Woman's Republican Federation; Mrs. H. S. G. McCartney, Mrs. T. A. Hartley, Mrs. Florence McCullough, Mrs. Judson M. Davis, Mrs. H. I. Seward and Mrs. Frank E. Hand. A number of prominent speakers will be present. There will not only be a Fredericks talk but a discussion of amendments riding on the ballot. While cards have been distributed among the women of that district, it is declared that it was impossible to reach many, though the invitation is general.

Challenge "Progressives."

The Lex Republican Club, composed of students of U.S.C. Law College, will hold a meeting Thursday evening in the auditorium of the Times building. The chairman, T. Lyle Eveland, has promised a rousing evening with several good speakers. A challenge has been sent to the Law Students' "Progressive" Club to be present on this evening and debate the vital issues of the campaign. The students are evincing a great interest in the present campaign, and the meetings are attended in great numbers. This meeting is open to the public.

Osborne's Speaking Dates.

Addresses to club women and speeches before war veterans will feature this week's campaign programme of Capt. H. Z. Osborne, Republican nominee for Congress in the Tenth District. This evening, at 7:30 o'clock, the captain will speak in the Woman's Clubhouse at Sawtelle, and at 9 o'clock in the schoolhouse at Tenth and Valencia streets. For tomorrow night, three speeches are scheduled—at Hawkins Hall, Central avenue and Washington street; at Burke's Hall, Slauson and Moneta, and at No. 3769 Dalton avenue.

Thursday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, Capt. Osborne will address the Women's Republican League, at the Alexandria Hotel.

Friday night, he will speak in the schoolhouse at Seventeenth and Georgia streets, and in Normandie Hall, Normandie and Jefferson.

Send Out Real Ticket.

Copies of the straight Republican ticket as indorsed by the Executive Committee of the Republican League of Los Angeles county will be mailed to voters this week. The list includes judiciary nominees and indorses Edward G. Stubb for the Assembly in the Seventy-fourth District. The sample ticket has been compiled to meet a strong demand from voters seeking authentic information as to what office-seekers are Republicans.

Baker Makes Campaign.

Schoolhouse and neighborhood meetings in behalf of the candidacy of Edwin Baker, Republican Assembly nominee in the Seventy-fifth District, will be held beginning Tuesday night. The first meeting will be at West Tenth and Valencia streets, Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. Others thus far arranged will be held at Seventeenth and Georgia streets Friday night and in the Grand-avenue schoolhouse, the date to be decided later. The neighborhood meetings, which it is planned to hold in every precinct in the district in the next two weeks, will be addressed by several of the Republican candidates.

Politics and Things.

Many inquiries have been received by the Registrar of Voters as to why the initiative, providing for the abolishment of capital punishment, is not on the November ballot. Information from Sacramento is that the initiative failed for lack of signatures and some gratitude has been expressed that it and several other proposed amendments fell by the wayside. Forty-eight varieties are considered more than enough.

John D. Murphey of Mono county, candidate for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday and was a guest at a luncheon at the Country Club.

Ex-Judge Bordwell has returned from a trip in Riverside and San Bernardino counties, where, he declares, sentiment in favor of Nathaniel P. Conrey for presiding justice of the Appellate Court is very strong.

Capt. Fredericks has failed to please one citizen of Los Angeles, who regards as paramount issues the burning of garbage in back yards and the failure of food inspectors to detect stale eggs. "If Mr. Fredericks wants to be elected, why don't he declare himself on these two points?" asks an irate citizen.

"It's all Fredericks in the north," said Louis Schwaebe yesterday on his return from San Francisco. "Johnson will be badly beaten when the Northern California votes are counted. All clauses are for Capt. Fredericks and the Republican ticket."

John M. Eshleman, interloping candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, and John F. ("Hangman") Neylan, chairman of the State Board of Control, arrived yesterday and will campaign in these parts for ten days.

The Los Angeles Hammel Club will hold its weekly meeting at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at room No. 304 Trinity Auditorium building. J. F. King and Mrs. Marion Boyd Scarce will be the speakers.

After three weeks' tour of the northern counties, Judge William M. Conley, candidate for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday.

Frank C. Roberts's candidacy for Congress in the Ninth District has been indorsed by the Thirty-sixth Precinct Club, a Republican organization of workingmen in the Sixty-fifth Assembly District. Resolutions unanimously indorsing Mr. Roberts were adopted by the 250 members.

A reception in honor of Mrs. William D. Stephens and Mrs. Charles W. Bell will be given this afternoon in the Alexandria Hotel parlors. In the evening, a banquet will be given in honor of Congressman Stephens at Hamburger's cafe.

Two Republican rallies will be held tomorrow night to promote the candidacy of Harry A. Chamberlin, Republican candidate for State Assembly in the Seventy-second District. One will be held at the residence of William B. Luckenbach, No. 3769 Dalton avenue, near Exposition boulevard, and the other at the residence of B. B. Gregory, No. 1252 West Thirtieth place, just west of Vermont avenue.

Los Angeles Democrats are concentrating on Thursday, October 22, as the day of the big event in Democratic circles preceding election. James D. Phelan, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, will address the meeting at Trinity Auditorium.

Joseph R. Knowland, Republican candidate for United States Senator, will speak at the Upland grammar school auditorium, this evening. This will be the principal Republican rally of the campaign at Upland, and a big crowd is looked for to attend.

A special meeting of the Tax and Assessment Protective Association, which is fostering the candidacy of Sidney L. Briggs for Supervisor in the Third District, has been called for 7 o'clock Friday evening at No. 631 South Spring street. This organization, of which W. I. Hollingsworth is president, is the outgrowth of expressed dissatisfaction at certain phases of the taxation and special assessment system as now in vogue, and prominent among its attempts at reformation is the whirlwind campaign to be waged in behalf of Briggs.

C. E. Bartlett, traveling passenger agent of the Nickel Plate Road, together with his family, was the guest of Elmer R. McDowell, candidate for judge of the Superior Court, yesterday.

The Colored Republican Club, through G. W. Hawkins, president; John S. Montgomery, secretary; Cal Johnson, treasurer, and C. Olivier, chairman of the Executive Committee, has sent out to its members and to the colored voters of the Third Supervisorial District, an indorsement of Sidney L. Briggs, candidate for Supervisor.

Deputy District Attorney Blair, nominee for judge of the Superior Court, discussed the law of library site assessments last evening at Page's hall, Compton and Vernon avenues, and his candidacy before the East Side Political Club and the Business Women's Civic Club in the lecture hall of the public library.

Diseased Blood Calls for Help

Nature's Willing Workers are Always at Your Service.

If it is eczema, pimples, boils or worse—your safeguard is S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. It is always lined up to attack diseased blood. And it always does the work. It does the work after disappointment, after alleged specialists, mercury, iodides, strychnine, arsenic and other destructive drugs that have reaped a harvest of mistakes and left a host of invalids guessing as to what is to come. S. S. S. is not such a drug as the cupidity or ignorance of man would be able to produce. It is Nature's wonderful contribution to our necessities. It is wonderful because it can not be imitated; can not be made any other way than to assemble Nature's products and produce what a host of men know as S. S. S., the world's greatest medicine. There are people everywhere that had an old sore or ulcer that defied all the salves known. And yet S. S. S. taken into the blood just naturally put into that old sore the elements that made new tissue, new flesh, and covered it with a new coating of healthy skin. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggest and be on the way to perfect blood health. But beware of substitutes. For special advice consult the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 55 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. CLEAN BILL FOR GREAT HOSPITAL

County Institution and Dr. Whitman Indorsed.

Petty Effort to Discredit Both Falls Flat.

Supervisors Defeat Norton's "Charity" Ordinance.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday [illegible] in attempt by the Earl Norton to oust Dr. C. H. Whitman, superintendent of the County Hospital, by defeating the grand jury ordinance, ostensibly providing for the operation of city and county hospitals. The ordinance, which is not under joint consideration by the Board and the Supervisors, but is the pet measure of M. E. Johnson of the grand jury and Supervisor Norton, was killed by the votes of Supervisors Pridham, Hinshaw and Shelby. Mr. Norton spoke warmly for the ordinance to no avail.

When Mr. Norton introduced the ordinance a score of prominent professional and business men spoke in favor of Dr. Whitman and of retaining the present system at the hospital. Protests were filed against the passage of the ordinance by the Los Angeles County Medical Society, the Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, a dozen other medical and charitable institutions.

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher made a strong plea for Dr. Whitman and the present system and vigorously denounced the politicians behind the move. He said it would be a shame and an outrage to oust Dr. Whitman, one of his most capable managers of the hospital and county needs. He declared that the attempt to "get Whitman" originated with a clique of designing politicians more purely a selfish and personal motive.

Mrs. Cora Shortridge Foltz and Dr. G. Brainerd strongly defended Whitman and the management of the County Hospital. Dr. Brainerd stated that he had had occasion to come in close contact with the work of the hospital for twenty-eight years and said that institution is being run more efficiently than ever before. "It is the pride of the medical profession of Southern California," said he Emanerd, "and I can't for the life of me understand this move."

BIG COUNTY HOSPITAL.

Dr. Rose Lindley wrote a letter in the form praising Dr. Whitman's management of the hospital. "Three visiting nurses from the East inspected the hospital recently," wrote Dr. Lindley, and in their report they [illegible] Los Angeles County Hospital as the cleanest and most ably conducted County Hospital in the United States."

Many of the doctors objected to the passage in the ordinance for placing a hospital over the charitable institutions and especially the hospital. They asserted that the hospital should be under the direct supervision of a physician.

"It is a case of too much Johnson," declared Dr. Whitman. "This ordinance to get me. Let's be fair about it. Why, don't you come out in the open and admit you are after my scalp? It is nothing but contemptible personal politics and I don't think the fair-minded citizens of this county will stand for it."

Supervisor Norton asked Dr. Whitman several questions and the doctor answered them, although Chairman Pridham informed Mr. Norton that his questions were insulting, and asked Dr. Whitman to ignore them.

CONVINCING FIGURES.

Chairman Pridham presented the following figures:

(1) Estimate of increase of cost of operation of charity office and County Hospital by reason of enforcement of the provisions of the proposed ordinance are as follows:

(1) Superintendent of county hospital as per ordinance, $375 per month.

(2) Increase necessary to retain Dr. Pearson as assistant superintendent at County Hospital, or any other competent physician, and surgeon to give all their time, $100 per month.

(3) Increase to the anesthetist of his time, now receiving $50 per month, $150, making his salary $200 per month. It would not be possible to procure a safe and competent physician for less than this sum, and in addition he would have to give his time at the hospital, and then we could not expect to retain the same individual very long. As his time is worth more to the public it is a highly responsible position. By only demanding part time we have been fortunate in obtaining a good and competent doctor for $50 per month.

(4) This board has created the office of psychiatrist to be in direct charge of the psychopathic department under the general direction of the superintendent of the hospital. This board made the salary for this position $200 per month for part time. By this ordinance he will be compelled to devote all of his time to the work, and upon investigation of the subject I am convinced that a safe and competent physician, one who is really a nerve specialist, could be obtained for less than $350 per month and his board. This would mean a saving the sum of $250 per month, making a total of $375 per month, or an annual outlay of $10,000, every dollar of which is an absolutely useless expenditure of public funds, and instead of this board being censured into creating unnecessary positions, they had much better be censured for such sums in caring for the county's unfortunate poor, as is being done.

WOMAN BEATS WOMAN.

Woman Found Unconscious in Yard of Home with a Quilt Wrapped About Head.

tain where the opium was cached on both sides of the border line and that he then went down and got it, once alone and a second time with Brown. Of the original purchase, seventy-four cans were found with Cole and forty have disappeared. The balance has been located in three different places, one in the Jacumba Mountains, in San Diego county; another in the vicinity of Tia Juana, and a third near Tecate, both on the Mexican side of the line.

Brown is the Brawley man who was arrested some time ago on the charge of smuggling opium. In his possession was found a lot of doctored stuff that under chemical analysis turned out to be molasses tinctured with opium. The Federal grand jury failed to indict him, as it was not opium within the meaning of the law, and he was released. No sooner was he out of jail, it is charged, than at the alleged request of Shepard he made a trip into San Diego county and got the seventy-four cans later found in possession of Cole.

Shepard has been a practicing attorney in this city for the past six years. He was admitted before the District Court of Appeal in July, 1908, and W. M. Bowen stood sponsor for him. He was admitted to practice in the United States District Court in August, 1911, and Stephen Monteleone vouched for him. The record in the District Court shows that he came to Los Angeles from Yukon. He lives at No. 5910 Denver avenue. He sought both the Republican and "Progressive" nominations for the Assembly, but got only the former.

RAILWAY IMPROVEMENTS.

Los Angeles Division Leads all Others in Santa Fe Appropriations for Sixth Month.

With over $100,000 appropriated by the Santa Fe management for improvements on the Los Angeles division to begin the current month, according to an announcement made here yesterday, this division for the sixth consecutive month leads all others of that great railway system in total appropriations for extensions and betterments.

The improvements sanctioned, with estimates of cost, follow: Construction of coach washing track, narrow-gauge push-car tracks, and air, steam and water lines on Los Angeles River front property, between Seventh and Ninth streets, $55,000; rebuilding of foothill spur, Upland, $27,500; paving Arctic and D streets, San Diego, and placing a storm drain in former street, $20,000; installation, repair and protective work at two bridges, $12,500, and construction of fifty-foot extension to freight house at Corona, $2700.

WIFE TAKES POISON.

Following a quarrel with her husband, a chauffeur, Mrs. Carol Holdredg, 34 years old, of No. 276 East Forty-fifth street, drank poison yesterday. Discovered by her husband she was rushed to the Receiving Hospital and antidotes given her. She is not in danger.

Prosperity Asserts Itself

WONDERFUL VOLUME OF BUSINESS DONE BY LOCAL FIRM THIS FALL

The wonderful volume of business enjoyed by the Palace Clothing Co., 323 S. Spring st., this fall, surely bespeaks prosperity in spite of reports to the contrary.

This firm has been holding a big sale, subsequent to a fire which did more or less damage to their high grade stock of clothing and furnishings. The remarkable values offered at sensationally low prices are undoubtedly largely responsible for the crowds that have thronged the store, eagerly spending their money for what they knew were real bargains.

Thousands of dollars' worth of men's clothing and furnishings of well-known makes do not even show a mark of fire or smoke. But the insurance company paid the loss. Therefore the Palace Clothing Co. was enabled to cut and slash prices in all directions and offer the men of Los Angeles the greatest bargain treat they have ever had.

This firm is very anxious to clear out all the fire stock by the end of this month and as a special inducement they have cut and slashed prices deeper than ever. Staggering savings and overwhelming bargains will stare up at you in all directions on a visit to the store.

Be on hand early. Doors open at 8 a.m., 323 South Spring st.

A glance over the folowing prices will convince that the cream of the stock won't last long.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) The discussion in Washington between representatives of the English and American governments as to the re-establishment of normal financial conditions is said to be fraught with possibilities even greater than at first expected. A general resumption of business in many lines is anticipated with a satisfactory arranging of financial conditions between the two countries. Nearly all large stock exchanges of the two nations, it was stated, would reopen for business about November 1 with no restrictions, and a general impetus is also expected to lines of trade ordinarily affected by export conditions. The increased demand for wheat by foreign countries resulted in a 2-cent jump today, with stocks on hand materially reduced.

(Abroad:) The London stock exchange is expected to reopen for business on or before November 1, and it has been announced that all trades left in an embryo state upon the breaking out of hostilities would be settled in full. Money rates were reported easier.

CLASSICAL.

The soldier is known as the son of Mars, the sailor as the son of Neptune. The aviator, we suppose, then, must be a son of Aeolus, and every crowned head in Europe "a son of a gun."

ONE-WAY BUSINESS.

Passenger agents of America are holding a big meeting here to consider the California business. We are glad to have them plan how to get the people here, and we know that no plan could be devised that could get the people away, once they have arrived.

A BIG LAUGH.

That is all that "A Pair of Sixes" at the Majestic this week amounts to, yet a show that can make people forget is worth while. Herbert Corthell, the best comedian in the company, threatens to go into moving pictures. We warn him that he is much too fat for a phantom.

SOMETHING TO INVESTIGATE.

It is said that there is evidence to indicate that both sides to the Mexican fight at Naco are using dumdum bullets. It is improbable that this practice is widespread in Mexico, yet, if the charge is true, it is only another reason why a stop should be put to the useless fighting there.

VALUE OF EUROPEAN SECURITIES.

The European war has caused a surprisingly small diminution in the market values of the bonds of the nations involved. Compared with last year at this time British consols have fallen from 73 to 68, French rentes from 88 to 74, German imp. 3's from 76 to 72, while United States 4's of 1925 have remained steady at 109½.

MISFORTUNE AND CALAMITY.

A disgruntled Progressive revives and makes local application of Disraeli's bon mot on Gladstone. "What," said he, "is the difference between a misfortune and a calamity?" Well, if Gov. Johnson should fall into the Sacramento River that would be a misfortune, and if anybody should pull him out that would be a calamity. [This is a joke.]

FACING THE WAR.

Americans would as well decide to go on with their own business without regard to the situation in Europe. This message is to the heads of business rather than to the people. They might as well get together and accept the war for what it is. This is the biggest and the richest country in the world. It can be utterly independent and should remain prosperous and happy no matter what other countries do and suffer. We do not mean this in a selfish sense, but merely that our own prosperity is not won at the expense of other countries and that it should not be halted on account of what the rest are doing. This view is not unsympathetic. It is merely sensible.

NINETEEN DOCTRINES.

The Progressive party in Massachusetts has formulated and announced its platform. Unlike its California namesake it is distinctly and aggressively partisan. It is "for" things. It is for a lot of them. It demands—

1. A non-partisan tariff commission.
2. Regulation of trusts.
3. Conservation and development of national resources.
4. The initiative.
5. The referendum.
6. Woman suffrage.
7. Recall of all elective officers whose terms exceed a single year.
8. Municipal home rule.
9. Municipalities to deal in foodstuffs.
10. Abolition of party enrollment.
11. Suppression of tax dodging.
12. Labor and wage regulation.
13. Industrial pensions.
14. Vocational training.
15. Nation-wide prohibition.
16. Equitable adjustment of railway disputes.
17. Purification of the courts.
18. International disarmament and world peace.
19. Anything else that is "largely in the thought of the people."

A scoffer once asked of the Rev. Sidney Smith if he ever knew of anybody who really believed in the thirty-nine articles of the Church of England? The reverend wit replied, "Yes, but not all of them at any one time."

The Massachusetts Progressive is in the same fix.

BUSYBODY BELLIGERENTS.

We are all very energetically emphatic in our condemnation of the European belligerents knocking down beautiful buildings and killing one another by hundreds and thousands. But really are we peace-loving Americans any better than they are?

Of course we know that tendency of human nature described by Samuel Butler in "Hudibras" which condones sins we are inclined to by damning those we have no mind to. Human nature is the most persistent thing in all the world and crops out at every turn. It is mostly of the unregenerate type and takes a lot of divine grace to reform it or modify it even a little bit.

The European belligerents, at least so far as it concerns the rank and file of all the armies, have some considerable justification for the work they are doing, so awfully destructive of the handiwork of man and of human lives, the handiwork of God. Most of those people engaged in this terrible work of destruction are possessed of the idea that their operations are necessary and noble because, if they do not fight, their country will be conquered, the people made slaves.

Remember that war often embodies all that Fitz-Greene Halleck says in "Marco Bozzaris:"

"Strike till the last armed foe expires,
Strike for your altars and your fires,
Strike for the green graves of your sires,
God and your native land."

There are other ways of destroying property, bringing our opponents to penury and inflicting misery on the world besides those employed by the warriors in trenches, behind guns and making bayonet charges. And this ruthless warfare on the rights and belongings of others often has absolutely no redeeming quality about it, nothing to palliate its wrongdoing.

We would be the last in the world to arraign in general terms all those who are engaged in this belligerency, but we do say that for the most part they are animated by no noble sentiment and inspired with no desire whatever to do anything to uplift humanity. On the contrary, many of them are deliberate in their attack upon the rights of others and openly proclaim their purpose of taking away the property of those they so bitterly hate, of inflicting injury upon them, and gloat over the misery they will cause if they are successful in the warfare they are waging upon those whom they pretend to regard as friends and who are their neighbors.

For instance, consider the fierce and destructive legislation which has made it almost impossible for the railroads of the country to pay dividends to their owners. Think of the implacable and unscrupulous warfare which has been waged against "Big Business" and has brought want and distress to so many thousands of people who have lost their investments or have been thrown out of work! Why, in the last six years in this country it has seemed as if there were a disposition on the part of thousands of noisy campaigners to tear down every successful business enterprise and root in American soil the doctrine that "property is robbery"—and water it with blood. The exhibition of class hatred in America, encouraged by demagogues of the Gompers and Roosevelt stripe, has been appalling. Is there anything much worse in the spirit of the nations we are fond of criticising?

Again, take for example the attempt to destroy the property of the grape growers of California by unwise and unjust legislation—property worth $150,000,000, the one-time waste places made to bloom and flourish by patient industry, the only belongings of thousands of people of very moderate means, and the result in most cases of a lifetime of hard toil, self-denial and energy.

Then there is another fell purpose to interfere with the rights of others, to destroy property rights and bring misery upon thousands that has absolutely no redeeming feature. We refer to the malicious, self-conscious purpose of the authors of the proposed amendments to be voted on at the coming election known as the eight-hour law and as the day-of-rest law. These twin propositions are the offspring of Socialism and the confessed purpose of the proposed measure is to take away the profits accruing to every proprietor of every useful and gainful enterprise carried on in the State. It is the entering wedge which, when driven home, will destroy all profits in all enterprises of every kind, great and small.

We submit that the inhumanity, the un-Christian hatred, the fell desire to work mischief in the hearts of those concocting measures like these is as bad in many cases as the hostility felt by almost any of those engaged in the great conflict now taking place on the continent of Europe. The spirit which often inspires these onslaughts upon the property, the liberty and the rights of others is one of hostility to every person who differs from those behind these airguns.

God grant that there may come to this country ere long a new awakening of the spirit of brotherly kindness and human considerateness—a little more of the spirit of the Golden Rule—a little less proscriptiveness and intolerance! "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so to them." That's the spirit—and America, as well as Europe, needs a deluge of it. How would you like to have the legitimate profits of your own business lopped off by political interference, Mr. Man? How would you like to have your orange grove confiscated, Brother?

COTTON PROSPECTS.

The measure to repair the ravages in the revenue caused by placing sugar, wool and agricultural products on the free list—known as the emergency tax bill—has passed; but, at the last minute, Congress refused to add to it a clause providing, substantially, for a purchase of the cotton crop of the South. It even refused to "loan" to the Southern States the amount of money collected from taxes on cotton half a century ago.

The war in Europe has laid a heavy hand on cotton. High marine insurance, scarcity of ships to carry the staple, and demoralization in foreign exchange have all contributed to lower the price of cotton, but the chief factor has been the closing of the cotton mills. The operatives in France, Alsace, Austria, Belgium, Ghent, Lille, Roubaix and Muelhausen left the mills by tens of thousands. In Lancashire the mills went on half-time, and the New England spinners, seeing that the conditions presaged cheap cotton, withdrew from the market as purchasers.

For the last five years cotton has sold at an average of 12.70 cents per pound, and the planters had forgotten the dark days of 1898-99 when it brought but an average of 5.25 cents—which was below the cost of production.

The crop of cotton which is now ready for shipment amounts to something over 15,000,000 bales. Under normal conditions 9,500,000 bales would be shipped to Europe. As it is, less than half that amount will be sent. Great Britain, which last year took 4,000,000 bales, will this year import but 2,000,000 bales. Germany, which last year took 2,500,000 bales, will this year take none at all. Belgium, which last year took 200,000 bales, will this year take only 50,000 bales. Russia, which took 100,000 bales, and Austria, which took 125,000 bales, will take none at all. Other countries in Europe which took 275,000 bales will take 100,000 bales.

Italy will increase its imports from 500,000 bales to 650,000 bales, and Spain will increase her cotton imports from 300,000 bales to 400,000 bales.

Japan will increase her imports from 500,000 bales to 1,000,000 bales and possibly to 2,000,000 bales, which will save the situation in Imperial Valley, for the freight from San Pedro to Yokohama will be less than one-half the freight from Charleston or New Orleans.

It is impossible to materially increase the market for American-made cotton goods even at a reduced price. South America is in a poor financial condition and is accustomed to long credits which American manufacturers are unable to extend. There will be an increase in local consumption of heavy-weight goods for bagging purposes because of the cessation of jute importations from India. A movement to induce women to wear more cotton gowns will be discouraged because 85 per cent. of our dyestuffs come from Germany and the supply is cut off by the war.

The "buy-a-bale" movement has had great success. President Wilson has two bales for which he paid 10 cents per pound, and it is estimated that the patriotic people of the country have helped the cotton planters by purchasing about 5,000,000 bales. But that will afford only temporary relief, for the cotton thus purchased will be stored in outhouses and warehouses and will ultimately come upon the market. There is a lack of storage facilities in the cotton States, and if the bales are exposed to the weather the outside has to be picked off and is useless for any purpose.

The 5,000,000 bales thus stored, with an increase of purchases by American mills to 7,000,000 bales, will probably take care of the present year's crop.

But how about next year's crop? Clearly it must be reduced one-half or bankruptcy will sit at the board of every cotton planter in the South. Several suggestions have been made to this end. One is that a tax be placed on cotton acreage by the Federal government. This is opposed by Congressman Underwood as unconstitutional. Another plan is for the State to issue licenses and that the cultivation of cotton be restricted to those who obtain such licenses. This is not only unconstitutional, but absurd.

"The most practical suggestion," says Mr. C. T. Revere in the North American Review, "calls for the passage by southern Legislatures of bills outlawing the cotton crop as security for debt, thus making advances by country merchants illegal. With these chattel mortgages placed in the list of doubtful securities, the supply merchants would be forced to take a position that automatically would reduce the cotton acreage."

It is altogether probable that the cotton planters of the South will reduce their production without the enactment of laws forcing them to do so. In 1899 the cotton production was 11,274,480 bales and cotton sold for 5.41 cents per pound. The next year—1900—the production decreased to 9,436,416 bales and cotton sold for 7.50 cents per pound.

Mr. Revere concludes his review of the cotton situation as follows:

"While the losses throughout the cotton trade have been severe, the depression is not likely to be of discouraging duration if the situation is handled with intelligence and foresight. With the righting of the foreign exchange markets other countries will be able to import more than 4,500,000 bales. American spinners, with proper assistance from their bankers, can buy a minimum of 7,000,000 bales. The holding of the surplus should not present an insuperable financial problem. If the exchanges are able to resume their normal functions, the consumers of cotton will quickly lay in a store of contracts fully equivalent to the surplus which the South otherwise would find so burdensome. With assurance of a reduction in next season's acreage, it would seem as if 8 cents would be a reasonable expectation for a minimum price, which would last only for a brief period."

NEW "DAYS."

In conformity with changed notions and ideals, brought about by modern conditions, the celebration of special days for special objects has taken its color from the sentiments of the times. In the middle ages barons and serfs were a rough-and-tumble lot, caring more for carousals than church services, for bull fights than Bible texts. So to stimulate a spirit of worship certain days were set apart as sacred to various saints. These were known as holy days; in reality they were holidays, as the meaning of the word is now generally accepted.

While these holidays were named after certain saints and used to popularize church attendance, though so originally ordained, they were not employed primarily for worship or prayer. Tourneys, bear baiting, cock pits, bull rings, jaunting parties and carnivals were the chief features of saint-day celebrations in the roaring period when knighthood was in flower.

The populace in easy-going Latin countries was not slow to take advantage of the respite from toil and the chances for amusement afforded by these days of grace set aside in the church calendar and so, on account of their popularity, the number of them increased amazingly. As an economical measure the benefit of their observance was doubtful, for the number of work hours every year was continually diminished, but at least they served to keep the interest in the church alive in the hearts of the people. They also identified Christian worship with the spirit of joy and happiness.

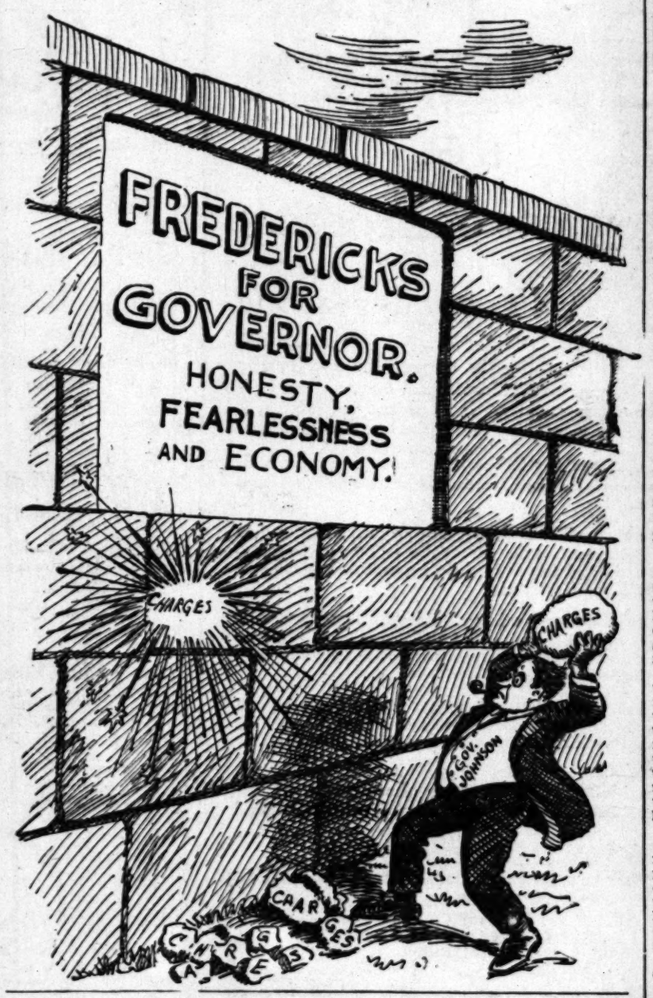
Since then the world has become more serious. In America we have learned that the gospel of work is the best exponent of the religion of happiness. Our happiest moments are those of labor successfully completed. So a new series of saints' days is springing up, not to supplant, but to supplement the days in the church calendar. These, in accordance with the democratic spirit, are dedicated to the things that bring the greatest good to the greatest number.

So we have Apple Day or Raisin Day or Citrus-fruit Day or Flower Day or even Cigar Day. And we celebrate them, not in tourneys and jaunts and drinking bouts, but in boosting the various products after which the days are made. In a sense there is as much religion in commemorating Saint Apple, whom we have seen, as St. Sebastian, whom we have not seen.

Moreover we make the day fit the occasion, whereas the squires and yeoman and peasantry of three centuries ago too often kept the saints days in an unsaintly fashion. Now we celebrate the fruits of the earth and the work of men's hands for fruitful ends and in a workmanlike manner.

Foreign diplomats should understand that predicting trouble between this country and Japan is the monopoly of Richmond Pearson Hobson.—[Chicago Herald.

Can't Make a Dent.



EIGHT HOURS A DAY versus THE RANCHWOMAN'S JOB.

BY ELISABETH COOKE HASTY.

During a recent trip among many ranches of Los Angeles and Ventura counties I had the opportunity of listening to numerous first-hand opinions on the proposed universal eight-hour law. One and all the rancher-folk condemn it. Why? Because mighty well they realize the fallacy of attempting to plant and harvest a crop that grows twenty-four hours to the day with labor that works only eight hours to the day. Stands to reason the crop is going to get an awful distance ahead of the game, doesn't it, with those sixteen hours' extra time every day to its credit?

Being a woman myself, necessarily I was most interested in the viewpoint of the women of the ranches as regards the eight-hour day. And the condemnation of the proposed law came not only from the ranchmen themselves, but from the country women with whom I talked. Women whose backs are bent and hands toil-worn—noble scars of the battle for existence they have fought side by side with husband and son.

It would take too much space to cite the many cases where comment was strong and decided and with good reasons. But one wrinkled, gray-haired woman rancher is a fair sample. She is caring for and educating her two little granddaughters. Her two young sons, the family harvest finished, had gone to Oxnard to earn extra money in the beet harvesting there.

The old lady and her two sons work the 160 acres of hay fields that are the mainstay of this family. But, during the seedtime and the harvest, necessarily extra hands must be hired. Out of the margin of profit that is supporting children and grandchildren comes the hire of these extra men.

Now what of seedtime and harvest when the eight-hour day shall end for these hired men? The two growing boys may work themselves to exhaustion. No law shields them. Grandma herself may, and does, feed, water and milk the cows, care for the turkeys, the hens, the pigs, even clean out the barn and care for the horses when the rush is on. All this besides the work of the house and the cooking for a bunch of husky men.

She rises before the dawn and is the last one to lie down at night, little bit of humanity that she is. But these husky, strapping hired men; big enough and strong enough to crush her little body with their two hands; they must do no more than eight hours' work a day lest their manly strength should be diminished and their union-ratified rights impinged upon.

Moreover, and once more, what of the seedtime and the harvest? There is a verse in the Twentieth Century Bible of the Square Deal that says: "Time, crops and the weather wait for no union-labeled eight-hour law." Maybe that is a very free translation, but I guess you get my meaning all right. Anyway, the ranchers do—and their women.

THE WAR AND DEBTS.

The National City Bank of New York issues a monthly bulletin which comments suggestively on current financial and commercial events. The sheet is inspired, if not written, by the president, Frank A. Vanderlip, who was himself formerly a bright journalist. The October issue thus refers to the effects of the European war:

"In recent years the opinion has been common among men most familiar with the growth of international intercourse that the economic relations that had developed between the important countries made war between them practically out of the question. The people who held this view saw in the results of hostilities not only the horrors of the battlefield, but such a wreck of industry and credit, and such appalling distress to the entire wage-earning population in the contending countries, that they could not believe the governments of the advanced countries would fail to settle all disagreements short of war. Events have shown that they were not in error as to the importance of these intermingling interests. What has occurred in the last two months has justified their forecasts as to the results if not as to the prevention of hostilities."

The editor then cites an isolated example which gives some idea of conditions: "The United Shoe Machinery Company is an American corporation with English, French and German factories. The factory at Paris has been turned into a barracks, the factory at Frankfort is at a standstill, and the factory at Leicester reports that of 1600 employees 700 have gone to the war." He further states that "relief work has been started in a number of cities of Germany, Austria and France." "One hears on all sides of employees being dismissed, of wages being lowered and so on." "South America, which has depended upon Europe for its financing, has been hard hit. Brazil has defaulted upon its exterior debts, and its currency is seriously depreciated."

Regarding disorder in exchanges he says: "It is evident that the international banking organization, through which the trade of the world is settled by transferring credit with insignificant shipments of money, is one of the vital factors in the interchange of products. At first it was thought that nothing but ships was wanted in order to start up trade, but with ships waiting for cargoes or leaving ports half-laden it has become evident that something else is requisite if the movement of goods was to be supplied. The shipper must see how he is to be paid for his goods." For, "with the outbreak of the war credit received a staggering shock. Enormous sums were owing across national boundaries, and the outcome of the indebtedness cannot be known. To add to the situation moratorias have been declared, thus suspending the laws for the collection of debts."

RIPPLING RHYMES.

DREAMS.

The dreams of youth are most entrancing, they take him where all nature smiles, and birds of paradise are glancing along romantic woodland aisles. And when he wakes, and lies recalling the visions of that fairy shore, the moonlight on its vistas falling, he fain would sleep and dream some more. The dreams of age are fierce and racking, and wear away the old men's lives; in dreams red men my steps are tracking, with tomahawks and scalping knives. Or I am tied upon a trestle, a locomotive drawing near; no matter how I strain and whistle, I can't escape my doom, I fear. Or forty-seven bulls pursue me, I hear them thunder at my heels, they push their big long antlers through me—how comfortable all that feels! Or I am from an airship falling, and know that every bone will break; the pangs I feel are most appalling, and I'm still falling when I wake. I never sleep but that disaster comes to me in some tragic form; I'm swimming in a lake of plaster, or torn to fragments by a storm. And when I wake I'm so exhausted, to walk I scarcely have the steam; then by some youth I am accosted, who tells me of his glowing dream!

Good morning, are you getting ready to pay your graft tax?

This is Apple Day in California. A good year to be a Pippin.

It is not a bit too early to be practicing for Halloween.

Some folks we wot of would be dodging in favor of a borrowtorium.

Earl has at last shown his hand and is out for Woolwine for District Attorney.

At this writing it does not appear that even the war will be able to save the democratic party.

The loan to the cotton growers will go through Congress. Will Texas and Hoke Smith secede?

The long-expected suit against the Haven road has been filed. We now look for peace in Mexico almost any day.

Just as American merchants were ready to reach out for trade in South America business men down there say, "Credit, credit."

A baby's value has been fixed by a judge at 6 cents. If the baby has a pain, or is for crying and attends the movies, it is high.

What is there in a name, after all? A Hoosier plug horse bearing the honored name of William has won the pacing event of the year.

Inman and the boy wonder, Willie Hearst (he must be about 40 years old by this time,) are playing English tiddledywinks, or something like that, is.

Are we never to be allowed to eat our favorite food? It is now proposed to banish the upper deck of the ship. Perish the thought.

The International Sunshine Society is under a cloud, a petition has been filed for leave to dissolve the association in New York.

"Whence come the stars?" asks an astronomical highbrow of the University of California. Any perfectly good press agent can tell him.

It used to be the Constitution in the hands of homme Richard, the Kaiser and the Christian Monitor. Now the mixture is the Constitution, cruiser AE-1. How prosaic!

In spite of the proclamation of President Wilson, about the only one who has remained neutral in this war is Mayor Thompson in New Yorker Staats-Zeitung.

President Wilson is trying to patch up peace with all of his political enemies. The next thing we hear will be that Roosevelt has called at the White House.

With the adjournment of Congress there ought to be a demand for the publication of the Congressional Record to fill the vacuum. They would be more deadly than strychnine.

The Democratic party would be willing to pay a handsome sum for another term than "war taxes" to meet the latest assault upon the pocketbook of the people.

The sixth internal revenue district, which Los Angeles is a part, will collect $2,500,000 to the administration's credit. This "New Freedom" is a mighty costly experiment.

Senator La Follette (remember him?) claims that he might have won in the Wisconsin primaries if he had not been indorsed by Secretary Bryan. Is the latter a hoodoo?

President Wilson puts blood in his eye back because the United States is not neutral in the war. How could we be neutral if we injected ourselves into the fray as urged by the grossest national minority?

Two Congressmen are to be elected by the voters of Los Angeles county next month. The majority of the voters should see to it that no Democrats or assistant Democrats (Bull Moosers) are put on guard. Haven't the country suffered enough?

Under the Clayton law labor leaders may commit crimes that would place the directors of a corporation behind the bars and go free. It makes the labor lawbreakers monopoly a privileged trust. It puts on the stamp of government approval to practices that are otherwise crimes; and then they combine to raise the prices of bread, meat, etc., free, too.

All plays need women, yet many plays on the stage should be seen and not heard. They have good lines for grown men, but the lines to be spoken are those which usually fall to the lot of men. There are exceptions, of course, but most women look and act better than they read. Most women are enough to make parrots out of men who belong to the nouveau riche.

If the new schedule of taxes is absolutely necessary by the war there will not be a word of protest. The people have paid them before. It is sought to bamboozle the people by claiming that it is a war tax. But the sober truth is that the money is needed to bolster the revenues that have been shot up by the Underwood tariff law. The people will protest, and they will make their protest at the November election.

APPLE DAY.

Maids who seek a rosy cheek
Orchard-way go facing;
Apples ruddy, apples crisp,
Six a day—seven days a week—
Show no stint nor grudging.
Pluck and eat, pour and pack,
Seeds and core and parings;
Apple a day keeps the doctor away,
Apple at night starves him to death,
Apple each meal and each snack
Kill him and shroud him,
And bury him deep.

LOVING LETTER.

[illegible] is a copy of one of a [illegible] apparently written [illegible] to her husband, [illegible] is true to her and [illegible] four-year-old girl, and [illegible] good love for him:

Husband: Tonight, [illegible] better you wrote I [illegible]. Well, my dear [illegible] you think so wrong [illegible] imagine how it [illegible] you still with heart [illegible] not grieve as I do. [illegible] love you I would not [illegible] short work of same. [illegible] up Ramona's home [illegible] so much of her. If [illegible] of her you will [illegible] for her future hap[illegible] must love you I [illegible] different action to [illegible] but the love I have [illegible] from it. Every [illegible] every beating of my [illegible] to the Almighty God [illegible]'s prayer and mine [illegible] heard and if it takes [illegible] to do so I spend most [illegible] prayer to Jesus that [illegible]. Don't think so [illegible] all that. How I de[illegible] clothes and pleas[illegible] in order to save [illegible] you ever found me [illegible]. Did I not do [illegible] part that my strength [illegible] did I not give every[illegible] you from the very [illegible] life? You must [illegible] the way you act. [illegible] separated and live [illegible] dear little honey[illegible] ask I beg you come [illegible] I always asks [illegible] or long? Please [illegible] tenderest feelings on [illegible] feeling of her father [illegible] the matter, let the [illegible] up with a home [illegible]. It's all within [illegible] don't put a [illegible] little girl. For [illegible] forgive and forget [illegible]. We both can live [illegible] a will there is [illegible] whatever you [illegible] will make [illegible] base of all evil. [illegible] to be united and [illegible] and hope that you [illegible] matter. Oh, I feel [illegible] heart to think [illegible] of me as all [illegible] I have filled and [illegible] the foundation [illegible] and do you blame [illegible] wanted the trou[illegible]. There is [illegible] of us. Give [illegible] to prove it to [illegible] a trial [illegible] me that for [illegible] the girl that [illegible] [illegible], open [illegible] your big heart; don't be unmerciful, and give me a chance to do right. We both have failed, so we are on equal basis and we must make the best of it and now share each other's joys and sorrows. We married for better or worse. What God has put together let no man put asunder. I hope that you have not forgotten the text. When our carriage left my home on the wedding night a great fear came over me that I shivered and you said: "Don't fear, I will never leave you no matter what happens." You are a man of your word and stick to it. Oh, what grieves me most that you fear to eat with me. I never knew why and never dreamed of anything like that. I would be foolish to put myself in such misery and do a rash act.

Believe me, I still have some good common sense left and would take higher authority to straighten the matter, however, my love is so deep rooted and that is why I don't bring action against you. I knew if I let you have your way you will do what is right and I will be patient.

To be separated like this is wasting Ramona's life and mine away. It breaks my heart how she asks for her daddy. Mamma Masenneyer and Mr. Dodtson are good witnesses if you do not believe me. If you only give in and don't act stubborn. I promise that there will be no happier family living. Believe me, my dear, a love like this alone, which can render the marriage happy, if you will be so good as to grant my wishes and it shall please providence to spare us to the latest periods of life.

From your loving and devoted wife,
CARRIE.

P. S.—Remember your wife comes first, then strangers. Don't live to suit outsiders, but stick to your family.

Dear Daddy: Please love mamma for my sake. I love you and mamma both. Come live with us again. I love to hug and play with you and run races with you to the barn, and teach me some new verses and songs and sit on your knee and help me with my A B C's.

Oh, daddy, we will have lots of fun together. Mamma said I get more intelligent every day. Please, do come home. I love you, dear Daddy, and you must love mamma because I love her now. Do you hear daddy?

These are the pleadings. Grant this ardent wish to your dear little honeybunch.

RAMONA LANGDON.

REALLY MRS. GOTO NOW.

Pasadena Girl, White, Re-weds Rich Young Jap in British Columbia.

Arthur S. Goto, the young Japanese millionaire, and Miss Hazel Baker, of a prominent Pasadena family, whose marriage on the high seas was repudiated in the courts, were remarried yesterday in Vancouver, B. C., by a justice of the peace. The information came in a telegram to Goto's attorney, S. D. Well.

The couple were arrested October 11, on a charge of having violated the rooming-house ordinance in Los Angeles. They had a certificate of marriage attested by the captain of a San Pedro boat, who they said had performed the ceremony off the California coast. It is supposed to have been one of many so performed and the case attracted much attention for that reason. The Gotos are the first couple, Jap and Caucasian, to be remarried, so far as known. There is no law against miscegenation in British Columbia.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

Mrs. Alexander V. Phinney,

Formerly Miss Mabel Hopkins, of the pioneer San Francisco family of that name, who was married unexpectedly at the Van Nuys yesterday. The young people are members of the Hanna party.

CULMINATION of a romance which began a year and a half ago between Mabel Hopkins Quinn, a member of one of San Francisco's most prominent families, and Alexander V. Phinney, a well-known business man of Sacramento, was reached here yesterday when they were unexpectedly married at the Van Nuys Hotel. They arrived in this city Saturday, as guests of D. R. Hanna, son of the late Mark Hanna. The former has been touring the State, with a party, in his private car, "Convoy."

It was in Honolulu that Mr. Phinney, who was visiting in the islands, met his future wife, who was on a trip around the world. She gave up the trip and returned to San Francisco. Steadily during the intervening months the affair progressed, until it was decided that they would be married next month. But the trip to Los Angeles intervened in favor of a earlier culmination.

Mr. Hanna, as an old friend, gave the bride away. Mr. C. H. Robbins of Chicago was best man for the occasion. Rev. L. C. Kirkes, superintendent of church extension, Los Angeles Presbytery, officiated.

The other members of the wedding party, and who have also been touring the State with Mr. Hanna, were Mabel Murray and Miss K. Landy of Cleveland, Margaret P. Johnston of Duluth, Mrs. Clayton Francis of San Francisco, and Mrs. E. Esslinger of Washington, D. C., and Mr. Earle D. Sweetwood of San Francisco.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mark Hopkins, one of the most prominent of San Francisco pioneers. The Mark Hopkins Institute was named for him. She is well known in the social set of the northern city.

Mr. Phinney is vice-president of A. Van Voorhies & Co., Inc., of Sacramento.

Mr. Hanna, who is a resident of Cleveland, is manager of the M. A. Hanna Company, which comprises vast iron and steel interests.

The entire party will leave tomorrow for the north and later may sail for the Orient. It is even possible that the bride's uncompleted voyage around the world may yet see its fulfillment, as a honeymoon trip.

Smart Affair.

Mrs. Arthur W. Penny and Mrs. George Francis Wilson of the Beverly Hills Hotel entertained Saturday afternoon with a theater party followed by tea at the Alexandria. The afternoon's pleasure was shared by Mrs. George Herman Gillette, Mrs. Caspar Whitney, Mrs. Roland Bishop, Mrs. Wilbur, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Waller Chanslor, Mrs. Denman, Mrs. Richard Schweppe, Mrs. M. Anderson, Mrs. Dreyfus, Mrs. William Goodwin, Mrs. Taussig, Mrs. Philips and Mrs. William Thomas.

Homeward Bound.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. Harrison of Mexico City have just concluded a two months' stay in this city and are en route to their home by way of Dallas, Tex., where they will spend a few days with their daughter, Mrs. Paul D. MacQuiston.

Children's Party.

A merry affair of recent date was the children's party given by little Inez Young at the home of her aunt, Miss Myrtle Young, of No. 904 South Olive street. Dainty refreshments were enjoyed by Raymond Jack, Donald Demwhittle, William Taite, Weston Rice, Britt Thomas, William Lepper, Dorothy Mitchell, Mary Jane Brown, Jeanette Baughman, Louise Hill, Pauline Schriber and Henrietta Schriber.

Engagement Made Known.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Byington of the Fowler apartments announce the engagement of their daughter, Lenore, to Jack Williams of San Francisco. No date has yet been set for the marriage.

Miss Jewell Honored.

Miss Minnie Jewell of Boyle Heights was the honored guest at a shower given by Mrs. I. L. Adams of No. 417 Seville street recently, when guests were asked to bid farewell to the honoree, who will depart this week for Manteca, where she will become the bride of J. L. Gilmore. The home was artistic with pink carnations and ferns arranged in every nook. Miss Jewell was greeted by Mrs. Leslie Smith of Azusa, Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. George R. Curtis, Mrs. O. W. Tingle, Mrs. J. P. Vroman, Mrs. J. P. Gordon, Mrs. A. E. Oiler, Mrs. Alvah Smith, Mrs. Ray Huston, Mrs. A. D. Peachy, Mrs. A. G. Corsen, Mrs. R. D. Moore, Miss Anna Smith, Miss Bessie Lingfelter, Miss Eva Blankenship, Miss Elizabeth Peachy and Miss Ruth Adams.

Wedding Anniversary.

To mark the seventeenth anniversary of their wedding, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Mortimer of No. 615 West California street, Pasadena, entertained a number of their friends at "bridge" Wednesday evening. Gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums massed with asparagus ferns formed a pleasing setting for the happy party. Refreshments bearing out the yellow keynote were served at midnight. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Rands, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Post, Mr. and Mrs. William Brohn of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Carter, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. Munsell, Mrs. Kingsbury, Mrs. Gertrude Carrier, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell of Santa Monica and Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Mortimer.

Birthdays Celebrated.

The birthdays of R. W. Russell and W. T. Wookey were the bright particular reason for a charmingly-appointed dinner party, given by Mrs. Russell Wednesday evening at Sunland Villa, Pasadena. Chrysanthemums in many shades were used in every conceivable nook to make the home more attractive. After the dinner the rest of the evening was given over to music. Cards marked places for Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wookey, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Beam Cady of Los Angeles, Miss Cecelia Flintoft, Mr. and Mrs. George Flintoft, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Russell, Miss Elizabeth Russell and Mr. Howard Wookey.

Brewer-Wilson.

Miss Kathaline Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wilson of No. 1515 Hudson avenue, Hollywood, and Joseph E. Brewer of Ft. Worth, Tex., were united in marriage by Rev. Edwin F. Ryland in the Philathea parlors of the Hollywood Methodist Church, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The bride, who was accompanied to the altar by her father, wore a gown of charmeuse made with a long tunic of imported embroidered chiffon, lace and pearl trimming completing the pretty costume. The veil was caught with tube roses and orange blossoms. A pearl necklace, the gift of the groom, was her only ornament and she carried bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

A male quartette rendered "While I Have You" before the ceremony and Miss Pearl Brittain presided at the organ, playing the "Lohengrin Wedding March." After the ceremony a reception to the relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents. The rooms were prettily decorated with carnations and greenery.

After a three week's tour of Southern California Mr. and Mrs. Brewer will reside in Ft. Worth, where Mr. Brewer has built a pretty home for his bride. He is cashier of the First State Bank of Hadley.

Pasadena Gossip.

The Audubon Society of Pasadena held its first meeting at Los Robles school last week. Several distinguished guests were present, among them being the State Audubon secretary, Mrs. Harriet William Myers, and Dr. Charles Frederick Holder. They addressed the audience on the importance of voting "yes" to the bill for the none-sale of game—No. 18 on the ballot of November 3.

As a delightful surprise to her mother, Mrs. Bridges of No. 602 North Michigan avenue, Miss Mae Bridges invited a number of friends to spend the afternoon recently. The guests passed away the time in plying their needles and delightful chit chat over the tea cups. Guests included Mrs. George Pedley, Mrs. J. Philips, Mrs. E. Oleson, Mrs. C. A. Wood, Mrs. L. Lane and Miss Lane.

Club Benefit Ball.

Elaborate preparations are being made by the Woman's Club of Hollywood for their benefit ball, which will take place next Friday evening at the new clubhouse on Hollywood boulevard at La Brea avenue. The affair is given for the benefit of the piano fund, a handsome new instrument having been recently purchased for the auditorium.

No invitations have been issued, but club members and their friends will be in attendance. Tickets may be secured from Mrs. Franklin W. Köhler and Mrs. Rollin B. Lane. An excellent orchestra has been engaged and the rooms will be made more attractive by potted plants and flowers.

Mrs. Harmon Ryus,

One of city's talented musicians, who is an enthusiastic supporter of the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra. Mrs. Ryus is a member of the Symphony Committee and curator of the music department of the Ebell Club, and is also an associate member of the Symphony Association.

Season Opens.

BRILLIANT WEEK OF GOOD MUSIC.

OLIVE FREMSTAD AT TRINITY AUDITORIUM.

Ellen Beach Yaw will be the Center of Musical Attention Next Friday—Amateur Players will Give "Patience" for the Benefit of the Red Cross—Society Patronesses.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Music, good music, seems in for an unusual boon this week. The Los Angeles season is opening with brilliant eclat and with the advent of Madame Olive Fremstad, the great soprano prima donna, at the Trinity Auditorium tomorrow, Wednesday, evening, one of the most ambitious and encouraging programmes that we have ever been treated to is started merrily on its way.

Musically, Los Angeles is no longer a climber, she has climb. Now, indeed, is the social seal set upon us. Good music, with all the intellectual and emotional superiority that that entails, finds us worthy.

The concert tomorrow evening at which Manager Behymer will introduce America's foremost prima donna, places us musically in the highest ranks. They have nothing better to offer the musical palate in New York, London, Paris or Berlin.

On Thursday and Friday evenings we shall be treated to music of a lighter, gayer kind, but nevertheless music of the highest order, at the Mason Operahouse, when the talented Amateur Players are offering Gilbert and Sullivan's opera, "Patience," for our delight and the Red Cross profit.

On Friday evening, also, Trinity Auditorium will again be the center of musical attraction, when Madame Ellen Beach Yaw, assisted by Jay Plough, flutist; Mrs. Clara La Fetre Darling, dramatic soprano, and several other artists, is giving a concert, which should attract all music lovers and the many admirers of Madame Yaw who never lose an opportunity to hear their idol.

Madame Yaw and Ernest Crawford will sing the Ophelia-Hamlet duet from the opera version of "Hamlet," and the rest of the programme is crowded with equally popular numbers.

The concert enjoys the patronage of many well-known society people, including: Mrs. George F. Bovard, Mrs. Harriet H. Barry, Mrs. Seward Simons, Mrs. O. P. Clark, Mrs. Pearl P. Morrison, Dr. Jessie A. Russel, Mrs. Clarence Van Graham, Mrs. M. E. Johnson, Mrs. James F. Scherfee, Mrs. E. K. Foster, Mrs. Frank E. Wolfe, Mrs. Harry Trowbridge, Mrs. W. E. Brown, Mrs. Fred B. Kuck, Mrs. Lucy I. Blanchard, Mrs. Arthur G. Kuck, Mrs. C. S. Hutchinson, Mrs. Mary L. Holeman, Mrs. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Mrs. Sarah J. Oliver, Mrs. P. A. C. Moore, Mrs. Charles Edward Locke, Mrs. E. C. Bellows, Mrs. William Henry Housh, Mrs. Eliza Tupper Wilkes, Miss Ella P. True, Mrs. N. W. Darlington, Mrs. Lewis R. Works, Mrs. Herman S. Darling, Mrs. Frank Gordon, Miss Frances Will, Mrs. James B. Barker, Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, Mrs. Calvin Hartwell, Mrs. Hester T. Griffith, Mrs. Fred H. Taft, Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, Mrs. E. E. Leighton, Mrs. Martha Law, Mrs. J. E. Coleman, Mrs. Charles E. Hutchinson, Mrs. Ruby J. Smart, Mrs. Mattison Jones, Mrs. M. E. Jenkins, Mrs. Clara M. Odell.

The concert has been planned and is being developed by Mrs. M. E. Jenkins, and will be under the immediate direction of L. E. Behymer.

WOMEN'S AD CLUB TO MEET.

A special business meeting of importance to the Women's Ad Club will be held today at 5:35 o'clock, at the Hotel Clark. It is desired that every member of the club be present. The session will be brief, but of interest to all.

BROW MUSIC AT ORPHEUM.

"Suppressing the Press" Done at Empress.

Marguerite Clark Heads the Tally Bill.

"The Littlest Rebel" Winner for Clune.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

"It's a long, long way to Tipperary, it's a long, long way to go!"

That's the tune the armies of Europe are marching to, and that's the tune with which Director Frankenstein opens the show, rouses cheers and enthusiasm over at the Orpheum this week. Tipperary is to this war what "Marching Through Georgia" was to the Civil War, and "A Hot Time" to the Spanish-American.

Hans Kronold, with his eloquent 'cello, headlines the bill, and yesterday met with an ovation, despite the fact that Lisst is supposed to be over the heads of the vaudevillains. And you may think you have heard the "Traumerei," but you haven't, until you've heard Kronold play it!

"The Last of the Quakers," as done by Hermine Shone and company, is a novel little playlet, in which quaint Quaker "thees" and "thous" are amusingly mixed with the modern slang of the young people. Miss Shone is so very pretty, and such a very good dancer, that she wins the house. The rest of the cast play their parts well, and though the play skates the thin ice of melodrama, occasionally, the talent of Miss Shone and Glenn Anders gets it over.

There's a medley of offerings, this week, which run the gamut from trained animals to high-brow musicians. The animal act is as truly artistic in its way as anything on the bill. Four dogs and a horse pose with William Edgirettes and a woman as marble-white statues of hunting scenes, and the animals show wonderful training in their ability to stand still for several seconds without moving a muscle.

Alexander and Scott apparently are a pair of handsome yellow coons, the man getting away with a lot of minstrel stuff and the woman singing some songs very acceptably. So there's a big surprise when the woman pulls off "her" wig, and begins to sing in a masculine voice.

The dance revue of the Six American Dancers, in which they do the old-fashioned buck and wing dances in costume of all the American periods, is delightful, because it's done with so much pep and in such a pretty setting.

Harry Tsuda is a Jap, who balances chairs on top of a wobbly ball and gets away with it, apparently having hypnotized those chairs.

The Lasky beauties are quite as charming as ever in the pretty, brilliant little sketch, and Ismed, the Turkish pianist, continues to please.

Loew's Empress.

Not a headache on the Empress bill this week! Mr. and Mrs. David Elwyn and company head the fun with "Suppressing the Press," a farce whose plot involves the secret fear under which each of two people labor that they have killed a man who is something-in-law to them both. Of course, they haven't, or it wouldn't be farce, and after twenty minutes of fast and furiously funny situations, everything is straightened out. David Elwyn is a finished comedian, and past master of the art of comic facial expression.

Broken German is a dead language, as Channing Pollock says. Nevertheless "Senator Francis Murphy," the German orator, gets it over nicely in his monologue. "Roosevelt says he never drinks," he says, "yet look at the animals he's been seeing in Africa!" and "dot caberet at Washington is so mixed up, we don't know who's President yet!"

Dora Dean and her Fancy Fantoma, six bleached coons, the feminine ones very pretty, do a delightful singing and dancing turn with the old-fashioned buck-and-wing dances in the ascendent.

Irwin and Herzog, comedians, sing and dance pleasingly. But the best thing they do is the passenger coach bit, where the fat and funny one travesties a railroad conductor.

Eva Prout is a dainty bit of femininity, who inhabits three different costumes in a row, and is especially pleasing as the chappie, in which she is reminiscent of Bessie Bonehill.

Frank Lavpo and Bob Benjamin, Hebrew acrobats, do some neat acrobatic work, involving chairs and tables, and the funland film features are better than usual.

Republic.

Six acts of vaudeville and six reels of pictures combine to make an unusually generous bill of vaudeville at Bert Levey's Republic Theater this week.

The headliner is the big six-reel feature film from the Shubert and Brady studios, "America," a filmization of the world wonder spectacle of the same name of the New York Hippodrome. It represents a novel achievement in motography, as the spectacle was filmed in the same theater where it was produced. Natural wonders are shown, including Yosemite Valley, Yellowstone Park, Grand Canyon of Arizona, Panama Canal, Niagara Falls, with a thrilling climax of the story at each location. In addition the dances of the New York Hippodrome monster chorus are well depicted.

The vaudeville is headed by Deane, Dore and Deane, a comedy singing and dancing trio; Roselle, the musical waiter, in a novel musical turn; Joe Lee in character impersonations, which are above the ordinary; Ford and Cody, who please with character change work, and the De Costa Duo of kylophone soloists.

Hippodrome.

Some show, that girl show! Yet, strange to say, it is two men who capture highest honors on the bill. One is Charlie Reilly, the silver-throated Irishman, whose offering, "The Irish Immigrant," proves to be one of the most pleasing acts of the Hip season. He got a rousing reception last night.

The other interloper into stardom in the girl show is Bond Morse, who styles himself "A knight of the road," and in hobo disguise does crazy songs and stunts. No other word except crazy describes his phoney fun.

But after all, Marguerite holds her own. She is a mysterious beauty about whose identity everybody is guessing. Her stage milkmaid, bathing suit and football girls are original and picturesque.

There are some thrills, too, for the Becarris are a pair of daring aerialists. The seals have been held over, and the Pathe war pictures are quite as interesting as the scheduled acts.

Tally's Broadway.

Marguerite Clark, as "Wildflower," is quite the sweetest and most charming of the younger film actresses. Mary Pickford will have to look to her laurels if Marguerite Clark is to stay in the field.

"Wildflower" is Marguerite's nickname in the play, and the scenes are taken amidst flowery fields, green glades, and beside running streams, all of wondrous beauty. The setting is quite fitting to the sweet personality of the little actress.

The brother of Mary Pickford is in the cast supporting Miss Clark.

Marguerite Clark is shortly to be seen in person at one of the theaters in this city, and the pictures at Tally's certainly make one wish to view her in flesh and blood.

Symphony.

The famous and popular Cecelia Loftus is starring at the Symphony this week in "A Lady of Quality."

The bill is to change Thursday.

Clune's Auditorium.

A story which will appeal to the hearts of all, but more particularly to those of southern blood, is featured at Clune's Auditorium, this week. It is a photoplay masterpiece, "The Littlest Rebel." The most appealing scenes are those of the picturesque and sunny Southland, and the film lends opportunity for the portrayal of these.

Among the characters in the piece are many who are famous in the stage drama. They are, Mimi Yvonne as Virgie, Frederick Fleck as Lieut. Harris, and Estelle Coffin as Mrs. Carey.

Clune's Broadway.

This is all-star feature week at Clune's Broadway, with a representation of many local favorites.

The two-reel detective drama, "The Blue Flame," featuring Stella Razeto and Guy Oliver, is the special offering. It is to be followed by "The Woman of It," with Kathlyn Williams in the leading role, supported by Wheeler Oakman and Charles Clary. Other stars are Maurice Costello, Gertrude Ryan, Ruth Roland, Marshall Neilon, and Lloyd V. Hamilton.

Miss Louise Santsche continues to yodle pleasingly, and "Si's Wonderful Spring" and Slippery Slim and the Mortgage," provide the laughs.

Alhambra.

Robert Edeson, in the thrilling photoplay, "Where the Trail Divides," is being shown at the Alhambra this week. In this piece, Mr. Edeson does some of the strongest work of his career. The story is full of thrills, and is beautifully staged.

What You Get
Values are relative; that is, the worth of what you get depends on what you pay for it, says Greer-Robbins Co.
In this new Hup, for instance, it's plain that the value you get is greater than the value in other cars of higher price and no greater capacity, size or comfort.
And you won't have trouble finding cars that are no larger, carry no more than five passengers, yet cost more than the Hup.
In this car five persons ride in perfect ease.
Its long wheelbase affords plenty of room in the driver's seat and in the tonneau—room for all to relax and rest, with soft cushions and good springs to smooth the road's rough spots.
Your first ride in the new Hup—and you ought to take it as soon as you can—will charm you.
You'll see that it has, in addition to its generous passenger capacity, plenty of power, smooth-running, silent motor, transmission and axle, and a perfect wealth of high-grade equipment and conveniences.
Telephone, and we'll send the car for that ride.
Sedan and coupe bodies especially built at the Hup factory, can be fitted to touring car and roadsters at very reasonable cost.

AUTO SHOW CONTINUES TO DRAW CROWD.

The Saga.

HALF MILLION DOLLAR SHOW.

Hundreds of Machines Carry Shrine Visitors.

Motordom Well Represented at Car Display.

Mechanical Art Holds Sway in this City.

BY AL G. WADDELL.

By actual count there were 511 automobiles parked within a radius of four blocks from the Shrine Auditorium last night during the busy hours of the annual automobile show.

On Jefferson street two files of motor cars stretched out east and west for a distance of two blocks from the brilliantly lighted building. On Figueroa street, cars were lined up for a block or more on either side of Jefferson, and University avenue accommodated a large squadron of machines.

STILL GOING.

The great interest which featured the opening of the show, was undiminished yesterday. From the time the doors were thrown open yesterday morning until late in the afternoon, there was a steady stream of motor car enthusiasts pouring into the great building. Shortly after the dinner hour, the crowds began to grow and until closing time the attractive displays were surrounded by interested followers of the motoring pastime.

MOTOR VARIETY.

There were luxurious limousines, sedans, and touring cars, roadsters, racers and electrics on the outside. Under the glare of the lights inside the show rooms there were beautifully gowned women, young girls in attracive suits which gave evidence of roadster rides, mature ladies, who had come in electrics or closed cars and many men.

Every class of motorist was represented and they were all bent on the same pleasure. They were inspecting under the most favorable conditions, the 1915 models.

The accessory exhibits in the balcony attracted more attention last night than on Saturday evening; and it was well that they did, as the auditorium was crowded at all times.

DROPPED IN.

Many parties spent the evening at the show, while others came early enough to take in the half million-dollar display and motor back up town to the theater.

Tonight is to be featured as Southern California night and tomorrow evening is to be recognized as the official society night.

AUTO SHOW BRIEFS.

Don Carlton and Al G. Faulkner were receiving their many friends at the Fiat and McFarlan display station last night, and both men were kept busy.

Don Smith worked just about sixteen hours yesterday. He preferred to stay on the job at the show, overseeing the Chandler exhibit to remaining at his desk at the agency.

Lynn C. Buxton must have had something very attractive at his Moon exhibition station last night, or perhaps it was Lynn himself, there were many lady admirers for the Moon all evening.

John Wiese was at the Winton booth last night to greet his many friends. Manager H. L. Owesney was on the job during the day but when the crowd gathered he put his salesmanager in charge.

Earle Anthony is on the cigar man's blacklist. After the Packard man had beaten the twenty-six game five times running he was barred. Then to get even, Anthony sold a Packard.

The new California electric was certainly surrounded by the finest collection of signs.

The balcony seats were popular last night and were filled with fair visitors watching the show. The musical programme was an enjoyable feature.

The new Pierce-Arrow roadster was one of the late comers in the show. It occupies space in the entrance and attracted big crowds. Salesmanager L. R. Wadsworth was in charge.

The Jeffery has a room all to itself. Gilbert Woodhill and his crew were kept busy telling of the beauties of the Chesterfield Six.

Don Lee inaugurated a unique feature by exhibiting a rebuilt Cadillac. The car can hardly be told from a new machine so highly is it polished. The idea is to show the public how used cars are rebuilt in the Lee shops.

The accessory exhibits attracted large crowds last night. The Master Carburetor Company displayed cut-open models and an interested crowd listened to the talk on carburetion.

C. O. Du Mars was among the visitors last night. The tire factories have entered into an agreement not to show anywhere which explains the absence of the big tire companies.

The Standard Oil Company has a very elaborate display showing the various grades of oil and other features of automobile lubrication.

The Hendrie Tire Company is making a pleasing and interesting exhibit. This California-made tire is growing in popularity and interesting talks were delivered on the manufacture of quality goods.

Earnest McGill had charge of the Detroiter exhibit yesterday, but as tonight is Southern California night, Mr. McGill will not be present. He is from the Blue Ridge Mountains.

M'FARLAND WILL BE LIGHTWEIGHT.

NOLAN SAYS HIS BOY WILL MAKE 133 POUNDS FOR WELSH.

Packy McFarland will be able to reduce himself to the lightweight class again and will grab Freddie Welsh's title—according to Packy's new manager, Bill Nolan.

Nolan has, in the past, shown an almost uncanny ability to pull weight from fighters and leave them strong. He takes them up to his ranch in Lake county and has them running over the trails until they come back to civilization, lean and strong as an Indian dispatch bearer.

He and Packy recently formed a partnership and Nolan has taken the Stockyards boy in hand. Packy has long since refused to make weight for boys in Welsh's class and it looked as though he would have to pass up his ambition to be lightweight champion of the world. According to Nolan, he now has Packy weighing not an ounce more than Willie Ritchie.

Nolan has written the following letter to the sporting editor of The Times explaining all about it:

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18, 1914.

Friend Harry—Was very sorry that I was so late in sending you that story; intended sending it by mail, but heard it was going to leak that night, hence my anxiety in not having you scooped.

Well, I have been quite busy going after Welsh in the East, some results have been attained. Frank Mulkern, the promoter that pulled off the Ritchie-Wolgast contest, offered us $20,000 for a ten-round battle in Milwaukee. Yesterday I received an offer to meet Welsh in Madison Square Garden on December 1, incidentally I may add that Pollok and his friends are going to run the boxing shows in the garden.

It is my one aim to secure a long battle, a finish preferred. For the latter we have the promoter, the purse and the battle grounds; all we want is Pollok's sanction for such a contest.

Welsh's manager has consented to the ten-round bout, to the long bout silence has been the only response. Pollok is the dictator and we will have to await his pleasure, and wait we will.

However, it may be well to explain, that if Pollok demands the big figures that he asks, a promoter will certainly want Welsh to fight, not waltz, for ten rounds.

Pollok defied Ritchie to battle him for a prohibitive side bet, an enormous guarantee, winding up by stating that all other conditions to go that prevailed at the London battle, one of those conditions permitted the contestants to weigh in at 135 pounds at 3 in the afternoon, or six hours before the men enter the ring.

Ritchie was not beaten by Welsh, it was Pollok. By his silence Ritchie refused to be beaten again, and no promoter would come forward with the guarantee demanded. It is a horse of another color when you name Packy McFarland and Freddie Welsh to go the derby route, the promoter showed his willingness, McFarland is ready, now where is that man Pollok. This def was never aimed at Packy McFarland.

Harry Pollok is too wise a bird to bet his money on Freddie Welsh against Packy McFarland. Harry has seen the Stockyards boy in action, too, around New York. There would be a vast difference between a Welsh-Ritchie and Welsh-McFarland battle.

No one is any better informed than the same Freddie Welsh.

Experience is a great teacher. McFarland and Welsh is a coming event. Bear in mind the world was not made in a day. Give Pollok and Welsh their dues. They are entitled to get the easy money first. We will be waiting at the gate.

Many of the well-informed sporting men ridiculed the idea of Ritchie making 133 ringside when I took hold of him, to be accurate, he scaled exactly 135 pounds with his clothes on. The ex-champion was there at the scales, weighed in, and won the battle with Wolgast. McFarland has been with me for over a month; today he is not a pound heavier than Ritchie, and the weight we agree to make is quite different. It is not the weight that is bothering us, it is the acceptance of Welsh to battle.

BILLY NOLAN.

FAMOUS AVIATORS READY FOR ARMY AERO TRYOUT.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 19.—There will be six entries in the War Department aerial competition at North Island, which begins this week. Famous aviators from all over the country will be present to fly the machines and take note of the tests conducted by Capt. Arthur S. Cowan, commander of the first aero corps at North Island. Three machines will be purchased by the government if five of them qualify in the competition, one for $12,000, one for $10,000, and one for $8000.

Col. S. Reber, who is in charge of aeronautics for the United States army, will arrive here tomorrow from Washington for the competition. The entries include a ninety and 160-horse-power tractor by Glenn Curtiss and machines by Glen Martin, Silas Christofferson, Orville Wright, the Maximillian Schmidt Company of Patterson, N. J., and the Marsh and Ward Company of Detroit. The contest, which is interesting aviators all over the country, may continue several weeks.

Wolgast, Attell and Coulon Followed by a Fatal Jinx.

They Lost.

THREE CHAMPS OUT OF LUCK.

Lost Titles After Being in Movies Together.

Haven't Won an Important Fight Since.

Moral, Don't be Shot with an ex-Champ.

One of the most famous fight photographs ever taken is the one showing Jim Jeffries holding up three champions of the world. It has been the ruin of every fighter who appeared in it.

Those who appeared in the picture were Abe Attell, Ad Wolgast and Johnny Coulon, in addition to Jeffries. Not one of these fighters has won an important fight since the snapping of that photograph.

ALL CHAMPS.

When the picture was taken all were champions of the world. All three have since lost their titles. This was indeed an ill-omened picture.

The picture was taken about two years ago out at Jim Jeffries's residence. It was a part of a moving picture stunt, some enterprising film company having taken advantage of the fact that the city was full of champions at that time.

ATTELL'S JINX.

Abe Attell was the first to go down. Shortly after the making of the picture he met Johnny Kilbane and lost his title to the Cleveland boy. Since then he has been pursued by a relentless fate. A jinx has followed him to the ends of the earth. After being beaten by Johnny Kilbane he lost to Tommy Murphy in San Francisco, then went dubbing around the country, sinking lower on the pugilistic ladder every time he got off the train.

Finally, he got a chance to fight Freddie Welsh in Wales and went to Europe for the contest. The war broke out almost as he landed and the fight was called off. After a struggle, he got a chance to fight Kilbane a return match and this fight was in turn called off by an accident to Kilbane's hand. His crowning misfortune was the death of his mother.

AD WOLGAST.

Wolgast's next fight after the taking of this picture was against Joe Rivers. After that miserable affair he lost the championship to Willie Ritchie. Since then he has been beaten by Tommy Murphy, and even by little Joe Mandot of New Orleans. When Ad came out here last spring to fight Joe Rivers, the old jinx was still on his trail, and his arm was broken by a training partner while he was getting ready for the fight.

COULON LICKED.

The same ill-luck chased Johnny Coulon after the taking of the picture. It was not long after he posed with Jeffries and the other champions that his health failed. He was for a year or so a practical invalid from stomach trouble and rheumatism. Having apparently recovered his health, he was matched against Kid Williams, and few champions have met such a miserable end as he did, going down from a mere cuff on the ear. Coulon will go down into ring history as the only fighter who ever lost a world's championship by having his ears boxed.

From the events following the taking of this picture, it would appear that it is bad luck for a champion to be photographed with an ex-champion, in this picture, Jeffries was an ex-champion, and all the others were then active champions of the world.

JOHNNY EVERS GETS WELCOME.

TROY (N. Y.) Oct. 19.—Troy gave Johny Evers, captain of the Boston Braves, a rousing reception tonight upon his return to his home in this city. There was a parade with ten bands and several drum corps and over five thousand men in line. Nearly every organization in the city was represented.

Captain Evers rode at the head of the column in an automobile with Mayor Burns and he was wildly cheered all along the line of march. After the parade there was a banquet at the State armory, at which about 500 guests were present.

Expert eastern polo players, as well as teams from Hawaii and South America are expected to take part in the championship events to be played on the Pacific Coast starting on January 1, 1915. The dates will form a circuit in turn of the events at Riverside, Pasadena, Coronado and San Mateo, to be followed by the opening of the Panama-Pacific grounds on March 14, for continuous games until May 1.

Had a Tip.

WORLD'S SERIES MADE ACTORS EXCEEDINGLY RICH.

A BIG celebration of a killing on the world series is to be pulled off in Los Angeles by the members of the "Bird of Paradise" company to be here next week.

A pot of $3600 is to be paid on their arrival to the following members of the company: Bill Desmond, Miss Lenore Ulrich, Dave Hartford and Bob Morris. Oddly enough, they are all former members of Los Angeles stock companies.

The money is coming to them as the result of a wager made on the Boston Braves at the suggestion of Johnny Evers.

Evers is a friend of Ben Giroux, the manager of the company. One night last June, the star second baseman of the Braves witnessed the performance and went to supper with some of the actors.

Another guest of the evening was a man named Slaughter, a Chicago stock broker, who was a rabid New York Giant fan. They all began joshing Evers over the fact that the Braves were in last place with every prospect of staying there.

Evers insisted that the Braves weren't nearly so bad as they appeared. The kidding of the Chicago man at last got his goat. He spoke up and advised all the members of the company to bet on Boston finish ahead of New York.

"I'll tell you what I'll do. If you will bet on the Braves to finish ahead of the Giants I will pay every bet that you lose. You can go as high as you like. I mean it and my word goes."

One of the actors asked the Chicago man what odds he would give. He replied that he would give six to one. "Go on," said Evers, "we are in last place. It ought to be twenty to one. "The Chicago man would not yield and they finally took the bet—$200 worth against the Chicago man's twelve hundred. The two hundred was split between Desmond, Miss Ulrich, Hartford and Bob Morris.

When Boston finished the season ahead of New York, they sent Slaughter a wire offering to let the bet ride against the Athletics if he cared to back them. He wired back his acceptance of the bet, but the best odds he would give were two to one. They took the bet, thereby winning $2400. With the original $1200, they now have $3600 waiting for them on their arrival in Los Angeles, as the bet is to be paid off here.

Veterans Hurt.

MICHIGAN VARSITY IS PREPARING FOR HARVARD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ANN ARBOR (Mich.) Oct. 19.—Yost rested his varsity men today, letting them recuperate from the vicious pounding which they received at the hands of the Michigan Aggies on Saturday. A short kicking drill and a somewhat lengthy signal practice constituted the programme which was handed out by the hurry-up man.

All of the men save Hughitt, Galt and Reinmann showed up for the drill, the first two being the star athletes who are practicing out of it for the rest of the season, and Reinmann being the line man slightly hurt in the battle Saturday. He will be out tomorrow.

A forty-five-minute scrimmage between the second varsity and the scrubs failed to result in any kind of a score, though it did give Yost a chance to try out a few of the men whom he will use in the place of Hughitt in the games to come.

The veteran Husbnell played a miserable game this afternoon, but both Zieger and Huebel showed well. McNamara, the other possibility, didn't take part in the activities today. Efton James, Dunne and Husbel starred for the varsity and Millard for the scrubs in the scrimmage.

Budd Doble, now 72 years old, drove the 4-year-old trotter, Miss Gailey, to a record of 2.11¼ in the third heat of a race at Pleasanton, Cal., recently. It is fifty-three years since Doble rode the gray trotter, Rockingham, in his winning race against Lancet over the old Centerville track on Long Island.

BOSTON DECISIONS.

Sporting Editor.

Dear Sir: Seeing that Leach Cross was a victim of a Boston decision in his fight the other night with Gilbert Gallant, I can sympathize with Sam and Leach, as I have been through many of them myself in that State.

Several years ago I had a crack featherweight named Chick Tucker of New York box Matty Baldwin before the Unity Athletic Club of Lawrence, Mass.

The bout was scheduled to go twelve rounds to a decision, Tucker knocking out Baldwin in the eighth round with heavy body punches.

Boxer Tommy Sullivan, who was Baldwin's chief adviser that night, dragged Baldwin to his corner and began squeezing blood from Baldwin's nose and rubbing it around the lower part of his body, at the same time bending Baldwin's cup.

Martin Glaherty of Boston, the old-time pugilist, who refereed, claimed that Tucker fouled Baldwin and decided against Tucker.

Two physicians who examined Baldwin could not find any trace of a foul blow being delivered. Their verdict was that Baldwin's stomach was shaken up by heavy punches.

Mr. Bell, manager of the club, told Baldwin he would have to split the purse with Tucker.

A few years after that I had Tucker box Chester Goodwin before the Salem Athletic Club of Salem, Mass. The bout was scheduled to go fifteen rounds, Tucker knocking Goodwin out in the fourteenth round.

Referee Dick Fleming, one of the finest burglars that ever handled a dark lantern and jommy, would not count Goodwin out, and allowed his seconds to carry him to his corner, where they worked over him for about fifty seconds of the fourteenth round and the minute allowed to him between rounds.

Goodwin was out so bad that he could not answer the bell for the fifteenth round. The best we got out of that was a draw.

Tucker was also robbed of a decision over Patsy Haley before the Lenox Athletic Club of Boston. This club was run by Joe Woodman, manager of Sam Langford, and the matchmaker was a burglar by the name of E. E. Kervin, who has $20 forfeit of mine since 1904.

Tucker and Haley met again before the Criterion Athletic Club of Boston, Tucker winning in eleven rounds by knock-out. No doubt they would have taken this away from us, but we were not allowed to leave the club until Haley recovered, which was about three hours afterward.

Could write of many more of these Boston decisions. Trusting you will give this a little space in your page, I remain

Yours truly,
HARRY LEE,
Trainer of Leach Cross.

HOW IT LOOKS FROM THE BLEACHERS

The football fan can glut his appetite this week-end. On Friday come the two great prep battles when Los Angeles meets Manual and Poly plays Hollywood.

On Saturday there will be three American football teams in the city. Every one of the southern varsities and the L.A.A.C. eleven will be in action.

U.S.C. and Whittier will play the biggest game of the day at Bovard Field. Pomona will see what it can do with the L.A.A.C. team at the Y.M.C.A. field. The Huns threaten to do something. While Occidental will tackle the Redlands varsity at the old Occidental field.

Trojans Busy.

Coach Glaze is whipping the Trojans into shape to meet the terrible Quakers at Bovard Field, Saturday. There will be two more days of scrimmage and two nights of signal practice before the showdown.

The victory of Whittier over Occidental has aroused the whole U.S.C. student body. The students have awakened to the hard game just ahead.

In the last two weeks the Trojans have made rapid strides. U.S.C. is not the loose-playing, slow-moving varsity that met the L.A.A.C. men. The men are moving fast. They fall into the shift plays without taking all day or getting off-side. One play follows another in rapid, gatling-gun style.

When the Quakers watched the L.A.A.C. game, they laughed. They will have to get that tight, grim expression on their faces Saturday that they had in the Occidental game.

Quakers May Open Up.

From all reports, the Quakers will be in shape for the Trojans. Before the Occidental battle, Coach Wilson said, "We'll not be at our height until the U.S.C. game." Although the Tigers stiffened and bruised the Quakers, their coach has not changed his opinion.

Light signal drill will be the bulk of the Quakers' work this week. Very little scrimmaging will be attempted.

The Quakers, in the enthusiasm of victory, claimed that they held in the second half. Although this must be taken with a grain of salt, it is being noised about that they have some open stuff to pull on U.S.C. which was hidden during the Occidental game.

The Whats.

What can the plunging Whittier backs do against the heavy Trojan line? Will they be able to shatter it for seventeen minutes as they did the Tigers? The U.S.C. linemen are charging hard and fast. They have more beef than the Tigers ever dreamed of. They will outweigh the Quakers many pounds.

It may be that "Bull" Finch will buck in vain, that Bogue will be trampled on and squashed. Then there will be nothing left for the Quakers but wide end runs and forward passes and open play. Will Brownell, Bogue and Cammack be able to run circles around Glaze's men?

Judging from Saturday's play, the fate of Whittier will be decided in the first quarter. If the Trojans can hurl them back for the first half their goose will be cooked. There is always an "if," however. It may be, too, that Whittier will be able to keep agoing.

Tigers to Play.

Occidental will play Redlands Saturday. This game should be easy for them. They ought to be able to begin the up-climb in that, work out their attack, practice on their plays and perfect their team work.

Redlands is so light. The men look so pale and prepilke in those gray suits of theirs that the Tigers should came into their own again.

Huns Coming.

Pomona will come to town Saturday for a game with the L.A.A.C. "Nap" d'Aule expects to come into his own then. There is no doubt that the clubmen are a much improved team. They have got onto the hang of working together. They can really get in and do things. The Huns are meeting a stronger eleven than U.S.C., Whittier and Occidental faced.

But these Huns are good. They are not the weaklings that early season reports indicated. They are the heaviest varsity that Stanton has boasted.

L. A. Excited.

Excitement runs riot on the hilltop. The Cliffdwellers have a chance to come into their own. The wonderful showing of the fifteen in the early-season games has inspired the whole Los Angeles student body with the enthusiasm that appears when a "comeback" is sighted.

Coach Featherstone has done wonders. His Yost tactics have built up a fifteen such as L. A. has not boasted since its championship days. He has built up the team largely out of material that was not in the line-up last year. He has the Cliffdwellers fighting mad.

Toilers Groomed.

But the Toilers on the other hand have a strong eleven. In some ways it surpasses that of last season. The forwards are not as heavy, but are faster, more full of fight and know Rugby better. They are doing what the Manual pack did not do last season. They are running like wild men in the loose and getting away with passing rushes. They in themselves are an aggressive, scoring machine.

The backs in practice have handled the ball well. It has taken many shifts and changes to get them in working order. But Coach Fritsch believes he has solved the problem. There will be no scrimmages at Manual this week.

Same Brand.

Both L. A. and Manual play very much the same kind of a game with the forwards bearing the brunt of the attack and the backs flying into the play at the crucial moments.

Poly and Holly.

Poly and Hollywood are grooming up for their struggle. Coach Haslett sent the Mechanics through a stiff workout last week. This game will give the south its first real line on them.

Riverside was defeated, but that game may tell much or tell little. Outside of the disastrous day in Pomona, Hollywood has been going strong. But then Pomona even went so far as to wallop the clubmen.

Citrus Belt.

The Citrus Belt League opens on Saturday. Riverside plays Redlands in Riverside. That should be a tough affair, although the latter High School looks for a victory, judging from the remarks they let drop while in the city.

San Bernardino goes to Pomona for its first game which makes the south feel rather sorry for the Gate City men. These Cardinals of Clint Evans are terrors and no mistake. If Coach Johnson defeats them, the trustees of San Bernardino should pension him for the rest of his life so he can write a book on Rugby.

Shutt versus Seay.

One of the most interesting games of the week will be the battle at Ontario between Chaffey and Pasadena. It brings Coach Stanton and Pipal face to face again in an indirect way. "Dutch" Shutt, Stanton's most brilliant football player, is the Chaffey coach, while the brainy little "Duffy" Seay, who generaled the Tiger varsity to a 53 to 13 victory over the Huns back in 1913, is at Pasadena.

Off to San Diego.

Long Beach takes its long trip to San Diego on Saturday. Chaffey went down and came back with a draw. Santa Ana jumped into the championship class with a victory. It will be interesting to see what Long Beach will do, as many—almost all—pick them to win the prep title.

Poor Whittier High.

Santa Ana will play the Whittier team in the Quaker City. Santa Ana is coming strong, while Whittier has made a weak showing to date.

thing that came to third. I understand that McGraw is trying to sign him to fill up that gap in the Giants at third. He has it all over Schafer. I understand Williams is holding out for $25,000. I don't blame him.

Bruckman came up real innocent-like in the eighth and rattled the ball against the left-field bleachers for a homer.

Just to show their class, the Morning Glories let the Twilight Squirts fill the bags in the ninth and pulled off a triple play, retiring the side. Bird was at bat, Matt Gallagher on third and the cheese on second.

TRIPLE PLAY.

Bird struck out passe-like, Zett to Raymond, who threw to Williams, catching the big boob Gallagher standing still between the bases. Williams threw to Doyle in left field, who threw to Lorenz in center, who threw to Henry in right, who threw to Bruckman on second, who threw to Weller on short, who tagged Berger. The big cheese stood there with his chin hanging down over his collar and never woke up until Weller slapped him on the back. Talk about sleeping. He's got Collins snored off the diamond.

Bert Eling and the rest of the crowd was all with the Morning Glories. The moment I looked at the packed grand stand I knew who were the regular fellows. Everytime a Twilight Squirt came to bat the grand stand rattled like a cow chain. Eling was supposed to be impartial, too, seeing that he furnished the balls.

THE UMPS.

Hen Berry, who invented the double umpire system, and Bugs Cartwright were the umpires. They sure were there. Cartwright had a gun to keep off those Twilight second-story men.

Ed Maier was remembered every time the players went to the bench with their lips crackling, this game on dry. Jean Doyle likes the Morning Glories so well, he put on an Angel uniform.

PEARSON PLAYS COHN IN FINAL.

PEARSON LEADS IN BILLIARD TOURNEY; WALBRIDGE IS ONE GAME BEHIND.

The final game in the handicap three-cushion tournament being held at the Brunswick billiard parlors will be held tomorrow night, when Pearson, who ranks first in the standing, plays Darling, who is down in fourth place. Pearson will play at 80 and Darling at 27.

Pearson has won five games and lost one. Walbridge has won five and lost two. If Pearson loses it will be a tie for first. If he wins, the tournament honors belong to him. Walbridge will lend Darling his moral support during the match.

The ties in the tournament for the various places and prizes will be played off later.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Local baseball circles were startled today by a report that the Ward brothers, backers of the Brooklyn Federal League club, were negotiating for the purchase of the New York American League club. The report carried a rider to the effect that this movement was the first of a series which would eventually restore peace in the ranks of organized and independent baseball.

Frank J. Farrell, president of the local American League club, denied the story.

BRENNAN HAS BEST OF M'COY.

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Oct. 19.—Willie (Knockout) Brennan entirely outboxed Al McCoy, claimant of the middleweight championship, in a fast ten-round bout here today. Neither boxer scored a knockdown.

McCoy weighed 158 and Brennan 157.

AT THE STAGE DOOR

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

"Coddles," otherwise Josie Intropidi, over at the Majestic in "A Pair of Sixes," says the servant is a copy of one in her mother's family. She was English, with a cockney accent, and a leaning toward stage-fright whenever there was company at the table.

"Notice how my hands shake when I bring in the cocktails? That was poor Mary all over again. I always try to get my characters from real life."

"It Pays to Advertise" is one of the pep-ful plays which Mr. Morosco is going to stage at the Burbank in the near future.

Some funny lines has "It Pays to Advertise," especially about "13 soap: Unlucky for dirt."

"What kind of eggs do you eat?" inquiries the brisk advertising man. "Hen's eggs, of course. Duck's eggs are just as good, but when a duck lays an egg, she's a darn fool and keeps quiet about it!"

"When the beautiful leading man puts his arm around you and registers love, do you actually get a thrill?" one naturally asks the professional loveress of musical comedyland, Grace Edmunds, that fritzischeffish person who is to play "The Red Widow."

But she says, no, you don't. You're so busy being in love with the part he's playing, you never think of the real person.

The burning question of the matinee girl's Saturday is thus answered, just like that!

Odd the difference among actors and their methods of rehearsing. Little Miss de Vois of the new Gaiety company, is a little brown wrenish person off the stage; but says that as soon as she sees the footlights and smells the grease paint and beholds the sea of faces, she's another person. Just knows she can do it, and all that.

While Grace Edmunds, vivacious and dare-devil, says her stage spontenesity is all made to order, that she has to study out every line, and rehearse every scene before a mirror before she dares trust herself on the stage, and that if she missed a cue they'd have to go back and do the play all over again.

Crossing the hot sands toward Los Angeles, laden with much Chicago kale, to be spent on a supper party for old friends, comes the "Bird of Paradise" company, which includes a long list of old Los Angeles favorites.

A baseball nine, destined to take the "Hap" out of Hap Hogan, has been organized by the Favorite Players' Film Company, and will be known as the Blackwell Baseball Team.

Feminine film fans who imagine Carlyle Blackwell as a mere cozy-corner fusser ought to see him dolled up as a shortstop!

Following are the members of the organization: Billy Brunton, third base; Brownie Herman, left field; C. W. Allen, first base; Henry Kernan, second base; Carlyle Blackwell, shortstop; E. Brewer, center field; J. M. Strong, right field; M. F. Moller, catcher; John Sheean and Homer Scott, pitchers; J. Francis Dillon, manager.

The Carlyle team is challenging the moving-picture inhabitants to battle. Already Sheean has two no-hit victories against the New York Edison Company to his credit.

A Dancer—Also a "Looker."

Two pictures of Bessie De Vois,

A charmingly pretty girl, who is to be one of the attractions of the Red Widow to open at the Morosco Theater, October 26. The press agent stoutly asserts that Bessie is as good at dancing as she is at looking pretty. But this can't be true. No one can dance as swell as that.

not for artistic reasons, says Harry:

"Pictures don't pay any tips to the stage hands. They haven't any trunks to haul. They don't get any clothes cleaned or pressed and they don't send out any laundry. There isn't a commission, tip or rake-off any way you can figure it, and they ought to be barred by the union."

Ollie Eaton is expected over the Pantages circuit shortly with her comedy, "Man Proposes," and Manager Walker has already invited Joe Montrose to attend the opening performance and hear what Ollie has to say about goats. It's not so much, but it's to the point.

"Goats are so romantic," sighs the widow as she ogles the retired millionaire goat-raiser.

"Yes, positively, they aromatic," echoes her other admirer. And Joseph Montrose is expected to indorse the opinion.

Joe knows. For once upon a time when the managerial elect forgathered, the auburn-haired one attempted to bring into their midst a large and ancient goat. The attempt failed because the goat was stronger than the manager. But it is said that after his struggle with the goat the manager was so strong that the goat was not missed scarcely.

Montrose declared Walker had put up a job on him, or something like that, hence Carl invites Joseph as aforesaid.

COAST PROFESSIONAL CHAMP TO RUN OFF AMATEUR RACES.

Clifford Howard, professional skating champion of the Pacific Coast, from San Francisco, is to assume charge of the roller skating races for the amateur championship of Southern California, which are to start here Wednesday night under the auspices of the Roller Skating Association of Southern California. The races will take place at the Broadway Rink.

Five races will be held, one each Wednesday and Friday night until the gold and silver medals, which have been hung up as prizes, are awarded. The skater winning the most races out of the five will be awarded the gold medal, silver medal to go to second best.

Several crack skaters have already entered including Joe Sheeder, an eastern expert, who has come to Los Angeles to live; Otto Hatter, a local champion, and Henry (little) Wolfe, also a local expert.

REDLANDS TEAM IN SHAPE AGAIN.

BATTERED ELEVEN ROUNDING INTO SHAPE FOR SEASON.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Oct. 19.—This will be a strenuous week for the University of Redlands football squad. Coach Cunningham is putting the men through the hardest practice they have ever had.

The field has been made lightening fast, and the scrimage work this evening found nearly all of the regulars, with exception of Whittamore and Weed, in the fray.

Determined to wipe out the U.S.C. defeat Cunningham is building on open plays, forward passing and straight football.

The line has been patched up and Vineyard will probably be back at end. Cocking is nearly over his boils and team-work this evening was good.

PHILADELPHIA TO BE SCENE OF THE STRUGGLE THIS YEAR.

WEST POINT (N. Y.) Oct. 19.—The annual Army and Navy football games are assured for the next five years, it was announced here tonight. The game this year will be played in Philadelphia, November 28.

Under the agreement finally reached by the athletic councils of the West Point and Annapolis academies, each will alternately select the site for the game, the choice this year going to the Navy.

Panama Canal and Budweiser

The supremacy of Budweiser has been built up by the natural and continued choice of the people. Its sales exceed those of any other beer by millions of bottles—proving its ever-increasing popularity.

Budweiser is brewed, aged and bottled in the largest and most perfect plant in the world, occupying 142 acres covered by 110 separate buildings. More than 7500 people are required to help Budweiser keep pace with the public demand.

was acted in the evening at the rancho through the courtesy of the author, John Steven McGroarty. This is the scene in which take place all the Spanish songs and dances, and it served as a fitting "Adios, amigo" to a day replete with California charm.

PAST RECALLED BY MISSION PLAYERS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN GABRIEL, Oct. 19.—A scene of surpassing brilliance witnessed by many of the residents of the city was enacted in front of the Mission Playhouse, near the old mission, late this afternoon, when the entire cast of the Mission players prepared to go by auto to Puente, where they will present the second act of the Mission Play for the entertainment of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents at Hudson Ranch.

The color and life of the old mission days were vividly recalled by the gaily-caparisonned senoritas, padres, Indians, Mexicans and Spaniards, who filled the streets with song and chatter while waiting for the word to start. The barbaric splendor of the days of the early dons was recalled to the throngs of citizens, who cheered them vigorously when the start was made.

RAILWAY BRIDGE BUILDERS HERE.

ONE HUNDRED MEMBERS COME TO SESSION; AS MANY MORE EXPECTED.

One hundred members of the American Railway Bridge and Building Association arrived here from the East yesterday by special train to attend the twenty-fourth annual convention of the organization, which will begin today at the Alexandria. There are more than 700 members of the organization, of whom 200 are expected to attend the meeting here.

President J. N. Penwell of Tipton, Ind., will call the association to order at 10 o'clock this morning for the preliminary business session. There will be addresses of welcome by city and railroad officials. Tomorrow there will be a picnic at Ocean Park, and Thursday officers and a meeting place for the new year will be chosen, followed by a trip to Pasadena and Mt. Lowe.

During the course of the gathering there will be reports by special committees and discussions of such subjects as warnings for overhead and side obstructions, railroad-crossing gates and towers, reinforced concrete bridge work, and care of traffic while constructing bridges to eliminate grade crossings.

G. W. Rear, general inspector of bridges and buildings of the Southern Pacific, who is third vice-president of the organization, was chairman of the committee which welcomed association members to this city yesterday.

HOME FABRICS TO BENEFIT BY WAR.

AMERICA HAS LONG HAD BEST WORKMANSHIP; WILL NOW IMPROVE CLOTH.

"We had the fit and now we will get the fabrics," Miss Anna Farrisee, an experienced business woman of Chicago, declared yesterday at the Alexandria in speaking of the influence of the European war on American fashions.

"Americans have long excelled in designing fashions, but we have not been able to produce the soft fabrics which women so much admire," she continued. "Foreign dressmakers have deceived American women by their ability to throw things together for artistic effects. For a long time American workmanship has been superior.

"The war having cut off the fabrics, the manufacturers are now setting about to produce them and will soon be accomplishing that result. For the first time American firms are employing high-priced chemists to work on dyes. These questions of water and dyes will trouble our manufacturers for a while, but the experts will soon solve the problems and then we will be independent of Europe.

"The war is a blessing in disguise to American fashions. With inferior European garments out of the market, American women will have to accept American-made goods with the result that they will soon learn their superiority and will hereafter be free from the delusion of the foreign-made garments."

Miss Farrisee has just returned from a business trip to the Orient. She has visited the Coast regularly for eight years in the interest of a Chicago manufacturer.

Red Cross Benefit.

everything, and her ability and tact are proving a prodigious asset.

Mrs. Ezra Stimson is enjoying all the fascinating eclat attached to a mystery. So that there shall not be a dull moment, they have given her the entr'act to do with what she will. And she wills a great deal. She has christened it a cartoon vivant, entitled "Peace and War," and she has culled dozens and dozens of our most prominent men, many, many of whom were never guilty of a public dramatic appearance before, to take part. And, of course, ladies galore. It wouldn't be really piquant without the condiment of femininity.

THE "CARTOON VIVANT."

Just to whet your appetite one has but to mention that that cartoon vivant will introduce such notable personages as Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cheney, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Armstrong (Armstrong, ye golf hero,) Mr. and Mrs. H. Henneberger, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Janss, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Braly (Braly the tennis star,) Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Macomber, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Seaver, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Cotton, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Bonsall, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Langslow, Mr. and Mrs. Milner, Mrs. G. P. White, Miss Katherine Mellus, Miss Anne Andrews, Miss Pauline Vollmer and numerous other society lights.

And society bachelors and unaccompanied husbands in the interesting and good-looking persons of Messrs. Chester Montgomery, Conde Jones, John D. Foster, Frank Elliott, Charles Andrews, Charles A. Henderson, Harry Turner, Frank Carney, Walter Story, Norwood Howard, James P. Burns, Ezra T. Stimson—and so forth. Why, they alone will prove a magnet to half the feminine population, in the good cause of the American Red Cross.

And all that is only a mere interlude between the acts of the real show. Truly, society doth provide sumptuously when she elects to entertain the city.

"Patience" is one of the most delightful of all the delightful Gilbert and Sullivan operas. It is full to the brim of sly jokes, subtle witticisms and little giggles, in which the very music joins, all making fun of the soulful-cum-arty ultra-cultured era which began to come in early in the eighties, when the opera was written, and doesn't seem to have begun to go out yet. Los Angeles can boast a very strong soulful-cum-arty contingent, only we call it advanced culture now.

Miss Elizabeth Wood, the attractive Modini-Wood daughter, is the prima donna, and she has been acquitting herself with such professional brilliance at rehearsals that some scribe is bound to write that "she is a loss to the professional stage" when he has seen the public performance. She sings all those wistful, naive little songs about love with such a plaintive, sorrowful little twinkle in her eye. "If love is a thorn, they show not wit who foolishly hug and foster it," sings she, for all the world as though she didn't know a thing about it.

And then, in the second act, ah, "love is a plaintive song, sung by a suffering maid," and then every man within earshot yearns to comfort the forlorn maiden.

And then there is a rapturous chorus of lovesick maidens—every one a flower of the society flock, every one pretty and charming—and every one lovesick. Consider twenty such fascinating debutantes all in a bunch—Amy Busch, Frances Beveridge, Barbara Blankenhorn, Margaret Daniell, Viola Hamilton, Elizabeth Helm, Helen Hoover, Mary Hughes, Selina Ingram, Katherine Johnson, Florence Johnstone, Dorothy Lindley, Aileen McCarthy, Wynne Maxon, Ruth Powell, Mary Scott, Conchita Sepulveda, Mrs. Jack Somers (Georgie Off that was,) Katherine Torrance and Dorothy Williams.

MEN UNFORGOTTEN.

And think of a chorus of handsome dragoon guards represented by twenty-one handsome, young men, nearly all unannexed. They are so much more interesting when they don't permanently belong to someone else, and when they are our very own society young men who might be met with any ordinary day at the country club. Behold, then, Fred Aldis, Allen Archer, Arthur Bobrick, Henry Boynton, Arden Day, Robert Harrington, Edwin Heitzman, Dana Hagon, Alexander McDonald, Perry Wood, Alan Murphy, Wells Morris, Jack Riddell, Frederick Perkins, Henry Rivers, Will Rosencrans, C. A. Sheedy, Jack Somers, Nathan Sweet, Garrett Winne—and officered by the most distinguished William Dodd, S. F. Ickes and Raymond Taylor, all of whom have adorable voices and stalk about with regal titles in the play.

Henry F. Daly is the fleshly poet, Reginald Bunthorne of beloved memory, who has brought tears of joy to hundreds of thousands of eyes in the course of a thirty-year career under many and various personalities, professional and amateur. Henry Daly, talented amateur that he is, is a worthy successor to the many impersonators of Bunthorne who have gladdened our hearts.

The idyllic poet is impersonated by Blake Smith. He is the gentle creature who tells us all about Jane, who, "When she grew up was given in marriage to a first-class earl who keeps his carriage."

The amateurs are supported by two professionals in Miss Minnie Hance and Miss Alice Lohr, who take the parts of the Ladies Angela and Jane, respectively. Miss Carmelita Rosencrans is Lady Saphir, and Marie Baker, Lady Ella.

Why, that play is worth going to see if it is only to hear the aristocratic titles nonchalantly flung around!

"Oh, we love society, real society, high society; I should be such an attractive girl if only papa had been born an earl." And the next best thing is to patronize their efforts in the good cause of the American Red Cross, feel all the conscious virtue of charitable donation that we can manage to assume when we are getting so very much more than our money's worth, and get a nice intimate peep at the exclusive inner circle of society so that when we arrive there later ourselves we shan't have to begin at the very beginning. We shall know who they are and whether we shall be quite safe in bowing if they appear to recognize us.

The whole affair is to wind up with a supper-dance at the Alexandria, to which the entire cast of the play and all their friends will proceed after the performance. A very special rate of $1 per head is being made, and some of that, too, goes to the Red Cross. By the way, the committee of the Amateur Players are paying most of the expenses of this production themselves, so that all but a very small fraction of the money will go to the Red Cross.

HAS APPENDICITIS.

Robert O'Connor, Assistant United States District Attorney, is confined to his home in South Pasadena with what his physicians diagnose as a chronic case of appendicitis. He has been confined to his bed for about a week, but is now better.

SPANISH TO DANCE.

Music will be a Feature of Programme of Annual Event of Club Tonight.

A musical programme and dancing are to be the features of the second annual ball of the Spanish Progressive Club, which will be held in Moose Hall tonight.

Mrs. Philip Zobelein will sing several songs. A recitation will be given by Mrs. S. S. Hahn. Other numbers on the programme will be a song by little Anita Simon, a guitar solo by Miss Mabel Whalen, a song by Miss Clara Forbes, a mandolin and guitar duet by Garnet Smith and Miss Mabel Whalen, and a Spanish song by Mrs. C. J. Lick.

The officers of the club are: President, Robert P. Rivera; vice-president, I. S. Finkenstein; secretary, D. L. Young; treasurer, F. Ortega, and physician, Dr. E. B. Jones. The trustees are B. J. Solomon, D. Lucero and A. Bariage.

PICTURE BRIDE WAITS.

Moriyo Kobayakawa, a young Japanese woman, is in Tacoma, Wash., awaiting a permit to enter this country. She says she married Ginzo Kobayakawa, a farmer living near Covina, by what is known as the Japanese photograph route, with the result that she has taken the name of her intended, although they have not been married according to the Christian rites. An investigation of the man has been made by the local immigration authorities, and he has been found worthy in all respects. If the woman is able to stand the further test of questioning based on the result of the investiagtion here, she will be admitted.

Don't fail to hear MR. PHELAN on the Wilson administration, in Los Angeles' most beautiful new auditorium.

I TAKE this opportunity to thank The Times and my many friends throughout the county for their generous support of my candidacy at the late primaries. I expect to be elected through the efforts of my friends. I have very little money to spend in advertising or other political work, and if I had the money I should not spend it in that way. I request the citizens to investigate my record both as an officer and a man and vote according to their convictions after a full and fair inquiry.

As Police Judge I have tried to do my work fairly and impartially and to aid my fellows as opportunity offered. If elected Judge of the Superior Court it will be my aim to do the same in the larger field.

Many of the troubles which bring the citizen into court are the result of ignorance. Not necessarily ignorance of WHAT the law is, but of WHY it is. Nowadays people are prone to read too much and reflect too little. Law is "the perfection of reason, and what is not reason is not law." It is as much the duty of a judge to teach the citizen the reason of the law as it is to punish him for its violation. To know the reason of a law is to know one's duty to his neighbor or to the state, as required by the law, and with the right-minded citizen to know his duty is to endeavor to do it.

Human nature is much the same wherever you find it. I feel that my experience on the Police bench will be a valuable asset to me in the Superior Court.

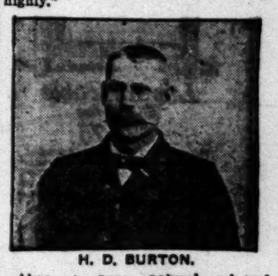
MACHINIST "TURNS OUT" RHEUMATISM WITH AID OF AKOZ MINERAL REMEDY

H. D. Burton of Hawthorne Also Used Akoz Compound for Sprained Ankle.

That he is able to follow his trade as a machinst is due to his use of Akoz, the wonderful California medicinal mineral, is the belief of H. D. Burton of Hawthorne, Cal. Mr. Burton suffered for five years from rheumatism, and so great were the results of the mineral remedy in relieving him of his suffering that he tried Akoz for a sprained ankle, with the result that he was freed from his pain and his ankle back in good shape in a few days. He writes:

"I had suffered from rheumatism in a severe form for five years, and was unable to get rid of it. My work as a machinist causes me to be exposed a great deal, and the rheumatism kept a good hold as a result. I was impressed to try Akoz after reading what it was doing for others. I used the Akoz compound to relieve the pain and took the Akoz mineral water. In a few days the pain was gone and at the end of three months of the internal treatment I was satisfied I was well.

"I have also used the Akoz compound for a sprained ankle that had caused me much pain. After a few applications of the compound I found it was doing wonders for me, getting the soreness out in a few days. My ankle is now strong again. I am convinced the relief was brought about by Akoz, which I cannot praise too highly."



H. D. BURTON.

Akoz, a pure, natural mineral remedy, has relieved thousands of rheumatism, stomach trouble, diabetes, Bright's disease, ulcers, piles, catarrh, eczema, poison oak and other ailments. For sale at all leading drug stores, where further information may be had regarding this advertisement.

AVALON RESORT IS BORN AGAIN.

New Agreement to be Signed to Begin Over.

Port may be Closed by Will of Freeholders.

Crawfish Cached to Await Season's Opening.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

AVALON, Oct. 19.—A new agreement is planned among the property owners here, which is expected to restore the old-time conditions, and which, if carried into effect before February 15, 1915, will insure the businessmen and property owners of some stability in their business.

For the past two years the Santa Catalina Island Company has shown but little enthusiasm over the municipal problems, but it is believed that after the agreements have been signed among the property owners that this company will furnish a summer band, clean and light the streets and maintain Avalon as it did several years ago.

It is understood that the plan of making Avalon a closed port again will be left entirely in the hands of the freeholders who will have the power, if they chose to do so, to operate an independent line of vessels for transportation purposes and land passengers at the foot of Whittley avenue.

Under the proposed new agreement Whitley avenue will then be the public thoroughfare, and a free access will be allowed over the Santa Catalina Island Company's property for anyone wishing to use this street.

It is not planned to dissolve corporation, but to utilize this form of government for the regulating of saloons and other police protection.

"SOONERS."

A party of campers report here today that a number of crawfish fishermen have already begun work at various points around San Clemente, Catalina and Santa Cruz islands, and that they have secured many crawfish, which they have deposited in receivers awaiting the opening of the season, November 1.

It is alleged that each year thousands of crawfish are caught during the actual closed season and that immediately after the season opens the fish are brought to market and the markets flooded.

It was estimated by the campers that there are more than 600 fishermen located on the islands, and that many of them are mere boys, who did not have any practical experience in the market-fishing business. Not only do the boys destroy crawfish which are under the regulation size, but they injure the large ones, and wilfully and maliciously kill them because they are unable to sell them to the markets.

On the lea side of San Clemente Island the campers stated that they saw no less than fifteen large receivers full of crawfish awaiting November 1. Only in a few instances were the receivers tied to a regular buoy or anchor. Oftentimes they were fastened to a large bed of kelp, while the body of kelp was itself anchored to the bottom with heavy rocks.

SURPRISE WEDDING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ANAHEIM, Oct. 19.—Robert J. H. Johnston, a newspaper man of this city, and Miss Margaret D. Conway, slipped away to Los Angeles Saturday and were married, and the secret was just made known here this morning. The bride is a graduate of the California Hospital, Los Angeles, and has been a nurse in the local hospital for the last year. Mr. Johnston is well known in Orange county, having been connected with a local newspaper for a year. The marriage comes as a great surprise to their many friends. After a short honeymoon, which is being spent at Catalina, they will return to Anaheim.

FIFTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

FULLERTON, Oct. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allen, aged 77 and 75, respectively, on Sunday celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary by taking a trip around the Kite-shaped Track on the Santa Fe. They have been well-known, highly-esteemed residents of Fullerton for nearly five years and have hundreds of friends in this part of the county. Both are enjoying good health. Mr. and Mrs. Allen were married in Delafield, Wis., on October 18, 1959.

FORGING ROAD CHAIN SOUTH ALONG COAST.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 19.—George M. Williams of Goleta, Hugh S. Kelley of Santa Maria and W. A. Lewis of Lompoc were appointed by the Board of Supervisors this afternoon as Highway Commissioners to gather data for the million-dollar bond issue which this county is to vote on as soon as the legal formalities can be arranged.

The petition from the freeholders asking the commission be named was presented to the board late today and at once acted upon. The commission will meet this week and organize and appoint an engineer.

A complete system of permanent highways for the county is planned. The Supervisors also voted today to purchase an additional $400,000 worth of State Highway bonds to complete the State Highway through the county. This will take care of all the work planned by the State Commission.

The Supervisors received the freeholders petition asking for the appointment of the Highway Commission early in the day and announced that there were more than 200 more signatures than necessary. Every section of the county is represented on the petition. The preliminaries will be rushed so as to call the election at the earliest possible date.

"We're going to link Santa Barbara county with Los Angeles and San Francisco this winter with a system of roads that will compare with the best," said Chairman H. J. Doulton of the board, and reports which the Supervisors have received assures them that sentiment is strong for the bonds and growing daily.

PEPPER GROWERS UNITE TO MAINTAIN PRICES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Oct. 19.—Chile pepper growers of this county are going to form a co-operative association for their own protection. Harry Strauss, a pepper grower of the Katella district, has called a meeting of growers for Saturday night at Garden Grove. He says that unless a strong association is formed growers will get low prices for their product this year.

Strauss estimates that there are 7000 acres of "hot stuff" planted in this county, as against 3500 last year. He says that nothing but co-operative marketing will bring the growers satisfactory returns this season, since the crop will be large and the buyers active.

"The buyers are already doing all in their power to force the price down," said Strauss. "The pepper grower must market his product green in order to get the most out of his crop. Many of the growers early in the season entered into contracts with a joker in them. The contracts stated that the green chiles must be delivered free from red peppers, the green peppers turning to red as they age.

"It is almost impossible for a grower to deliver large quantities of green chiles without having a few reds among the greens. When the buyers found that the crop was going to be unusually large they found it easy to tell the growers that they had violated their contracts.

"It is not too late for the growers to organize for their own protection. I would advise organizations such as are maintained successfully by the walnut and citrus growers of this county.

"Agents of buyers have been telling the growers that there is a big crop of chiles in Spain. That is not true. Orange county grows the world's peppers."

NEEDLES FIRE BURNS HOTELS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEEDLES, Oct. 19.—Fire early today destroyed the Quaker Hotel, a two-story structure, and the Bagnall, a three-story hotel, and three persons narrowly escaped. M. R. Abele was severely burned and is leaving for the Santa Fe Hospital tonight. Auditor Whittingham and wife of the Quaker Hotel jumped from the second story to the ground and were injured.

The loss is estimated at $40,000. The entire postoffice block was threatened. The origin of the fire is unknown, but spread rapidly, favored by a north wind. Roomers escaped in their night clothes and had no time to save their belongings. Insurance covers the loss.

REDONDO BEACH MAN BEATEN AND ROBBED BY STRANGER WHO IS SOCIABLE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, Oct. 19.—William Lloyd, 60 years old, who lives on El Redondo, was beaten and robbed of $9.65 tonight in front of the High School building by a stranger who posed as a good fellow-traveler on the car from Los Angeles.

After Lloyd had broken a $10 bill to pay for his ticket at the Pacific Electric depot in Los Angeles, the stranger accosted him and ascertained where he was going. Strangely enough Redondo Beach happened to be his destination also. Furthermore he happened to get off at the same street, being much surprised meanwhile at the coincidence.

In the shade of the High School trees the stranger demanded Lloyd's money and when it was not forthcoming at once he knocked the elderly man down and took the change of the $10 bill. So far he has escaped the pursuing police.

WALNUT THIEVES RAIDING RANCHES.

AUTO BANDITS LOOT SHEDS THEY STRIPPED LAST SEASON.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Oct. 19.—Numerous local walnut growers have had walnuts stolen from their premises or sheds and it is believed that an organized gang of thieves is working in Pomona Valley in the same manner that chicken thieves operated here several months ago until they were arrested by the officers, who are now on the watch for the walnut pilferers.

C. E. Ades of East Eleventh street is one of the latest victims. Someone during the night entered a shed where he had just stored about 500 pounds of fine nuts and stole the walnuts, valued at present prices at $75.

WHOSE ODORS ARE SMELLED?

City and Fertilizer Plant are Counter-charged.

Court's Olfactory Judgment Must Lay Ghost.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Oct. 19.—Long Beach city officials must appear in Judge Finlayson's department of the Superior Court Wednesday, October 28, to show cause why a permanent injunction should not be granted against this city in favor of the Long Beach Fertilizer Company, whose plant was ordered closed by the City Council owing to complaints of alleged offending odors that are said to arise from that establishment.

A temporary injunction has been granted the fertilizing concern, the works of which was ordered closed on or before Thursday of last week by the Long Beach City Council. The Council condemned the plant, which is an important harbor industry, as a nuisance and ordered it abated. Numerous complaints of the alleged obnoxious fumes have been made by citizens and harbor industrial concerns.

Attorney J. E. Stephens, brother of City Attorney Stephens of Los Angeles, has been retained by the fertilizer company to represent it in the suit. Stephens holds that the odor said to arise from the fertilizing plant in the city's complaint can be traced in a large measure to an odious effluvium emitted from the sloughs of the harbor district.

Stephens, in his prayer for an injunction against the city, alleges that the proceedings of the City Council relative to the closing of the plant are void because they endeavor arbitrarily without hearing or evidence of proof, to declare the $13,000 fertilizing plant a nuisance, and the Council's action is unreasonable, unjust and confiscatory.

BEACH BRIEFS.

Repairs on the Pine-avenue pier were completed today, and tomorrow workmen will begin to bolster up and realter the Pine-avenue auditorium of disaster fame. The work of repairing the auditorium will be done under the supervision of the Long Beach Board of Public Works. It has been announced by that body that the work will be open to public inspection at all times.

Details of a monster Halloween celebration, which will include ghost dances, goblin parades and other forms of high jinks and dignified hilarity, are being worked out by members of the reorganized Pike Association. A similar celebration held two years ago proved a big success, and the Pike men are planning to enlarge on the idea and make it bigger and ghostlier than ever this year.

Resurfacing Highway.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Oct. 19.—The State Highway Commission has given orders for surfacing the State road between Anaheim and Fullerton with an inch and a half of Topeka mix, the same surfacing as that used between Santa Ana and Anaheim. When he was here last week State Highway Commissioner Darlington said that he would recommend the heavy cover between Anaheim and Fullerton. His recommendation has been made an order. An investigation is being made of the traffic between Fullerton and the Los Angeles line near La Habra. Possibly Topeka mix will be used there, though it is likely that a half-inch of rock and oil will be considered sufficient.

PORT NOTES.

By order of the commander of the torpedo flotilla, the ships now anchored opposite the lighthouse at the end of the breakwater will move into the inner harbor tomorrow to begin actual practice in submarine maneuvers. Notice was given this afternoon that no more visitors would be allowed to board the war vessels until they had anchored in their new position.

The Bessie Dollar, which has been in port for several days, will leave for San Francisco tonight and later will go to the eastern ports of China.

The Donax of the Dutch Shell Company which was expected to arrive at this port for fuel had not arrived at a late hour tonight, but wireless messages indicate that the vessel has been delayed on the trip from the canal.

Harbor Master Pugitt is taking means to rid the harbor of debris brought in by the excessively high tides in last two or three days. Most of the driftwood is being towed to the south beach opposite Terminal Island where it is cast adrift to float to the shore. Italian laborers then pick up the wood for fuel purposes, thus relieving the harbor of dangerous obstructions.

Bare Fearful Story

of was one of the first to testify towards a clearing of the case. It is now in power with a bright Homer Laughlin behind it.

AMAZING STORY.

From the scraps of evidence in relation thereto, the police have reconstructed a story that is not the tragedy itself, but the epilogue of silence which surrounded it. This is the story pieced together last night:

In the house on the night of August 31 were five persons, besides, another woman, three of whom was Percy Hall. During the evening two of the men retired. One had been an admirer of Mrs. Kennedy's, and Kennedy fearing between the two was accidentally struck.

The men, forgetting their differences, combined with the women to revive the prostrate form. One of them suggested a drink, and a bottle was brought. The contents of the bottle under Mrs. Kennedy's nose. A quantity was spilled on the floor. She began to choke. Then they poured down upon her face as she lay. They tried to pull her over on her back, but the noxious fumes, but the effort was already inert. Mrs. Kennedy was dead.

One listened for her heart, but could not hear it. A mirror was held before her mouth. There was no moisture. The others thought she was dead stored it in the closet.

A sheet was thrown over the body and the four went into the other room to console and bolster each other. There was no thought of the authorities, but they decided to. It was feared that they would be charged. This was the story that was poised at the lips of the four men. He was finally persuaded by his companions to let it be.

GHASTLY TASK.

After nightfall the four men, passing pedestrians on the street, carried the body was wrapped in a sheet, the corpse covered with a blanket, wrappings and the dead woman through darkened streets to the dug grave was made. The men who had dug this drive is now paved, and covered in the darkness of night.

With a dozen, frequently nervous remarks, the four men continued to drive down Jefferson street and then to the Venice road was taken from the hearse to the rubber and dropped to the ground at the spot where it was found in the morning.

Coroner Nance, who investigated the grave fearful, still on the case, the next day and made sure that the woman was found there was dead woman. She was identified as she was told in death of the accidental happenings. In her was given the bulk of the property in the woman and it was to her that she had been killed. And she was the price for silence to the men who took the body was given out of the of the street.

This is the story of the death as well as can be pieced together from the confession which shortly after he received a letter from a friend to the police, verified by his own.

siness: Money, Stocks, Bonds—Trade—Local Produce Market—Citrus Market.

at New York amounted to about 1,000,000 bushels exclusive of similar transactions at Winnipeg, Duluth and in the southwest. Corn hardened with wheat. Active demand and European speculative demand helped lift the prices of oats. One lot of 100,000 bushels was sold to Italy and another of 200,000 bushels to France. Provisions rallied owing to the bulge in grain.

COMMERCIAL.

Special concessions to grocers and retail dealers yesterday and today are expected to move the greatest number of apples that have ever been sold in two days in the history of the local markets. The call yesterday was very heavy and fractional reductions on all varieties were reported in harmony with the intention expressed by jobbers to move their stock at cost as an advertising feature for the fruit. Jonathans and Bellefleurs were in particular demand.

Advances in the quotation on melons were reported. Cantaloupes jumped to $1.25 a standard crate and $2.50 on jumbo sizes. Watermelons advanced to 1½ to 2 cents a pound. Casabas sold up to $1.50 per dozen. The close of the season on cantaloupes and watermelons is very near at hand. Some Christmas melons and other late varieties are coming in and are selling at fancy figures.

An advance of 3 cents was reported on eggs. Receipts were 187 cases and the quotations on case count moved to 48 cents. In the north an advance of 1 cent to 49 cents on the same grade eggs was reported. Butter receipts were 42,940 pounds. The call for butter was very fair and the market firm on an advancing market in San Francisco. Cheese showed another additional increase on northern fresh. The new price is 15½ cents f.o.b. San Francisco. Here it is selling at that figure in quantity. Receipts were 9680 pounds.

Potato receipts were 7598 sacks. There was no change in conditions. Onion arrivals were 1525 sacks. Sweet potato arrivals were 168 sacks. Apple receipts were 24,470 boxes. Grape arrivals were 3160 boxes and tomato receipts were 1818 boxes. The last mentioned product showed a slight advance in quotation.

The Public Service.

At the City Hall.

WHENCE COME; WHITHER GO?

KEEP CHECK ON MOVERS BY CITY ORDINANCE.

Such is Intent of Law Asked for by Various Business Organizations and Approved by Public Welfare Committee of Council—Would Protect Creditors, Say Proponents.

Do you want to change your domicile, or shift your trunk and collar box from one rooming-house to another? Then you must be registered at the police headquarters, with the address from which you flit and also the new haven you have found, if a law proposed by various business organizations and approved by the Public Welfare Committee of the City Council goes into effect.

If the law is violated, then the violators will be subject to fine or imprisonment, or both, if the police judge is so inclined. This espionage of the movements of citizens is deemed necessary to protect credit conditions, say the merchants. It is too Russian-like, say the opponents of the measure.

The ordinance in various forms has been before the Council from time to time for the past three years. While "Uncle Jerry" Andrews was a member of the Council a strong fight was made to secure its passage, but he led a campaign against the measure. Since then it has had several hearings, and not until yesterday did it receive the approval of the Public Welfare Committee.

At yesterday's hearing there was a large attendance of retailers to urge the approval of the proposed law. Indorsements were also presented from the Million Club, Wholesale Grocers' Association, Retail Merchants' Credit Association, Southern California Grocers' Association, Los Angeles Material Dealers' Association, and others; also approval by Chief of Police Sebastian and Health Officer Powers, on the grounds that such an ordinance would be of benefit to their departments.

The proposed ordinance requires that the place from which and the place to which moves are made, the names and addresses of the movers, the date of the move and the character of the articles moved, must all be fully set forth in reports that must be made to the police department each Monday morning by moving van companies, express men, etc.

A penalty of from $5 to $50 or thirty days in jail, or both fine and imprisonment, is provided for violators of the ordinance.

Although a majority of the Public Welfare Committee voted to recommend the passage of the law, Councilman Wheeler opposed it, as being un-American and too much like the methods employed in Russia. He declared his belief that if such a measure were put to a vote of the people it would be largely defeated.

On the other hand, the credit men declared that there is a large class of people who make it a business to run accounts and then move away, concealing their new addresses, and that any move to check this would result in a benefit to the honest persons who seek and must have credit.

NEW CUSTODIANS.
FOR NORMAL SCHOOL BUILDING

Considerable thought has been given to working out a plan for handling the old State Normal Scool properties, for which the city is paying, during the period until the full title to the property is vested in the municipality. It is proposed to use the buildings for school purposes, conventions, public gatherings, etc., and in many cases leases or rental will have to be arranged for. The property now is held by a syndicate of bankers, pending the final payments to be made by the city. The city is paying for the property at the rate of $100,000 per year, the purchase price being $650,000.

The plan worked out, and which the City Council approved yesterday is to make the Municipal Playgrounds Commission custodian of the property, with full power to handle the rentals, leases, etc. The income from the property is to be applied to the upkeep and the payments on the principal. The Council yesterday authorized the preparation of the necessary ordinance to put this plan into effect. Its conditions have been agreed to by the bankers' syndicate.

COMPENSATION FOR FIREMEN AND POLICE.

The Finance Committee of the City Council has a problem before it of providing for the compensation of members of the fire and police departments who are injured in service. It is understood that these men do not come under the provisions of the Workman's Compensation Act.

It is proposed to provide a payment of 65 per cent. of the injured man's regular salary, besides medical and surgical care, for a period of not to exceed six months. The Finance Committee yesterday asked the City Attorney for a written opinion as to the legal phases of the situation and the operation of such a plan in connection with the provisions of the pension ordinance.

Will Get no Secretary.

Members of the City Council will have to continue to write their own letters, or else secure the services of some stenographer already in the city's employ. They will not get the Councilmen's secretary, for which some of them have sighed. The Finance Committee so decided yesterday.

It was proposed to create this position, with a salary of $175 per month. The candidates were numerous and persistent, but the Finance Committee decided that when it is curtailing expenses in all other departments it could not consistently create a new position for its own convenience, and the subject was sent over to the next Budget Committee.

Bright Lights for City Hall.

As a part of the plan for beautification for 1915 the Finance Committee of the City Council has had in mind a scheme for the outlining of the front of the City Hall with incandescent electric lights. City Electrician Manahan was requested to make an estimate of the cost, and this was submitted yesterday. The total cost is estimated at $2650 for the installation and $85 per month for current and maintenance. This is considered too steep, in view of the city's present financial condition, and the Finance Committee has compromised on a plan for the placing of the recently-acquired city seal, worked out in colors, on the City Hall front, and its nightly illumination until 11 o'clock.

A plan has been made for the outlining of the front of the new Hosfield building with electric lights. All but the lower floor of this building will be occupied by city offices.

MUCH MORTIFIED.
IS HOUSING COMMISSION.

The Housing Commission that for eight years has occupied a little cubbyhole in the attic of the City Hall, has reached the limit of its endurance of these quarters. It demands a new home.

Yesterday the commission appealed to the Board of Public Works, which is custodian of the public buildings, to provide it adequate room and suitable location. In the appeal it says:

"This commission is continually working to better housing conditions, and it sincerely believes that its own quarters should not be a source of ridicule from everyone calling at its present offices."

It is probable that quarters will be provided in the new Hosfield building, adjoining the City Hall on the south, where the city is to have the use of four floors next month.

PAY FOR GRAVES.
CITY TO COLLECT ITS DUES.

The city owns the cemetery at San Pedro, but a peculiar condition has maintained, wherein interments have been made right along without the grave spaces having been paid for by the undertakers who have made the burials. Some time ago, by tacit consent, one undertaker took charge of burials on one side of the cemetery, while the other side was used by another undertaker.

Now the city proposes to put the cemetery into proper condition, stake out the lots and employ a caretaker. The Finance Committee of the Council recommended yesterday that the City Clerk be instructed to secure a settlement from the San Pedro undertakers, so that this money can be used in betterments at the cemetery. Between $400 and $500 is due to the city for used graves.

The Civil Service Commission is to be asked to exempt from its rules the position of caretaker, as the man to be employed is the only one who is familiar with the locations of graves, etc.

City Hall Brevities.

Market Superintendent O'Brien is preparing for a special spread at the public markets today in honor of "apple day." Apple displays will be a feature at each of the municipal markets.

City Sealer of Weights and Measures Harshman wants to go to Salt Lake City November 9 to represent Los Angeles in the convention of seals of the Western States. Nine States will have such officials present. Mr. Harshman has asked the Finance Committee to provide for his expenses on this trip.

Twice-a-week sprinkling of streets between Fourth street and Hollenbeck avenue, Lorena street and Indiana avenue, is the desire of the Lorena Heights Civic Center Association, as expressed in a petition to the Board of Public Works yesterday.

The Public Welfare Committee of the City Council recommended yesterday the adoption of the ordinance regulating bakeries and placing confectionery establishments under the same regulations as bakeries. Hereafter, if this ordinance is adopted, no bakeries will be permitted to locate in basements.

At the Courthouse.

HINTS THE CASH WENT FOR WINE.

DENTIST WILL CONTEST SUIT FOR DIVORCE WARMLY.

Alimony Application by Attractive Spouse, Who Would Live in Style, Goes Over Till Court Can Get More Information—Reference to Liquors Raises Objection.

An intimation of a leading feature in the divorce suit of Adeline Mabel Baker against Dr. Robert Clifton Baker, a dentist, was given when the case came before Judge Wilbur in alimony proceedings yesterday. In cross-examining Mrs. Baker as to her household expenditures, Attorney Symonds asked her:

"Where did you get the wines and liquors in your home?"

This brought Attorney Hanna to his feet with a vigorous objection. He declared it was not proper to impugn the character of the witness in any such manner.

"I was merely inquiring," explained Mr. Symonds, "whether the purchase of liquors is a necessity."

Judge Wilbur relieved Mrs. Baker from the stand without replying to the question and Dr. Baker was examined as to his income. He has filed an answer to the suit alleging cruelty among other things, and will bitterly contest the action.

Although Mrs. Baker alleges he has an income of $10,000 a year, gleaned from his statement, that he charges $10 an hour and sees patients from 9 o'clock to 4 o'clock, Dr. Baker testified that the total cash received last year from his practice was $3400. He is now living at the Pacific Athletic Club and gave his expenses as $89 for one month. The proceedings were continued for further testimony.

Mrs. Baker wants alimony sufficient to maintain her in the style to which she has been accustomed at No. 243 North Rampart boulevard. She is a decidedly attractive young woman who says she was deserted last June without cause and was allowed only $20 a week for her support, since shut off. Dr. Baker showed he paid current bills and had allowed his wife an account at a clothing store. He says she ran up excessive bills for clothing at several stores after their separation, one item being, as Attorney Symonds stated, twelve pairs of silk stockings.

SHE GETS ALIMONY.
THOUGH PROPERTY OWNER.

Opposition to the payment of alimony to Mrs. Mary Magdalene Howard was based on the fact that she owns property. Mrs. Howard showed, however, that the property was not income producing. Judge Wilbur allowed her $100 alimony a month, and $100 attorneys' fees. William A. Howard, the husband, was represented only by an attorney.

The Howards were married in Illinois June 12, 1905, and separated recently. She alleges he is worth $40,000. A letter he wrote will be evidence in the trial of the divorce suit. He says:

"After trying in vain to have one more sensible conversation with you, I at last despair of all hope before the cloud comes. Mollie, think twice. Are you not to blame as well as I for breaking up a nice home? You know I took you back twice, but since coming to California, were many come (the noted divorce State) you have drifted away from me. You may have your divorce; also my interest in your home. You have reaped while I have lost."

FIGHTS FOR PROPERTY.
WOMAN VERSUS CORPORATION.

Mrs. Bertha Baker White brought suit against the Consolidated Los Angeles Builders and lien holders yesterday to head off a forefeiture of her contract. At the office of the corporation it was learned that George Alexander, former Mayor, and now a member of the County Civil Service Commission, has succeeded to the presidency.

Mrs. White bought property at No. 1240 West Fifty-second street, for $1800, subject to a $1400 mortgage. She alleges she discovered there are three liens on the property instead of one.

Notice of forfeiture of the contract and a demand for possession of the property were served upon her, and Attorney Gesner Williams filed suit for Mrs. White to establish these liens. The court is asked to permit Mrs. White to pay the money direct to the lien holders instead of to the corporation. This will amount to $500 more than she agreed to pay the corporation.

MAY SUPPORT CHILD.
FORMER OFFICER DOCILE.

The alleged misconduct of Fred A. Winter, which resulted in his dismissal from the police department, may terminate in the court accepting his agreement to pay $15 a month for the support of baby Marie Louise Nelson, the child of Juanita Nelson, a colored girl. Winter was in a receptive mood in the Juvenile Court yesterday when his arraignment on a contributing charge was continued until Monday.

Meantime, Winter was taken back to jail by Officer Stevens and Deputy Sheriff Gillis under $500 bail. He is represented by Attorney W. Ona Morton. According to the story of the case, Winter while in the fire department, met the colored girl on the street and became intimate. The girl only knew him under an alias.

TAKES STEPCHILD.
HER SUPPORT THREATENED.

Mrs. L. J. Jones was obliged to decide between her husband going to jail, which would deprive her of support, or taking into their home his 9-year-old son by a former wife. The fate of Jones hung in the balance. Mrs. Jones at first said decidedly that she would not have the boy in the house, because he was "mean."

"Well, if he goes to jail for failing to support the boy, the money he earns on the chain gang won't go to you," said the court.

This was a poser which gained a reluctant consent.

"I want the boy brought into court and I must see him started with you before I dismiss the case," Judge Monroe informed Mrs. Jones. The little chap was brought from Juvenile Hall and left the courtroom with his father and his stepmother.

HE'S TOO POOR.
HEIRESS-WIFE LEAVES.

Love flew out of the window when Mrs. Alma Soderin married a motorman and became dissatisfied because he could not support her in the manner she had lived at home with her wealthy father. The marriage of the heiress and O. H. Soderin, the tall, fine-looking motorman, at Oakland August 15, 1908, was the result of a trolley-car romance. Disillusion came when the home he provided was compared with the rich surroundings she had left. Besides this the bride's parents objected to the marriage.

Mrs. Soderin left her husband June 15, 1911. Yesterday Mr. Soderin appeared before Judge Wilbur in a divorce action, alleging desertion. He was represented by Attorney Thomas K. Kase, and won a decree. Mr. Soderin is now a resident of this city.

ACTION REOPENED
IN SENSATIONAL CASE.

Judge Houser will hear argument next Monday in the motion for a new trial filed by Dr. Henderson Hayward, millionaire hotel owner; Thomas F. Hayward, his son, and Mrs. Laura Ayers, his daughter, against whom Mrs. Louise Hayward, the former's daughter-in-law, obtained a verdict of $25,000 for alienating the affections of her husband. New evidence is alleged.

Mrs. Louise Hayward sued for $100,000 damages. She testified that her husband, Lester Hayward, had been given money to leave the city, to which he had brought her as his bride.

CASE NOT SETTLED.
GUARDIAN EXCEEDS RIGHT.

An attempted settlement of a suit out of court was held up yesterday by Judge Hewitt, who sustained the demurrer of the attorney for George Gingras, the plaintiff. Gingras, as guardian of his 12-year-old daughter Grace, sued J. C. Wakujevitch for heavy damages when his daughter fell into a manhole at Vernon. Wakujevitch compromised out of court for $150, and Gingras accepted the settlement.

When the case came up in court for settlement Wakujevitch moved for dismissal, reciting the fact of the settlement out of court. Gingras's attorney demurred and called attention to the fact that a guardian cannot settle such an action without the approval of the court. Judge Hewitt sustained the demurrer.

FOR ONE MAN ONLY.
GUARDS WATCH HIS WIFE.

Guards placed at the residence of L. M. Grider, which, as Mrs. Zora A. Grider alleged in her divorce suit, was to keep her friends away and which Mr. Grider testified in the alimony court yesterday was to prevent W. M. Webster from visiting the house, will interfere with no person except Mr. Webster, under an order of Judge Monroe yesterday. Temporary alimony was denied Mrs. Grider, but Mr. Grider was ordered to pay $25 costs of the suit, which was set for trial next Tuesday.

Mrs. Grider alleges extreme cruelty in her complaint, citing the guards at the house, a disconnected telephone service and Mr. Grider's habit of staring at her in the middle of the night. Mr. Grider is proprietor of Birdland and owns a ranch at Downey. Yesterday Mrs. Grider filed an amended complaint through Attorney Collier, setting up a further act of cruelty in the alleged arrest of Mr. Webster.

LATE ADOPTION.
JUST BEFORE MAJORITY.

James Peter Somers has the distinction of having been adopted two weeks before he was old enough to vote. He was before Judge Taft yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Clay. The latter have loved and cared for James Peter since he was 5 years old. He has been as a son to them, and they always considered he was entitled to all the rights and privileges of a son.

They learned a few days ago, however, that if either were to die without making a will before James Peter attained his majority he would receive nothing. When they had explained the situation to Judge Taft he readily signed the necessary order.

The court was told that James Peter was abandoned by his father when he was 3 years old. The child's mother was dead. When he was 5 years old Mr. and Mrs. Clay took the little boy into their home, and he has been known as Jim Clay ever since. He will be 21 November 2.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.
PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

NO DRINK FOR HIM. Daniel O'Keefe, who is prone to get into trouble when he drinks, was ordered to cut out booze by Judge Monroe yesterday. He was placed on probation for nine months, meantime paying $4 a week for the support of his wife. If he fails, he will serve a sentence. Because he had associated with a man at San Bernardino who was suspected of being a train bandit, O'Keefe was arrested but later discharged on proof of his innocence.

WANT TRANSFER APPROVED. The Tournament of Roses Association asked the court yesterday to approve the transfer of property to the city of Pasadena under an agreement recently noted. The agreement provides that the city shall assume a $4000 mortgage on about eighteen acres which fronts on California street. The city is to build a fence around the property and maintain the articles used in the association's entertainments. The city has promised to contribute $5000 a year, the entertainments continuing under the direction of the association.

DEMURRER SUBMITTED. Judge York yesterday took under submission the demurrer of the county to the complaint of the San Dimas Rock Company to quiet title to the San Dimas quarry, owned by the county under a lease. The property involves the rock pile and rock crushing machinery. The county raised the point in the demurrer that the plaintiff had no power to execute a lease.

LIVELY TESTIMONY. Interesting testimony is expected to be brought out today in the trial of the separate maintenance suit of Bertha B. Sacker against A. F. Sacker, which has a dozen variations. The case was set for alimony proceedings in Judge Monroe's court yesterday and it was decided to try it on its merits.

LIEN LAW UPHELD. A demurrer attacking the constitutionality of the mechanics' lien law was overruled by Judge Dehy yesterday in the foreclosure suit of the Hoffman Marks Company against Louise and John Hanscom and others. The court held that the law is constitutional. The Judges hold different views on this subject, two at least having held that the mechanics' lien law is unconstitutional. The matter is now before the Supreme Court and an opinion is expected soon.

INCORPORATIONS. Long Beach Brick Company, incorporators E. G. Thomas, Mrs. R. A. Thomas, L. P. Muskat, Emma L. Muskat and Oscar Banse, capital stock $25,000, subscribed $500; Western Research Company, incorporators C. H. Windham, D. W. Michaels and S. F. Easterbrooke, capital stock $10,000, subscribed $300.

ELKS TO ENTERTAIN.

Halloween Ball will be Given to Raise Funds for Great Reunion Next Year.

To raise funds for the entertainment of visiting Elks, who will hold their reunion here in July, 1916, Los Angeles Elks have arranged for a grand Halloween unmasked fancy costume ball, to be given Saturday night, October 31, in the Shrine Auditorium.

With a record of providing entertainment that has been highly diverting and novel in the past and with a good time a certainty for those who have attended, the Elks promise to make this affair one of the best ever staged by them. All the mystery and picturesqueness which the night of goblins offers will be utilized. Committees have been named to attend to the various features of the affair.

POSTAL LAWS VIOLATED.

S. E. Grant of Glendale, who pleaded guilty of the charge of sending illegal matter through the mails, was fined $50 by Judge Wellborn in the United States District Court yesterday. Some months ago his wife, Daisy D. Grant, was charged with violation of the postal laws, and Grant went on the stand and took all the blame on himself, with the result that his wife was acquitted. He was then indicted and as he had admitted the charge preferred by Postoffice Inspector did.

Tungsten Lamps, 25 and 40 Watt Size, 25c each

—It'll be a brighter, lighter city ere long the way these Tungsten lamps are selling. By the score, and the hundred they're going—and why not? Tungsten lamps give brighter, more satisfactory illumination, will burn in any position and are so durable as to withstand most unusual jars. And here's another, and a strong inducement, too—the cost of light consumption is decidedly less—for instance, the 16 candle power carbon, costs 5½c for 16⅔ hours, the 25 watt Tungsten lamps only 5½c for 22 candle power light for 40 hours. Today continuing the Special Demonstration and Sale of Tungsten Globes—the 25 and 40 watt sizes at 25c each. It's your saving opportunity!
